Baked Oysters.—Take a baking dish and place in it one-half cupful of butter and one cupful of cream. Heat thoroughly, but do not boil. Add one teaspoonful of anchovy paste, a dash of red pepper and a grating of lemon peel. Dip out one-half cupful of the mixture and set aside. Put one quart of oysters into the baking dish and sprinkle with salt, pepper, grated cheese and dried breadcrumbs. Pour over carefully the remaining cream, sprinkle again with crumbs and cheese and bake in a very hot oven. Serve immediately.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Salamander And His Palace Home.

The Fire Does Not Really Burn Him.

"SEEMS to me," said Jack, "that a salamander is the bravest little thing in the world."

"Why?" asked Evelyn, who always wanted to know the why and wherefores of everything.

"Well," continued Jack, "he goes right into the fire without any fear."

"I don't call that brave," said Evelyn. "I call that foolish."

Daddy had just overheard this conversation as he was on his way to tell Jack and and Evelyn his usual bedtime story.

"I heard you talking about salamanders," began daddy, "and so I think this evening I'll tell you about them.

"The salamander isn't really either very brave or very foolish, as fire doesn't hurt him at all. It doesn't even make him feel frightfully warm. It's just like the ocean would feel to you two children at the seashore on a warm summer's day—very comfortable.

"But you know the salamander lives in a world all by himself, for no people can reach it.

"You know how often you look into the fire and see the blue flames fighting the red flames, and then you see shapes like castles with turrets and towers. Well, those things are really back of the fire, so the salamander lives in an exquisite world and not just a little nest or a hole. He has a courtyard and big gate, with blue marble lions guarding the entrance, and his place has any number of turrets and secret passages. In fact, I think the salamander has a very happy life, and he is constantly making new and beautiful improvements, for he loves changes and different kinds of beauty. In the evenings in the palace when the lights are turned low the salamander has always his blue, green, red and yellow lights flickering in the different parts of the palace. Those are the lights we can see in the fireplace.

"And all the salamanders are very fond of dress. They wear most gorgeous gowns and suits of all shades, and they have fine balls every night, for they adore dancing above all things."

"I think it would be nice," said Evelyn, "to be a salamander, for I love just looking into the fire and how much nicer to really be back of the fire and to see their palaces and their balls."

"Yes," replied daddy; "it would be nice if it were possible to see their homes, for they must be very, very beautiful, but at least we can all have the pleasure of gazing into the fire and seeing all the lovely colored flames and the little sparks flying around and dreaming of the salamanders' homes."

Daily Christmas Hint

Just the Thing For the Children's Stocking

Isn't this the cutest little candy kid you ever saw? He's the product of the fertile brain of a Vassar girl who first made him for a midnight "spread." The little fellow would be just the thing for the children's Christmas stocking.

How is he made? The easiest thing in the world. Get a goodly supply of strong toothpicks, some large raisins, marshmallows, almonds and figs. Then you are ready for the Frankenstein trick—making a man.

It is best to begin on the legs and arms first. To make the legs stick two of the raisins on two toothpicks, and to the ends of each place an almond for a foot. The arms are made in the same way; except for the hands the almonds are blanched. Now run two marshmallows through a toothpick for the man's body. He hasn't any neck. Have ready some melted chocolate and dip an orange stick in this mixture and with it make large dots for the buttons on his coat and for his facial features. Now attach arms and legs, and when a good sized fig has been rakishly placed on his head for a hat the man is ready for the stocking.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

WHAT IS WOMAN SUFFRAGE AND WHY IS IT URGED AT THE PRESENT TIME?

The cause of Woman Suffrage has been confounded with so many other modern reform movements that it seems necessary to reaffirm that the Woman Suffrage movement is purely and simply an effort to obtain the political enfranchisement of woman. Belief in representative government is at the bottom of the Woman Suffrage movement. Woman Suffragists claim that at the present time women are not adequately represented in our government. They believe that the woman in industry lacks adequate representation, since men in industry eager for occupation themselves are more prone to take measures to oust the women in industry than to further legislation in their favor. Whom then, they would ask the Anti-Suffragists, does represent the woman in industry?

Woman Suffragists also claim that the woman in the home is inadequately represented in our government. They believe that the home is the sufferer thereby. If it is a question of home interest against big business in the Legislature, which would have the preference they would ask the Anti-Suffragists? Alice Jones, secretary of the Consumers League of New Jersey, had occasion to interview several senators in Delaware in regard to a law to shorten the hours of working women. One senator made reply, "I don t care a God-damn thing about the women." Another senator of a much higher type, a really well meaning sort of man, told her frankly that he would favor no legislation that tended to interfere with his business. Were the women of Delaware represented by those senators?

Anti-Suffragists maintain that most women are content with their present amount of representation and do not wish to vote. To which the answer might be given that the majority of people were never in favor of any reform at the start. It will be remembered that not all the slaves at the time of the Civil War were in favor of freedom. A delegation of negroes went to Abraham Lincoln petitioning that they be retained in slavery, to which Lincoln replied, "If the iron of slavery has entered so deeply into your soul as that all the more reason that it should be stricken out."

A further statement is often heard, that women would not use the ballot if they had the chance. Let California make answer for us. In the last election in five out of the thirty-four counties a larger per cent. of women registered than of men. Let me hasten to add that in other counties the men brought up the average so that in the whole State about the same proportion of women and men voted.

A third objection is met with so often that it deserves comment. It is the objection that women should not cast a ballot because they cannot bear arms. To the Suffragist it would seem to be more a question of not being allowed than not being able to bear arms. Women are racially too important to be wasted in warfare. Women would naturally belong to the exempt class along with doctors and ministers; and be it borne in mind that each of these classes is represented at the front by the army doctors, the chaplains and the women nurses.

There is one Anti-Suffragist argument which the writer would gladly adopt as a Suffragist slogan with a slight change. It is said, "Woman's place is the home." I do not like that way of putting it. But I heartily believe that woman's business is the home and the children in the home. Rugs and pictures have their "place" in the home, but woman is not an inanimate object. I prefer to believe that her place is wherever she can best serve the interests of her family. Let us consider for a moment a man's business. Supposing he is a merchant. Does he neglect his business in order to cast his vote? On the contrary, he controls in a measure the circumstances affecting his business and prizes the vote accordingly. And so with a woman's business, the home and all that pertains hereto, be it food, clothing, educational or moral conditions, she can in large measure control them by a vote. A woman's deepest interest is the moral condition surrounding her children. In Hartford, Connecticut, some 2,000 women were deeply interested in putting a stop to the White Slave traffic which had been established in their city. They sent to the candidates for city offices inquiring what stand they would take in regard to abolishing this great evil, and received not a single reply. Would 2,000 voters be treated in that fashion? Let California answer again. In Los Angeles, Judge Weller offended the women by imposing too light a penalty upon a man who had assaulted a little girl. He was a powerful police judge and laughed at the idea of losing his position, but the women, armed with the ballot, were able to secure his recall.

Judge Osborne, speaking not long ago in Plainfield, recalled the three years during which he served in the New Jersey Senate. In those years, he said, he had learned that men are interested in politics and business, but when you are looking for interest in moral issues you must turn to the women. Moral and economic conditions are the most urgent that confront our government at the present time. Let us give the vote to women!

IDA H. RILEY.

Note.—The question has arisen whether working women want the vote. At first sight this seems a difficult question to answer, since here a working woman wants it, and there a working woman is satisfied without it. One fact is certain, however, the National Woman's Trade Union Association at its last convention endorsed Woman Suffrage in no uncertain terms.

MT. ZION CHURCH SERVICES.

The choir of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, under the direction of Alfred P. White, organist, will give a musical service Sunday evening in which it is hoped to excell previous efforts. Rev. W. H. Hicks, pastor of the church, baptized the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Selby on Sunday, and William Dempsy and Miss Bettie Lilly were received into full membership. Rev. H. L. VanBuren, of Metuchen, and Rev. W. H. Hicks will exchange pulpits on Sunday, January 11. Beginning Sunday, January 4, week of prayer services will be observed at the church. The prayer meeting Friday night will be in charge of Ivins McKinon, a local preacher. The latter preached at Metuchen on Sunday.

COMMUNITY TREES.

New York, Dec. 24.—The example of the "Group of Idealists" who set up the first Christmas tree in Madison Square last year has been followed this year by cities throughout the land. Fully four-score cities have provided community Christmas trees this year, according to reports received here. Among the cities are Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Birmingham, Dallas, Washington, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Rochester, Minneapolis, Hartford, Utica, Newark and Schenectady.

TRACE FAKE COLLECTOR.

Elizabeth, Dec. 24.—Chief of Police Michael Mulcahy said yesterday that his men had traced the man who had defrauded the widow of Patrolman John C. Winans out of an undertaker's bill. The man is understood to be in a nearby city in another State. No complaint has been made against him, however, and it is understood that a settlement has been effected between the undertaker and Mrs. Winans. The identity of the man is known to the undertaker.

MONOGRAMS FOR N. P. H. S. FRESHMEN CLASS QUINTET

The North Plainfield High School freshman basketball team has received its class monograms which were ordered some time ago. They are made up in the class colors—bright gold and blue—and are original in their style. The emblems consist of a ring of gold on the outside in which there is a blue star. Within the star are the numerals '17 in gold.

They were presented to the players by the class. Those who received the monograms are Roy Force, Daniel Denny, William Carson, Almond Doty, William Seidel, Alfred Willett and Grant Boos.

BASEBALL NOTES

Trainer Joe Quirk, of the Boston Red Sox, has been handed the pink slip.

John Siegel, the former Cincinnati outfielder, is to be manager of the Huntington team in the Ohio State League.

The Pacific Coast League will begin its next season March 31 and close October 26 just one day ahead of last season's schedule.

It is whispered that either "Silent John" Hummel or Enos Kirkpatrick, of the Brooklyn Superbas, will play first base for the Newark Indians next season

First Baseman Gandil, of the Washington team, has disposed of the car which was presented to him by admiring fans last season. He thinks automobiling is bad for the batting eye.

Pitcher Ralph Willis, who started last season with the champion Quincy team of the Three-I League, has been purchased by the Kansas City club, of the American Association.

"Lefty" Russell, the Athletics' famous $12,000 beauty, has been purchased by the Scranton club. "Lefty" is now a first baseman and did good work in the Tri-State League last season.

The members of the New London team of the Eastern Association have been instructed to meet at Tampa for spring practice. That comes very near to exceeding the speed limit for a Class B outfit.

South Bend is anxious to return to the Central League and is dickering for the Springfield franchise. The South Bend Chamber of Commerce has made an offer to buy the entire Springfield aggregation.

President Charlie Murphy, of the Cubs, says that Governor John K. Tener knows more about baseball than any other living man. Evidently "Chubby Charles" intended this for a side-swipe at one Bancroft Johnson.

"Athletes I Have Known"

"By Mac"

MONROE GOOD—NO. 2.

Yale Cup Winner.

Entering the Plainfield High School a stranger to everyone in his sophomore year, Monroe Good, a product of the Western plains, blew into the field of sports with a suddenness that made other local stars stand by and stare in wonderment. Although he was "green" to most of our Eastern games, this big fellow was quick to learn and before his initial year of Jersey scholastic life had been completed he was recognized as a peer in many lines.

Never before had he engaged in athletic competition on a systematic scale and when confronted with opportunities such as present themselves in present day schoolboy competition he was quick to seize a chance to shine.

While sporting the colors of the local institution Good took part in baseball, football, basketball and track athletics and established creditable records in every line. In baseball he was captain during his senior year after "Rocky" Davenport had turned down an offer of re-election. He played first base during his first year of the National Pastime and when Jimmy Nash quit the institution the big fellow was shifted to the backstop position. In basketball he learned all there was to know about the game in an unusually short period of time and although he was a stranger to this sport when he came to Plainfield, in his Senior year he was the mainstay of the Plainfield High School at the center position.

Good succeeded Arthur VanZant as acting captain of the Plainfield High School football team after the latter had been injured during the great season of 1911 when the team met with but one defeat. Good played the backfield and was one of the most consistent ground gainers during his last year in the school.

Being determined the winner of the efficiency award in the Plainfield High School graduating class of 1913, Good was presented with the Yale Cup. After making efforts to enter Princeton and Cornell Universities, Good finally landed in Colgate College and was a substitute on the football eleven during the season just closed.

Query—What are the differences between feminine basketball rules and those used by college teams?—G. W.

Answer—Your question is not clear. If you want to know the difference between feminine rules and those used by men's colleges you will have to get a book of each code and compare the two for the differences are too numerous to mention herein. The rules used by feminine players are universal and would be the same for colleges as for High Schools.

WITH THE BOXERS

Tommy Howell and Italian Joe Gans are to box in Philadelphia Christmas afternoon.

Tom O'Rourke has offered Georges Carpentier, the French champion, $10,000 to box "Porky" Flynn in New York on January 20.

Word from Los Angeles has it that Lench Cross is still in that city and reported to be suffering from spinal trouble.

On his first appearance in London the other night, "Winnipeg Jack O'Brien" was defeated by Jack Prendy in twelve rounds.

Jimmy Dime and Tony Ross have parted company. Jimmy avers it is a waste of time to try to manage the Italian.

Jack Britton, the Chicago lightweight, has signed to meet Young Shugrue at the McMahon brothers' arena in New York next month.

Carl Morris has quit the boxing game and gone back to work. That helps some. But we still have a number of "hopes" who should discard fighting trunks for overalls.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Dr. Mary Walker is to become a vaudeville attraction next month.

The rumor is revived that Edna May will soon return to the stage.

May de Sousa, the musical comedy star, is now leading woman in "The Marriage Market."

Charles Frohman's next musical comedy production will bear the title of "The Laughing Husband."

John Barrymore is to have the leading role in "The Yellow Ticket," the new play by Michael Horton.

Mrs. William Faversham (Miss Julie Opp) is about to return to the stage after an absence of six months caused by illness.

Thurlow Bergen has succeeded Orrin Johnson in the principal role in "The Marriage Game," now playing at the Comedy Theatre in New York.

Bernard Granville is to appear in a musical piece called "Taxi 41144," under the direction of Al. H. Woods.

Mrs. Charles B. Craig has been engaged by Henry W. Savage for an important part in "Old Reliable," in which Willis Sweatnam is to star.

Emmanuel Relcher, head of the Lessing Theatre in Berlin, is to go to San Francisco during the Panama Exposition and give a series of plays in which he has become famous.

The Shuberts have completed arrangements with George Edwards whereby they are to bring over the entire London Gaiety Theatre Company intact for a New York season of "The Girl on the Film."

Cecilia Loftus is to play the leading role in a moving picture play which will be made by Daniel Frohman's company of film actors. The movies drama will be founded upon Frances Hodgson Burnett's play, "A Lady of Quality."

Following the announcement that Joseph Brooks had signed a five years' contract with William H. Crane and Douglas Fairbanks for a joint starring arrangement, comes the news that Amelia Bingham has signed for a like time with the same management.

When Madame Aguglia, the Sicilian actress, opens her New York season in a few weeks she will be seen in a repertoire which will include "Zaza," "Camille," "Salome," "Elektra" and "The Thief." The tragedienne comes to New York from South America, where she has been playing for two years.

Signor Perugini (John Chatterton), once a famous light opera singer, is about to leave active theatrical life and enter the Edwin Forrest Home for Actors in Priladelphia. For two seasons Signor Perugini was Patti's leading tenor. By many persons he is best remembered as the former husband of Lillian Russell.

The plays yet to be produced in New York this season by Charles Frohman are J. M. Barrie's "The Legend of Leonora," with Maude Adams in the principal part; Billie Burke in W. S. Maugham's modern play of North American frontier life, "The Land of Promise"; a musical operetta entitled "The Laughing Husband"; a new play now being written by Harrison Rhodes and Thomas Wise; a dramatization of Sudermann's "The Song of Songs," by Edward Sheldon, and a new farce entitled "A Little Water on the Side," with William Collier in the leading role.

CHRISTMAS CHEER.

New York Dec. 24.—New York went home today bundle-laden and happy in the prospects of as merry a Christmas as the city has enjoyed in many years. The streets, the shops, the cars were crowded all day with persons making their final purchases. Tradesmen distributed gifts among their customers and employers handed out tens of thousands of dollars as Christmas remembrances to their employes. Municipal and private philanthropic organizations spent the day in completing the final preparations for feeding the city's hungry tomorrow and making them feel that they are sharers in the general celebration.

XMAS PARTY FOR "SPUGS."

New York, Dec. 24.—"Not a lonely person on Christmas Day!" is the motto adopted by the Spug Society of New York, and in order to make the motto true as all mottoes should be the society has planned to give a mammoth Christmas party to the lonely ones tomorrow afternoon and evening in the Grand Central Palace. It is to be a party for everybody, from grandpa and grandma down to the kiddies themselves. If the expectations of the promoters are fulfilled it will be the biggest Christmas party on record. A gigantic Christmas tree will be the centre of attraction and in addition there will be dancing and an old-fashioned Christmas dinner.

CHICAGO'S HAPPY DAY.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 24.—Symbolic of the big Christmas celebration which Chicago expects to enjoy tomorrow is the mammoth municipal Christmas tree erected in Grant Park for the children of the poor. Public and private philanthropy have joined to extend the Christmas spirit from the centre to the circumference of the big city. Patients and prisoners in public institutions are to have as joyful a day as money and kindness can give them. Turkey or chicken dinners, Christmas trees and entertainments are to be provided for the inmates of the county jail, the workhouse, orphan asylums, hospitals and at all the public and semi-public institutions for the unfortunate. For the poor of the city the Salvation Army, the Volunteers of America and numerous other organizations have planned feasts and celebrations that will make all, at least temporarily, happy.

JOHN D.'S $35,000 XMAS.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 24.—For the first time in twenty-five years, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller are to spend Christmas Day in Cleveland and plans for a big celebration at Forest Hill, Mr. Rockefeller's Cleveland estate, were completed today. Mr. Rockefeller will spend the day surrounded by as many of the members of his family as possible and all his old Cleveland friends. It is said the day's festivities will occasion an outlay of $35,000. While the plan for the celebration have been made on a large scale it is understood there will be nothing ostentatious about the observance of the day.

BIRTHDAY OF OLDEST TWINS.

New York, Dec. 24.—William and Samuel Mundy, of Babylon, L. I., known all over the world as the oldest twins, will celebrate their ninety-fifth birthday anniversary tomorrow. Both men are active and expect to reach the century mark together. Both are total abstainers, and attribute their long life and excellent health to that fact.

CHAMPIONSHIP BASKETBALL FOR CHRISTMAS DAY SPORT PROGRAM

Coach Jack Martin, of the Hope Chapel basketball team, has selected a squad of ten men to represent his club in the fight for the City Basketball Championship on the Y. M. C. A. court tomorrow afternoon, when the Y. M. C. A. and Hope Chapel teams meet in the first of a series of battles scheduled to decide the titleholder. While it is likely that the teams will face each other with practically the same fighting front as has done battle all season, the Hope leader is evidently preparing for emergencies and is running no chances of losing the game through injuries to players.

Martin has planned to rush the Y. M. C. A. team off its feet by means of an influx of new material to rush in wherever weak spots makes itself prominent in the working of his machine. The Y. M. C. A. outfit will have six men on the floor and the fact that this sextet has gone down to defeat but once this season and then only by a margin of one point, is evidence enough of the fighting ability of the half dozen players.

It is a significant fact that Hope Chapel and the Y. M. C. A. have been three times in quick succession in championship series, in 1911, 1912 and the present year, and to date each team has annexed one title. This year is the rubber and both teams are naturally reluctant to pass up the honor of winning the initial game with its big advantage. Three of the Y. M. C. A. players, Brynairski, Glover and McNamee, have been members of the team that represented the Association in all of the previous city title fights, while a quintet of Chapel stars has clung together for the three years—Allen Snyder, the Heron brothers, Leighs and Doig being the veterans. Thus, with a nucleus of veterans on each side, the teams will enter the fray evenly matched as has been the condition in all of the previous fights for the handle.

Hope Chapel has met with three defeats this season, two on its home court, while the Y. M. C. A. has suffered but one reverse and that one two weeks ago at the hands of the Belleville Y. M. C. A. five.

In the preliminary contest tomorrow afternoon, the Plainfield High School team will line up against the Alumni representatives in the annual court game. The schoolboys will be somewhat handicapped by the absence of several of the regular players who are working during the holidays but expects to make the "grads" hustle to win.

The four teams will lineup as follows:

Y. M. C. A.	HOPE CHAPEL.
Moulton	T. Heron
Forward.
McNamee	J. Heron
Forward.
Gavett	Doig
Center.
Brynairski	Leighs

TENER'S ELECTION AIDS OLD CIRCUIT

National League Is Now on Solid Footing.

POLITICAL SQUABBLES ENDED

Governor of Pennsylvania Should Prove Himself a Capable Leader of Big Baseball Organization During His Four Year Term.

The election of John Kinley Tener, governor of Pennsylvania, to the presidency of the National league has placed that organization on the most formidable footing it has ever enjoyed.

Tener's election puts an end to the political squabbles with which the league has been infested for many years. Tener was the unanimous choice of the club owners. He has been selected for a four year term, during which time he is sure to enjoy the confidence and respect of the members of the league as well as the baseball public in general. Tener will not only prove himself a capable leader of his league, but he will make a suitable man to represent his organization on the national commission. Under Tener's regime the affairs of the senior organization will be conducted much more smoothly than heretofore, and there is at last a chance for it to regain the prestige it lost by reason of its unsportsmanlike conduct in years gone by.

Incidentally the election of Tener will bring the two major leagues on a more harmonious basis. Tener has the respect of Ban Johnson and the club owners of the American league.

It remained for a man who just came into baseball to see the advantage of having Tener lead the league. President W. F. Baker of the Philadelphia club is responsible for Tener returning to baseball. Baker, who was formerly a police commissioner of the city of New York, became the president of the Philadelphia club at the death of his brother-in-law, Will Locke, last fall. Realizing that the league was not flourishing because of the factional strifes which were prevalent, Baker set about to find a man suitable to fill the position of president. He suggested Governor Tener, a former ball player and a man of character and prominence. Tener's candidacy found the support of every club owner in the league, and his unanimous election is the result.

But for Baker Tener would probably have never been dreamed of in connection with the National league presidency and the club owners would have been tied up in their annual fight when the question of electing a president came up this winter.

It will be well for the National league magnates to heed the advice of Tom Lynch, retiring president, who suggests that the club owners "inject some dignity into themselves." There has been an absolute lack of sportsmanship displayed by them in the past. There has not been a season that numerous protests have not been filed, resulting from decisions of the umpires. The game's reputation for honesty has been jeopardized by the very men who are interested in its success, and the head of the league has been kept in hot water.

In the American league protests are almost unheard of. Ball games are allowed to be won on the ball field and not in the council chambers of the league.

Lynch's advice should be followed by the National leaguers, who will help their organization and the game as well by displaying real sportsmanship under all conditions.

Australia Will Try For Davis Cup.

Australia will make another attempt to recover the Dwight F. Davis lawn tennis cup now held by America. Norman E. Brooks and A. W. Dunlop have booked passage for Europe and will compete in the British and continental tournaments.

They will thus be able to round into form for the international contests. Anthony F. Wilding of New Zealand, who this year defeated Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco for the championship of Great Britain, announces that he will be available for the Davis cup contests.

THE DAILY PRESS IN BOUND BROOK will be found on sale or delivered to any address every afternoon by Hoagland Union News Stand at station, and A. Aaron, newsdealer.

JEWELER KEENE CONGRATULATED

Victory in Watch Suit Is Praised.

RETAIL PRICE CUTTING UPHELD BY THE COURT

No Manufacturer Can Fix the Price at Which a Retailer Can Sell to Consumer Is Point of the Decision.

From Our New York Correspondent.

New York, Dec. 20.

Charles A. Keene, the Broadway, Manhattan, Jeweler, is being congratulated to-day on the victory he wor yesterday when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals handed down a decision unanimously affirming a decision by Judge Ray in the United States District Court last February in the case of the Waltham Watch Company. Mr. Keene managed to procure the watch movements of the Waltham company for several years and sell them sometimes at fifty per cent. less than the regular prices fixed by the company.

Mr. Keene was at his store bright and early to-day receiving congratulations. He has been doing a rushing business during the past few weeks. On account of buying the Waltham movements in large quantities abroad, he has been able to sell at very low prices here. Movements which cost $28.50 if sold by a regular Waltham dealer, have been sold by Mr. Keene in a handsome case for $17.35.

There has been war between Mr. Keene and the so-called watch trust for years. Under a system of licenses, agreements, contracts and sales conditions they required that jobbers and retailers adhere to fixed prices for various movements on penalty of not getting the goods to sell.

Keene would not consent, and in some of the litigation that ensued it was said that he could not buy his supplies through regular channels.

The Waltham company brought its suit against him in 1911 and later filed another action in Boston. That is still pending.

A state of facts was agreed upon in the New York case, which put in evidence the "condition of sale" which accompanied every movement. "A 16 size Riverside movement" was used as illustrative. The price at which the Waltham company wanted the movement sold then was $28.50, the present price is $32. Keene sold the movement, inclosed in a case, for $17.35. According to testimony in the Boston case, the manufacturing cost of the movement was something like $3.50. It was sold for export for $10.

Harry B. Jackson, of Emerson avenue, sophomore at Rutgers College, has returned home to spend the Christmas holidays. He is a graduate of the Borough High School and Rutgers representative of the College Memory book.

A BAN ON BALL SCANDAL.

New York City Ordinance Will Protect World Series Tickets.

A city ordinance designed to prevent ticket scandals at future world's series games in New York will be introduced in the board of aldermen at the instance of the district attorney's office as a result of the investigation by the county authorities of the success of speculators in obtaining tickets to the Giants-Athletics games at the Polo grounds. A report which has been submitted to District Attorney Whitman by his assistant assigned to make the inquiry shows that while very few box seats reached the hands of speculators nearly 1,200 $3 seats were disposed of through hotel ticket agencies or by individuals. It was announced that as a result of the manner in which these tickets were procured several persons are to be arrested. One Polo grounds ticket seller has been arrested and another is accused in the report. Twenty-five speculators were caught at work during the series.

Witnesses examined during the inquiry included President Thomas J. Lynch of the National league, President Harry M. Hempstead and James E. Gaffney of the New York and Boston National league clubs, and Secretary Charles H. Ebbets, Jr., of the Brooklyn club, the heads of several ticket agencies and a police captain. A few of the tickets sold by speculators were traced to the police captain, who bought 150 in advance.

JORDAN TO RETIRE.

Old Fighter and Announcer Saw Hyer Whip Yankee Sullivan.

Billy Jordan is to retire as official announcer of the prize ring. He is eighty-two years old, and after the first of the coming year he will go to the Old Soldiers' home at Yountville, Cal. Fight followers all over the country know Billy Jordan. He announced the Jeffries-Johnson fight and almost every other championship battle that has been held west of the Rocky mountains in the last two generations.

Once a good lightweight himself, Jordan is one of the few men now living who saw the famous battle at Fredericksburg, Va., in 1848, when Tom Hyer defeated Yankee Sullivan in one hour and forty minutes under the old London prize ring rules.

Born in Boston, he came to California in 1853, went east to fight for the Union in the sixties, returned and has lived in San Francisco ever since.

cross country championship of the Amateur Athletic union over the six mile course at Van Cortlandt park, New York.

The winner's time, 33 minutes 52 seconds, is a fraction over 17 seconds behind the record for this course, established by Hannes Kolehmainen, the Finnish Olympic champion, a short time ago.

Sheppard to Go to Athens.

At least one competitor will go to Athens for the Athenian festival next April, according to Mel Sheppard, the great middle distance runner. Sheppard said recently that he already had started training with the idea of competing in the games, which begin on April 22. If there is no regular team from the United States he will go as the representative of the Irish American Athletic club of New York, of which he is captain.

Ruddy Yale Water Polo Coach.

Joseph Ruddy of the New York Athletic club will coach the Yale water polo team this season. Prospects are brighter for the Yale swimming team than for several years past. The probable lineup will be: Captain A. MacLeish, '15, center forward; H. Steiner, '14 S and H. V. Von Holt, '16, forwards; T. Smith, '15, and M. P. Crane, '14, halfbacks; S. Braden, '14, goal.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful fn a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.

NOSE AND HEAD STOPPED UP FROM COLD OR CATARRH, OPEN AT ONCE

My Cleansing, Healing Balm Instantly Clears Nose, Head and Throat—Stops Nasty Catarrhal Discharges—Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed, nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Adv.

ELKS ENTERTAINED POOR YOUNGSTERS

All the Kiddies Guests of Antlered Ones at the Plainfield Theatre.

A program of motion picture films appropriate to the Yuletide season was presented in the Plainfield theatre, Wednesday afternoon, by the local Elks' lodge, poor children of the city being the guests of the antlered philanthropists at that time. The local playhouse was well filled with a juvenile audience and the annual feature of Elks' work in this city was another great success such as has marked all of the affairs of this nature conducted by the local order.

Following the entertainment a committee of Elks, headed by Clarence Teel, made a tour of the city providing holiday gifts for a number of needy families that have been brought to their attention. It has been the annual custom of the Elks to provide for the juvenile set each Christmas for the last few years and deviating from the established plan of playing Santa Claus to the youngsters, the Elks this year visited the families and grown-ups and did the work in a way which will be appreciated in a broader sense.

SUBURBAN BUS CARS ADDED TO SERVICE

Manager Campbell Draws up New Schedule in Effort to Produce Efficiency.

A complete revision of schedule has been effected by the Plainfield Transit Company in an effort to produce efficient bus service between Plainfield and South Plainfield, and this city and Stirling, and the new running time includes the addition of several trips to the list now being conducted between each of these places. R. W. Campbell, manager of the company, has drawn up a timetable that corresponds with the needs of the traveling populace in the communities affected and as a result of the addition of many new trips people will be able to make better connections between various points touched by the automobile bus.

Two new busses will leave Plainfield for South Plainfield on week-days, one at 7 o'clock in the evening and another at 11:30 o'clock at night, the latter being run only on Saturdays. Two new busses will leave South Plainfield for this city, one at 7:30 p. m. and one at 11:30 p. m., the latter being run on Saturdays only. Two cars have been eliminated from the Sunday trips between here and South Plainfield and return, the one leaving the village at 8:30 p. m., and the one leaving here at 8 p. m. The bus which left Plainfield heretofore at 10:30 o'clock for South Plainfield on week-days has been changed to 9 a. m. and the 5 p. m. car will be run every day and not on Saturdays alone as was previously the case. The 8 a. m. bus leaving South Plainfield has been shifted to be run every day instead of Saturdays only and the 10:45 a. m. car will leave at 9:30 a. m. The 12 o'clock car will be run daily instead of Saturdays as heretofore.

A number of Sunday changes have also been put into effect as follows: Plainfield to South Plainfield, Sundays, 8 a. m. car changed to 9 a. m.; 10:45 a. m. car changed to 12 o'clock; 1 p. m. changed to 2 p. m., and the 5:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. Leaving South Plainfield on Sundays, 8:45 a. m. to 10 a. m.; 11 a. m. to 12:15 p. m.; 2 p. m. to 2:30 p. m.; 4:15 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.; 6:15 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Four new cars have been added to the Plainfield and Stirling service, one leaving Plainfield on week-days at 4:30 p. m.; one leaving Watchung on week-days at 9 a. m. and another at 4:45 p. m., and one leaving Stirling at 5:15 p. m. The schedule goes into effect at once and a complete list of the running times will be found on another page of this issue.

HORSE CUT IN COLLISION.

For the third time within a week a collision between an automobile and a hack in Fanwood occurred last night at the intersection of Martine and North avenues, in that borough. A hack owned by Peter Ritter, containing three people who were being driven from the railroad depot to the "Homestead," by Peter Ritter, Jr., was passing Martine avenue on North avenue, when a high powered touring machine swung around the corner and crashed into the horse and wagon before the chauffeur could apply his brakes. The horse was badly cut, and the front wheels of the hack were smashed. The occupants of the hack, who refused to give their names, were uninjured.

SCOTCH PLAINS RESIDENCE IS DESTROYED BY FLAMES

The home of James Trainer, in Westfield avenue, Scotch Plains, was burned to the ground yesterday morning shortly after 3 o'clock, despite the efforts of the Volunteer Fire Departments of the 'Plains and Fanwood. The family had been away since Wednesday spending Christmas with relatives in New York.

A party of Scotch Plains people returning home from a Christmas celebration, noticed the reflection of the flames in the sky. An alarm was sounded. There is no fire hydrant in the vicinity and the firemen were powerless to stay the flames.

Mr. Trainer arrived on the scene from this city when the structure had been reduced to ashes. He said he was unable to account for the origin of the blaze.

APOPLEXY IS FATAL TO FRANCIS B. THORN

Well Known Resident Succumbs Suddenly—Aged Sixty-eight Years.

Francis B. Thorn, aged 68 years, a resident of this city for many years, died suddenly at his home, 333 East Third street, last night, from an apoplectic stroke following a cerebral hemorrhage. Although he had been detained at home for a few days by illness his condition was not considered serious and his death was a severe shock.

Mr. Thorn had been a resident of Plainfield for more than a quarter of a century, and for many years was employed in New York as shipping clerk by the American Bank Note Company. He gave up that position about two years ago and took a similar one at the Rushmore Dynamo Works, where he was employed at the time of his death.

There survives a wife, by a second marriage, four daughters, Mrs. Irving Brady, of Westfield; Mrs. Lorenzo Townley, of North Plainfield; Mrs. Frank Smalley, of Cranford; Mrs. Frank Hemming, of Jersey City, and two sons, Benjamin Thorn, of Brooklyn, and Arthur Thorn, who lives at home.

The notice of funeral will be announced later.

COMMUNITY XMAS BROUGHT REAL JOY

700 Children and 200 Families Were Made Happy by United Effort.

The "Community Christmas" celebration arranged by the Federation of Men's Church Clubs and Federation of Men's Bible Classes was a great success. All day Wednesday and yesterday automobiles and their owners were as busy as bees in distributing the gifts of the "Community Santa Claus" to the needy people of the city, about 700 children and more than 200 families being remembered.

In addition to this coal and flour were sent to about thirty families. Everyone connected with the work feels that the plan was a great success and those in charge are especially gratified over the fact that the public responded so generously not only with gifts, but by the interest shown and actual work done. The special fund raised for the Charity Organization Society by the Plainfield Daily Press amounted to over $400.

The success of this year's plan is due in no small measure to Miss Mabelle Phillips, secretary of the Charity Organization Society, who prepared the list of names of people to be remembered by Santa Claus.

Campbell then presented Mrs. Whitlock with a carved mahogany rocking chair and the Misses DeCamp with umbrellas. Happy responses were made. The rest of the evening was spent enjoying vocal and instrumental music by Murray Stowe, Ashton Clever, Miss Edith Cregar, while Miss Helen Stelle read an original poem. Supper was served.

FANWOOD RECORDER RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

Charles Sheelen, Who Will Quit, Has Held the Place Nine Years.

Charles Sheelen, who has been recorder of Fanwood since the office was established by the Borough Council in 1904 has presented his resignation to the Mayor and Council, the same to take effect on January 7, 1914. A pressure of other business has caused Mr. Sheelen to take this action. During his long term of service, he has filled the office to the entire satisfaction of the people of Fanwood, who regret that he feels compelled to resign. It is not known who will succed Mr. Sheelen. He is also collector of Fanwood.

It will be necessary for the Fanwood Township Committee to make another appointment January 1, for Marshal Fred Clark has tendered his resignation to take effect at that time. As yet no one has been mentioned as Mr. Clark's successor. He is the son of Justice of the Peace Clark, and has been marshal for the past two years.

O. E. RUNYON VICTIM OF HEART DISEASE

Newarker, a Native of Plainfield, Succumbs Suddenly—Funeral Tomorrow.

Orrin E. Runyon, 58 years old, a native of this city and a brother of Harry C. Runyon, the local lawyer, and David M. Runyon, cashier of the First National Bank, and of Charles W. Runyon, died yesterday morning of heart disease at his home, 209 Clinton avenue, West, Irvington. Captain of Company D, First Regiment, National Guard, of Newark, he had the distinction of being the senior captain in the service in New Jersey. For more than thirty years he was actively identified with the National Guard and fought with valor and honor in the Spanish-American War.

Born in this city, Mr. Runyon was educated in the local public schools and was graduated from the Plainfield High School. He took a course in the Eastman Business College, of Poughkeepsie, and was associate editor of his father, who established the Central New Jersey Times. He moved to Irvington, a suburb of Newark, when about 25 years old.

Besides the brothers mentioned, he is survived by his widow and five children; his mother, Mrs. Harriett M. Runyon, of 1080 Arlington avenue, and four sisters. They are Miss Elma H. Runyon, of this city; Miss Laura L. Runyon, a teacher in the State Normal School at Warrensburg; Mrs. Charles L. Moffett, of Lebanon, and Mrs. Gerald Ollif, of Chicago.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home in Irvington.

NOT ONE ARREST MADE IN THE CITY YESTERDAY

A testimonial to Chief Patrick J. Kiely and the men of his department, and to the manner in which the saloon problem is handled locally was the evidence of good order in this city yesterday despite the fact that many have a tendency to celebrate to extremes in observance of Christmas. Not one arrest was made by the police for intoxication, disorderly conduct or on any other charge. Part responsibility for this condition of affairs may be attributed to the request made by Chief Kiely several days ago, directing the liquor dealers of the city to give no free "booze" to the patrons of their establishments. Another reason is the carefully made and rigidly enforced ordinance as to the sale of liquor. All saloons within the city limits were closed last night at 6 o'clock, instead of at 11 o'clock, as on other days.

MISS LAURA BENT.

Following a short illness, Miss Laura Bent, died yesterday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bent, of North avenue, Fanwood. A member of the All Saints' Episcopal church, of that borough, she took an active interest in social and church work, and was a popular member of the Fanwood younger set. Besides her parents, Miss Bent is survived by a brother, Charles Bent, Jr., and a sister, Miss Anna Bent. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA.

The Christmas entertainment will be given at Trinity Reformed church, tonight, when a cantata will be presented by members of the Bible school.

MIDNIGHT MASS AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH

Elaborate Music a Feature of Service at Borough Catholic Church.

A solemn mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Miller Wednesday night at St. Joseph's church in observance of Christmas. Rev. Father Schwartz, of St. Mary's church, Stony Hill, was the deacon, and Rev. Father Paoli, of the borough church, was sub-deacon. An inspiring sermon was preached by Father Miller, who took as his subject, "Peace on Earth—Good Will to Men." Other masses were celebrated yesterday morning at 7:30, 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock.

A feature of the midnight mass was the rendition of a delightful musical program under the direction of James E. Bailey. It follows: Processional, Praise God Forever, Brown, by Miss Juliette Brancatti, Mrs. A. Seidel and A. E. LaPorte, soloists, assisted by a chorus; Kyrie Eleison, Mass of Our Lady of Loretto, Mentzel; Gloria in Excelsis, Mass of Our Lady of Loretto, Mentzel; Credo, Mass of Our Lady of Loretto, Mentzel; offertory, Adeste Fideles, Chase, by Mrs. A. Seidel, and Messrs. LaPorte and Bailey, and a chorus; Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei masses, by Mentzel; recessional, Praise God Forever, Brown.

Succumbed to Infirmities of Age—Funeral Services Sunday Afternoon.

Mrs. John Stewart, aged 84 years, a resident of the city and borough for more than a quarter of a century, died at 5 o'clock this morning at the home of her son, Frank DeCamp, on Linden avenue, from the infirmities of advancing years. For the past year she had been making her home with her son and prior to that she lived with her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Higgins, of West Fourth street.

Mrs. Stewart was born in New York, her maiden name being Miss Lavinia Ryno. When a young woman she was married to Frederick DeCamp, who died many years ago, and afterward she married John Stewart, who passed away eighteen years ago. She was almost a life-long member of the Park Avenue Baptist church, and a great worker in that church, being actively interested in all departments.

There survives two daughters, Mrs. J. B. Higgins, of West Fourth street; and Mrs. Fred Gerhold, of Newark; one son, Frank DeCamp, of the borough; three grandchildren, the Misses Alice and Hannah Higgins, of this city, and Walter Higgins, of Scotia, New York. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon, the hour to be announced later.

GAVE A DINNER PARTY IN HONOR OF MISS GINNA

Mrs. Francis deLacey Hyde, of Mountain avenue, gave a dinner party Christmas eve in honor of Miss Katherine Ginna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Ginna, of Watchung avenue, who is one of the season's debutantes. Covers were laid for twenty-four guests, all of whom were intimate friends of Miss Ginna. The decorations were appropriate to Christmastide, comprising evergreens and holly.

After the dinner the young people played games and an informal program of music was given during the evening. Mrs. Hyde made a charming hostess and the guests thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

DRUGGIST ROWLEY TO REMOVE.

Frank Rowley, the druggist, who has occupied the store on West Front street, adjoining Proctor's Theatre for several years, has leased the store at Park avenue and West Fourth street, now leased by Higgings Brothers, the undertakers, and will remove there in the near future. MISS SHERWOOD BRIDE OF WALTER CLICKNER Ceremony Performed by City Judge DeMeza at College Friend's Home.

Miss Grace Sherwood and Walter Clickner, both of New York city, were married Christmas Eve at the home of Miss Mabelle Phillips, of Madison avenue, in the presence of a few friends. The ceremony was performed by City Judge William G. DeMeza. The couple was unattended, and after the ceremony, supper was served, and they left on a wedding trip. Upon their return they will live at Ninty-Eighth street and Central Park West.

The bride, who has been a teacher in a large private school in New York, is a college friend of Miss Phillips, both being graduates of Wellesley College. The friendship formed during college days has continued and when Miss Phillips learned that the couple were to be married it was arranged that the ceremony should take place at her home. The bridegroom is connected with the New York Telephone Company in the New York office.

CHRISTMAS DAY AT MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL

Nurses and Patients Are Remembered and Turkey Dinner is Enjoyed.

Under the direction of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, the patients, who were unable to return home, as well as the nurses, were provided with plenty of Christmas cheer, yesterday. The wards and private rooms were appropriately decorated for the Yuletide season with greens and holly, and in the afternoon following a fine turkey dinner for those who were able to eat it, there was a general distribution of gifts which came chiefly from the friends of the patients and nurses.

Following the usual custom, the paid employes of the institution were remembered with gifts of money by the Board of Governors. An arrangement was made whereby the nurses were given a half-day off, some taking it in the morning and others in the afternoon.

There are nine children at the hospital, two in the isolation ward, and seven in the other department, and Christmas Day was made a particularly happy one for them by their relatives and friends.

RECEPTION AND BALL OF Y. M. H. A. WAS ENJOYABLE

Several hundred attended the second annual reception and ball of the Y. W. H. A., last night, in their hall in Grove street, which was draped in Yuletide trimmings of green and gold. Suhr's agumented orchestra furnished the music. The guests came from Elizabeth, Hoboken, Milltown, New Brunswick, Somerville, New York city, Brooklyn, Des Moines, Ia., Newark, this city and the borough. Fred Lei, of New York, who was awarded $5 in a competition, contributed the amount to be used for charitable purposes.

The event was arranged by these officers: Miss Rose M. Rosenson, president; Miss Marion B. Sachar, vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Rosenson, secretary, and Miss Minnie Nathanson, treasurer. Miss Frances M. Moledezky was in general charge and Miss Esther S. Wolfe, acted as floor manager.

A MUSICAL RECITAL.

A joint recital that should be of interest to all music lovers in Plainfield and vicinity, will take place in the Hartridge School Auditorium, Thursday evening, January 8, when Eleanor Spencer, the premier American woman pianist, and Paul Reimers, the popular German society tenor, will make their initial appearance here. Miss Spencer recently returned from Europe where, for nearly eight years, she was a student of Harold Bauer, and the favorite pupil of Leschetisky. After several tours throughout Germany, France, Holland, Austria and England she made her American debut in Carnegie Hall, November 11. Her success was instantaneous, and the New York critics proclaimed her the most talented woman pianist that has visited our shores in years. Mr. Reimers has long been known in Germany as the most popular tenor on the concert stage. Since being introduced to American audiences last season, he has been in great demand. He is possibly the most sought singer by the social set there is today.

THIRTEEN HORSES BURNED TO DEATH

Pet Pony Also Loses Its Life When Somerville Stable is Destroyed by Fire.

LOSS ABOUT $10,000

Van Doren, Contractor, Chief Victim But place Was Covered By Insurance—Fire Foreman Van Fleet Injured When Wall Falls.

Somerville, Dec. 26.—Thirteen horses and a fine pony perished in an early morning fire yesterday, when the stables in the rear of the Commercial Hotel were burned. This was a two-story brick structure, with wooden buildings adjoining, the fire starting in some mysterious manner in the second story of the main barn in the hay loft.

The towerman at the Bridge street crossing of the Central Railroad first saw the flames as they worked out underneath the slate roof on the east side of the building shortly after 2 o'clock, and he notified M. N. Porter, the night ticket agent at the depot and the latter sent in an alarm from the box nearby. By the time the alarm had sounded efforts were made to get out the horses. Only one was saved, the others having become frightened, one horse falling in the narow doorway and blocking all others from escape. The animals were all heavy work horses, with the exception of the pony, and were valued at about $300 each. The pony was a pet animal.

The stables had been leased by E. L. Van Doren, the contractor, since early last year, and how the fire started is a mystery. Everything had been locked up securely early in the evening previous, and there were no persons sleeping in the hay loft, as first supposed. When first discovered attempts were made to open the doors of the stable, but they were secured with strong padlocks, and before proper tools could be obtained to force the doors open the fire was so hot that it was impossible to get near the barn. Two of the horses, "Joe McGregor" and "Judd," were valuable trotters. A great quantity of harness was burned, but all the wagons were saved.

The firemen worked to save adjoining property and the brick walls of the stable no doubt kept the fire from reaching the Commercial Hotel and the coal sheds of the Consumers' Supply Company.

Mr. Van Doren's loss was well covered by insurance. The loss to the building and contents will easily reach $10,000.

Yesterday afternoon Chief Norton was summoned to the ruins by the flames again breaking out in the hay which had fallen from the second story, and he thought it wise to lay a line of hose to put it out, and he asked Foreman George Van Fleet and Judson Carkhuff, of the Somerville Engine Company, to take a line of hose and put out the blaze. Just as they were about ready to leave the ruins a big section of the north wall fell upon them, burying them. Chief Norton escaped the falling bricks, but Van Fleet was badly cut about the head, and his whole body was battered and bruised, but last night it was said that no bones were broken. Carkhuff escaped with a few bruises, as a large piece of tin came down before the bricks and formed a canopy over him. It was nothing short of a miracle that both were not killed.

All day yesterday watchmen about the ruins prevented visitors from approaching too near the burned building, as it was feared the walls would fall at any time.

A MIDNIGHT CELEBRATION AT HOLY CROSS CHURCH

The midnight celebration of the Holy Communion in observance of Christmas was held Wednesday at midnight in the Holy Cross church. Rev. Walter DuMulin, of the Church of the Transfiguration, New York, preached the sermon and the vested choir rendered a Christmas program of music. Greens and holly decorated the edifice and a large star suspended above the chancel added impressiveness to the ceremonies.

At the regular church services yesterday at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. Mr. DuMulin again officiated and Holy Communion was celebrated. The special music included Vincent's anthem, "There Were Shepherds," the solo part being sung by Eustace Eggie. Choirmaster Charles Davis was at the organ.

HOUSE CAVES IN, WRECKAGE HOLDS WOMAN IN KITCHEN

New Brunswick, Dec. 26.—Penned in by wreckage in her kitchen when part of the house collapsed. Mrs. Nelson Stelle, of 22 Codwise avenue, screamed for help. Neighbors who soon surrounded the house were powerless to aid her. An alarm of fire was then turned in and the firemen rescued her through a window, but not until she was weak from fright.

About 9:30 o'clock the rear of the Stelle house caved in. Mrs. Stelle was building a fire in the kitchen stove at the time of the accident. A sound was heard just before the chimney fell as if the wall was cracking, but the family thought a mouse had gotten into the woodwork. Mrs. Stelle's husband had just left the room when the crash came.

ASK PROBE OF CALUMET PANIC

Appeal Made to Wilson For Investigator.

SEVENTY-SEVEN KILLED.

The Police Have Been Unable to Locate the Person Who Raised False Fire Cry—The Dead Are Mostly Children.

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 26.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, has appealed to President Wilson and to Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson for an investigation of the fire panic in which seventy-seven persons, mostly children, were killed at a Christmas eve celebration here.

With the corrected list of the dead in the catastrophe at the Italian Union hall in Red Jacket, it is believed that all the bodies have been found. Seventy-seven are accounted for, all being identified, but there are three children, two boys and a girl, so badly hurt that they may die. Two are practically certain to die.

The authorities have been unable to locate the person, claimed to have been a man in the audience at the Christmas tree exercises, who raised the alarm of fire which resulted in the casualties, although supplied with a perfect description. Mrs. Jacob Lustig of Laurium, wife of a striker, states that she sat behind the man who first raised the alarm.

President Wilson is at Pass Christian, Miss., for the holidays, but Secretary Wilson promised to communicate with him as soon as possible and ascertain whether the president would assume jurisdiction in the case.

Mr. Moyer's action assumes special significance in view of the charges that a member of the Citizens' alliance, formed to maintain peace and order in the copper miners' strike, was the man who gave the false alarm of fire that brought death to seventy-seven and filled the homes of Calumet with sorrow.

"No striker nor any one in sympathy with the strike brought about this disaster," asserted Mr. Moyer. "The Western Federation of Miners will bury its own dead. No aid will be accepted from those citizens who a short time ago pronounced these people undesirable citizens."

Members of the Citizens' alliance said that it is preposterous to imagine that any of their members would have attempted to disturb a Christmas eve celebration by children.

The coroner is empaneling a jury to investigate the disaster, and meantime miners and detectives are trying to discover the identity of the man who appeared at the door of the crowded hall and started the awful panic with his false cry of "Fire!" If the miners find him first, it is believed, they will lynch him, for they are wild with anger.

The Dead Mostly Children.

Pitiful scenes were witnessed about the city hall and undertaking establishments to which the bodies of the victims were taken. Bodies of little children—some of them two, three or four years old—predominate among the dead.

Fifty-six of the victims were children, far more than one-half the total. Thirty-seven of them were girls, and nineteen were boys.

Nearly three score strikers' homes have been desolated.

Despite Mr. Moyer's statements, the collection of funds for burial and for the relief of relatives of the dead is under way and proceeding rapidly. At a mass meeting the fund was increased generously.

Arrangements for a general funeral service to be held over the bodies of all the victims are in progress.

A new story of the alarm which brought about the panic was provided by Matt Saari, a striker, who identified his boy among the dead. Saari said that the cry of fire came from within the hall in a section occupied mostly by adults.

Many instances of heroic rescues are being told today. One boy, thirteen years old, carried a little companion down a ladder to safety. He started back for another boy, whom he had seen trampled upon, but firemen prevented him from again entering the hall.

A woman and her little daughter were among the first to be pushed down the stairs by the crowd. Both of them were killed. A son of this woman managed to fight his way out of the throng and was not injured.

109, SHE PRESIDES AT FEAST

London, Dec. 26.—Mrs. Rebecca Clarke, who is 109 years of age, presided at the wedding breakfast of her baby son, Harry, who is sixty-seven.

This is Mr. Clarke's second venture on the matrimonial sea. His two brothers are sprightly bachelors of seventy and seventy-three years. Mrs. Clarke toasted the newly married couple and ate the first slice of the wedding cake. She attended the Christmas wedding celebration in the evening.

"FATHER AND SON."

The "Father and Son" movement begun at Cleveland, Ohio, is spreading rapidly through the country and very properly so for it is a fine idea. Its purpose is for fathers and sons to begin the new year with a resolution to be more companionable. In the language of Cleveland's mayor, who has issued a proclamation urging the general adoption of the plan:

"If we can begin the new year with the resolve that our sons shall be more our companions and our fathers more our comrades it will add both to the sweetness of our private life and to the value of our citizenship."

Many mayors have promised to issue proclamations to the same effect and it will not be surprising to see the movement nation-wide in its scope.

A FINE RECORD.

The general good order prevailing in Plainfield is best illustrated by the fact that the morning after Christmas there was not a single case in police court and the same thing happened the day after Thanksgiving. Police Chief Kiely's request for the saloons to be closed early yesterday was respected and there was no disorder anywhere in the city. What city of anywhere near the size can make a boast like this?

Fanwood borough will lose a very capable official when Charles Sheelen's resignation as the recorder akes effect next month. He has held the office since it was created nine years ago. Mr. Sheelen has performed the duties of the office with credit alike to himself and the community.

Who says that United States Senator James E. Martine is not a wise man? Didn't he know enough not to come home to spend the holidays and be tormented to death by the fifty-seven varieties of Democrats who are aspirants for the postmastership?

One thing upon which the public may rest assured is that as President of the Common Council, Mr. Clay will make up his committees without any partiality and that their complexion will be satisfactory to his colleagues.

Commuters in Yonkers took advantage of the Christmas holiday to mow their lawns—news item.

That Winsted, Conn., correspondent will have to rack his brain to invent a story to beat that.

And now this country is threatened with a visit from James Larkin, the leader of the Irish Transport Workers. Isn't it high time that the Government keep out some of these undesirables?

It reflects no credit on the commissioners of Trenton to allow the white slave film to be exhibited for the entertainment of those of depraved tastes in that city.

As the contributing editor for tomorrow's issue, Samuel B. Howe, Jr., will discuss "Our New High School a Civic Centre for Social Activities."

The expressman and the postoffice employe head the list of those glad Christmas is past.

I., before her marriage, while her father was a prominent New York business man. Both have been dead many years. Miss Brown was a communicant of Grace church.

LeRoy J. Ellis, of this city, a distant relative, survives.

NEW MARKET BAPTISTS HOLD XMAS CELEBRATION

The rendition of the sacred cantata, "The Court of Christmas Trees," was the feature of the Christmas entertainment of the Sunday-school of the New Market Baptist church, held Wednesday night, in the lecture room of that edifice. Other numbers on the program consisted of vocal selections and recitations and the presentation of gifts to the pastor, Rev. T. E. Vassar, and officers of the school.

Those who took part in the cantata and their respective parts, follow: King Christmas, Rev. Mr. Vassar; Princess Holly, Miss Bertha Nelson; Princess Mistletoe, Miss Edith Giles; Paula, a peasant girl, Miss Hazel Piddington; guards, Rene F. von Minden and Fred von Minden; pages, Lewis Watts and Clifford Schenck; chorus, Misses Lillian Johnson, Hazel Piddington, Lydia Haight, Emily Piddington, Josephine Mitz, Blanche Pierson, Ruth Eder and Grace Coriell. A vocal duo was sung by the Misses Bertha Nelson and Edith Giles, and Miss Hazel Piddington recited a number entitled, "When Jesus Came." The opening selection was, "Under His Birthday Star," and six other selections followed.

Mrs. Isaac Line and Miss Cora Dayton composed the arrangement committee and Miss Edith Giles, assisted by John Nelson, was in charge of the musical program. Isaac Line and Rene von Minden comprised the committee on decorations and Mrs. B. DeWitt Giles attended to the arrangements for the costumes and other details.

TORREON RETAKEN AFTER FIERCE FIGHT

Strategic Point Again In Hands of Rebels.

Juarez, Mexico, Dec. 26.—Torreon, one of the important strategic points in northern Mexico, is again in the hands of the rebels. It was taken with heavy loss of life on both sides after three days of fighting. The fall of the city breaks up the federal program of blocking Villa's march south to Mexico City. Rebel bands are gathering about Zacatecas and Aguas Caliente, the two most importat points where the federals can make a stand against the southward movement of the rebel army.

Another piece of Christmas news which has cheered the rebels is that the federals are about to evacuate Guaymas, an important west coast port. The continued desertions from the federal garrison has forced General Ojeda, the federal commandant, to withdraw all his outposts. Lieutenant Colonel Pablo Pedressa and fifteen others are the latest to surrender to the Constitutionalists there.

A rebel reverse is reported from San Luis Potosi, where at Carritos 700 insurrectos were defeated by a federal column under Major Pedro Pena. Federal sympathizers also reported the defeat of a band of rebels under the leadership of a Porto Rican physician which attacked Tampolla, a small town near Tuxpan. The leader is reported killed, and two rebel regiments are said to have lost their colors.

Fifteen thousand men are said to have been engaged. It is reported that there was much hand to hand fighting instead of the long range operations which have marked the present revolution. The fall of the city not only opens the way south for Villa, but it cuts off General Rubio Navarette from joining any other federal force in the north.

SIX STITCHES IN HEART, LIVES

Surgeons Saw Man's Rib and Sew Up Wound.

New York, Dec. 26.—Vincenzo Lauro, thirty-five years old, of 340 Degraw street, Brooklyn, was hurried to the Holy Family hospital semiconscious from a stab wound in the left breast over the heart.

After an examination Dr. Raymond Sullivan, assisted by Dr. Edwin H. Fiske and Dr. Fred Dillenuth, decided that the left ventricle of the heart had been cut and the left lung punctured.

It was decided fo cut through the ribs overlying the heart and sew up the wound, which is a rare operation. On account of the weakened condition of the patient no anaesthetic was used, but cocaine was injected in the region of the heart.

After cutting one rib the doctors took six stitches in the wall of the heart. His condition is favorable.

BOMB FOR MOTHER AND CHILD

It Is Put Under Their Bed and Blows Off Their Legs.

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 26.—A dynamiter entered the home of Mrs. Sophronia Johnson, aged thirty-five, and placed a bomb under her bed.

The bomb exploded, blowing off the legs of Mrs. Johnson and her eleven-year-old daughter Ophelia. The house was wrecked.

Mrs. Johnson will not talk about the case. The police believe that the dynamiting was the work of a revengeful admirer.

Agonies of Gout.

An English nobleman in a London club one evening gave some of his fellow members a picturesque description of the gout.

"You lie in bed," he said, "with the gouty food stretched out, and you feel as though the sole of it was pressed against the bars of a redhot fire. In the middle of the furnace is a fellow with a gun loaded to the muzzle with redhot needles. Presently he fires the gun at your foot, and you feel the redhot needles travel up your leg and come out at the knee, not all at once, but like the animals that went into the ark, two by two. When the last couple of needles have finished the course you find yourself sweating with fear and wondering how long it will be before the fellow fires the gun again. Presently you find he is under contract to fire it every five minutes, and you get ready for the discharge, but you can never be said to get accustomed to it, because the blackguard loads it with a new kind of redhot needle every time and sometimes adds half a dozen redhot corkscrews. That's the gout."

Who would patronize gout after that?

The Spider and the Bee.

A correspondent of Countryside was sitting one day upon an English moor, watching a large heather spider as it crouched expectant in its web. Suddenly he saw the spider firmly grip the web with its feet and shake it with all its might. After awhile it repeated the operation, and soon the reason became apparent. Whenever a bee flew near the web the spider gave this warning signal. It did not want any such visitor. If a bee happened to get entangled in the web the spider at once cut out that part and so rid itself of its unwelcome guest. That any creature can weave a web more intricate than a fisherman's net and, moreover, that it should possess the instinct or reasoning power to put the web in the best place and there patiently await its prey suggests that the border line between instinct and reason is far from distinct.

PLANTS IN SLEEP.

Some Take Their Naps at Night, Others During the Day.

Clover shuts its leaves before rain and at night, bringing two of its three leaves face to face and folding the third over the top. The young blossoms are also carefully sheltered by inclosing leaves which move forward in the evening and wrap them around.

There are two plants in the garden whose flowers sleep by day—the night blooming stock and Lychnis vespertina. The former is withered and shriveled in daylight, but expands and exhales a vanilla-like odor at night. The lychnis is white and in bright sunshine every flower closes and hangs limply down.

As the sun sets this Endymion plant awakes expectant of the moon. The drooping calyxes raise themselves and slowly expand their flowers. It visibly ceases to droop and fade, and the plant, which almost died by day, is adorned anew. Its sister, the red lychnis, shines by day and is called diurna, but this white one has long left the beaten ancestral path and has become vespertina.

As it opens small flies appear and visit it. The calyx is of that reddish hue which they approve. The sun dew which attracts flies shows the same dull red in its leaves. It is not a rarity, but few have seen its blossoms opened.—Scotsman.

TEST YOUR BAROMETER.

Air or Moisture In the Tube Will Render It Unreliable.

Don't expect a barometer to tell you the truth about the weather until you have tested it thoroughly. Two common causes for unreliability are air and water mixed with the mercury in the tube. These can be expelled by boiling the mercury.

In order to test a barometer let it hang for a time in the proper position; then gently and with care incline it so that the mercury may strike against the glass tube. If there is no air within you will hear a sharp metallic click, but if the sound is dull and muffled it indicates the presence of both air and moisture. The presence of air alone is shown by minute bubbles.

If at any time the mercury seems to adhere to the tube, even in the slightest degree, and the convex surface assumes a more flattened form it is safe to conclude that either air or moisture is present. In any of these cases the instrument should be put into expert hands for rectification.

There are several kinds of barometers. The ordinary "weather glass" in common use is more or less unreliable and is easily made more so by careless handling. In fact, any barometer must be treated with great respect in order to retain its usefulness.—Harper's Weekly.

Leper In a Boarding House.

Boarders at a Malden (Mass.) house discovered recently that for three months a leper had been among them in Hyman Klein, twenty-five years old, who after treatment at the Boston City hospital for a skin disease found to be leprosy was placed in the detention hospital prior to being sent to the leper colony on Ponikese island. The boarding house was fumigated and its inmates examined. No one was found to have contracted the disease.

BRANCH WILL FAVORS COUCH

Widow Finds Document In Office Safe.

TO SUE FOR HIS PICTURE

Woman's Request Is Denied—Lifelong Friend of Couch Commits Suicide. Lawyer's Affinity Is Offered Several Vaudeville Engagements—She Is Still Hysterical.

Monticello, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Another mark of the devotion of Adelaide M. Brance to Melvin H. Couch, in whose office she lived for more than three years, has been found. It is a will made by Miss Branch bequeathing everything to Couch.

Not only did the woman seclude herself in a den constructed in the lawyer's inner office, do his typewriting, attend to his cooking, nurse him and comfort him, but she wanted to give him everything at her death. These facts were impressed today on Mrs. Couch, the widow, and her daughter Louise when they made another search of the office and finally opened a small safe in the consultation room.

It was also stated that the Brance woman will sue the widow of Couch for his photograph.

The fact that the woman contemplates a suit against the wife of the man whom she loved was made known when Sheriff Kinnie admitted that, acting on Miss Brance's behalf, he had requested Mrs. Couch to return to the woman a photograph of Couch which, according to Miss Brance, was taken for her alone and removed by Mrs. Couch without permission. The widow refused the request, and when told of this refusal Miss Brance declared that she would sue to recover the portrait and would remain here until she obtained it.

While the woman's grief and hysteria have undermined her strength so greatly that she is unable to leave her bed despite the fact that she is no longer a legal prisoner, it is believed today that she is improving and may be able to get out in a few days. It is understood that she owns two small mortgages and will leave the state as soon as she realizes on these securities and settles the difficulty concerning the photograph of Couch.

Vaudeville Offers.

H. O. Brance, her brother, is expected here from Hartwick, N. Y. It is understood that he is willing to give his sister any aid he can, but will not take her to his own home.

Several vaudeville agents have made offers to Miss Brance, all of which she has contemptuously turned aside. Mrs. John Hampton of Goshen, who knew Miss Brance years ago, has telephoned to the jail that she would be glad to give a home to her.

Stanley Smith, a lifelong friend of Couch, has committed suicide here with a pistol given to him by Couch. The weapon was the one used by Jack Allen in a murder years ago, for which he was executed. The case was Couch's most famous one.

Now that Couch is buried and his relations with the woman have come to light, there are many here who say that they knew of the strange woman hidden in his rooms. Mrs. Jacob M. Maybie, widow of a one time district attorney of Sullivan county, says that several prominent men in the city knew of the strange alliance and aided Couch in keeping his secret.

Mrs. Maybie says she watched Miss Brance and that she made complaint to several men, including a clergyman, who replied that "the Lord would right things." She said she also protested to Couch himself, who replied, "What business is it of yours, anyway?"

RECEIVER NOW ASKED FOR PHILLIPSBURG DAILY PRESS

Trenton, Dec. 26.—Alleging that the Phillipsburg Daily Press is hopelessly insolvent, James Ingham and Isaac Vannata, stockholders and creditors, have filed a bill in the Court of Chancery asking for the appointment of a receiver. It is alleged that the company has liabilities aggregating $46,551, and that its assets will not exceed $28,074.

Regarding the assets it is also set forth in the bill that $14,337 should be deducted from the amount given on account of the press, linotypes, steel furniture and type, purchased on conditional sales. The complainants also charge that the real estate, which is encumbered by mortgages amounting to $13,100, would not produce more than $6,000 at private sale. The company is without funds and has been operating at a loss.

The Phillipsburg Daily Press was incorporated in September, 1911, with an authorized capital stock of $100,000. Of this amount $10,460 was subscribed for, Mr. Ingham being the owner of sixty shares of a par value of $3,000 and Mr. Vannata of thirty-five shares of the par value of $1,750.

Mr. Ingham alleges that the company is indebted to him for money loaned to the extent of $20,332, and to Mr. Vannata for $1,500, represented by indorsements on notes. The company is without funds to pay these notes at their maturity, it is alleged. In January, 1912, the company issued bonds to the amount of $10,400, these being covered by a mortgage delivered to J. Walter Ingham, Thomas Newman and John I. Blair Reifley, trustees, chosen by the subscribers to the bond.

The paper has announced that it will discontinue publication after its issue of tomorrow.

MRS. FLORENCE GREEN.

The funeral of Mrs. Florence Green, aged 25 years, colored, of 532 West Third street, who died at Bonnie Burn Sanitorium, Wednesday night, will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, Rev. W. H. Hicks, the pastor, officiating. Mrs. Green was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Webster, and she is survived by two children, a mother, Mrs. Mary Pearson, and a sister, Miss Pearl Webster.

SURPRISE STORE CLOSED.

The Plainfield Surprise Store, on West Front street, of which Louis Steigman was the proprietor, is closed and a petition in bankruptcy has been filed with Atwood DeCosta, referee, in bankruptcy proceedings.

KILLED BY HIS OWN CAR.

Motorman Run Over When It Jumps Track and Wrecks Saloon.

New York, Dec. 26.—A Bay Ridge avenue trolley car jumped the track at Sixty-ninth street and Thirteenth avenue, and the motorman, Henry Fricke, fifty-nine, of 356 Fifty-eighth street, Brooklyn, was thrown from the platform. The car ran over the curb and smashed into the window of a saloon, the rear wheels passing over Fricke's body and killing him instantly.

No one in the car was hurt, although all were badly shaken. A dozen tipplers in the saloon witnessed the car's entrance with astonishment.

"Siamese" Girl Twins In Paris to Be Separated by Operation.

Paris, Dec. 26.—"Siamese" twin girls a month old, who are joined face to face, have been brought to Paris to be separated by a surgical operation.

A radiograph examination suggests that the twins have no vital organs in common. They are so vigorous that they have been clothed in woolen vests inside which their arms are imprisoned to prevent possible injury to one or the other by their movements.

FLEMINGTON HOTEL OWNER GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Flemington, Dec. 26.—The jury in the case of George E. Reitze, who was placed on trial before Judge Paul A. Queen here, on a charge of manslaughter, for causing the death March 1 of Thomas R. Welsh, rendered a verdict of guilty, after being out about two hours.

Welsh was injured in a fall February 7 at Reitze's hotel in Whitehouse. Welsh had been drinking at the hotel, and while endeavoring to climb into his wagon he lost his footing and fell. In falling his head struck one of the supports of the shed. He was placed in an unheated room attached to the sheds, and later removed to his home, about two miles from Whitehouse. His body from the waist line downward was paralyzed. His arms were also partially paralyzed. He remained in a semi-conscious condition until he died.

Reitze admitted selling Welsh one drink, and testified that he could not tell from Welsh' talk or walk that he was intoxicated. Reitze said he did not give instructions to place Welsh in the unheated room attached to the sheds. He was not in court when the verdict was announced. Prosecutor Richard S. Kuhl said he would move for sentence next Monday.

ENGINE BLOWS UP; TWO DIE, FIVE HURT

Locomotive Was Barely Moving at the Time.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Two men were killed and six injured when the boiler of a Wabash railroad locomotive, running light, blew up on the Erie railroad tracks a quarter of a mile east of Main street, near the northern city line.

The dead:

John Thorpe, fireman, Fort Erie, Ont.

Gustave Spang, night watchman, Buffalo Crushed Stone company.

The injured:

Joseph Curran, engine driver, St. Thomas, Ont.; shoulder dislocated, cut and bruised.

Adam Schultz, switch tender; burned, cut and bruised.

Fred Clark, St. Thomas, brakeman; fractured ankle, cut about face and shoulders.

William Bartel, Buffalo; slightly cut by flying debris.

William Cameron, brakeman, Windsor, Ont.

J. B. Savage, Windsor, Ont.; both feet crushed.

The engine came here with a full train crew from Niagara Falls today to pick up a westbound immigrant train. At the Main street crossing Schultz, a switchtender, signaled the engine driver to stop so that he could get a ride to his home in East Buffalo.

The engine was barely moving when the explosion occurred. Spang was about to step on the fender. He was struck by the crown shield and carried 150 feet. Thorpe was standing on the tender. The force of the explosion tilted the rear of the engine upward, and when it came down Thorpe, who had fallen between the engine and tender, was crushed to death.

Bartel had boarded the engine a few minutes before the accident.

STRAY SHOT KILLS CHILD.

Girl Playing With Doll Is Struck by Bullet.

New York, Dec. 26.—Shot while playing with a Christmas doll, six-year-old Frances Penni, daughter of Frank Penni, a contractor, living at 30 Sherlock street, Brooklyn, died in an ambulance taking her to St. Mary's hospital. A revolver bullet of heavy caliber, evidently fired by some careless person who was testing a Christmas present, lodged over the little girl's heart. Her slayer was not discovered.

As the child was seated at an open window at the rear of her parents' home when struck, it was believed that the shot came from one of a row of houses on the next street. Mrs. Penni heard a shot and a heavy fall. She called to her daughter, her only child, and, receiving no response, she ran to the place where she had left the little one playing with her presents.

GLYNN HAS QUIET CHRISTMAS

Has Dinner at Executive Mansion and Then Visits Friends.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Governor Glynn spent a quiet Christmas. He ate his first Christmas dinner at the executive mansion with Mrs. Glynn and a few family friends. Toward evening he motored to Valatie, where his brother resides, and spent a few hours meeting the acquaintances of his early youth. The governor's younger days were spent at Valatie, and he has a speaking acquaintance with almost every one in the place.

At the executive mansion it was reported that Governor Glynn has not yet heard anything other than that James W. Osborne will continue his investigations of alleged graft.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 44.

MERCHANTS there are who look upon advertising as an "expense." It seems to me it shouldn't be called that. It is really an investment—an investment that yields returns proportionate to the amount of energy and brains put into it.

Some of the "big fellows" today in the world of advertising started by using the CLASSIFIED columns in the right kind of newspapers. They didn't say, "Oh, no; I can't afford to advertise." No, sir; they just sailed in and advertised in the best way they could afford. You don't have to start big in order to be big.

The CLASSIFIED columns of a newspaper are mighty interesting. Newspaer readers read the news columns because the affairs of other people interest them. They read the advertising columns because they are interested in their own affairs. And in the CLASSIFIED—or WANT ADS., as they are popularly called, there are told each y little stories of domestic, social or business needs and opportunities that cover a very wide range.

You should be represented in the CLASSIFIED, Mr. Merchant. You will find the small cost of such advertising a profitable investment. Your business will be brought to the attention of thousands in those columns.

And attention—the attention of the great buying public—is the first step on the road to increased business.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backachy or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Adv.

MAKES POOR BOY HAPPY, THEN DIES

Paterson Man Expires In Snow In Colorado.

DEFIED DOCTOR'S ORDERS

Son of Well Known Real Estate Holder Was Suffering With Tuberculosis. Played Santa Claus For Poverty Stricken Lad and Mother—Leaves Presents, Then Succumbs.

Paterson, N. J., Dec. 26.—Word was received here of the death at Denver, Colo., of W. H. Heap of this city, who expired while playing Santa Claus to a poverty stricken boy.

Moved by the pathetic story of little Wilbur Harris, eight years old, who lives with his widowed mother in a tiny cottage at Denver, Mr. Heap, who has been suffering from tuberculosis, went in an automobile against the wishes of his physician to play Santa Claus for the widow and child. He brought to the cottage many toys and presents and a few moments later collapsed, dying in the snow. His body is on its way east for burial.

However, the child, happy with his many gifts from Santa Claus, is unaware of the tragedy which followed. While in Denver Mr. Heap joined an organization known as the Good Fellows. One of the members told him the story of little Wilbur, explaining that the widow was destitute and had told Wilbur not to expect Santa Claus this year, that he was busy with wealthy boys and could not bother with poor ones. The child's keen disappointment moved Mr. Heap, and he decided to play Santa Claus for him.

Just as he left the house after delivering the presents Mr. Heap fell in the snow and died a little while later. He had gone to the house in opposition to the advice of his physician, and the strain and exertion proved fatal.

Mr. Heap, who was twenty-six years old, was a son of William H. Heap, a well known holder of real estate in this city. He went to Denver about three years ago with the hope of regaining his health. He married in the west, and his wife survives him. He was well known for his innumerable acts of kindness and charity while here.

STOPS BURGLAR WITH LAMP.

He Catches Fire and Puts Flame Out at Water Barrel.

Belvidere, N. J., Dec. 26.—Mrs. Lewis Fisher of Greenwich street gave a burglar a reception which he did not expect. She was alone when she heard noises on the first floor. Slipping out of bed and, with lighted lamp in hand, she stole down the back stairs of her home.

Shading the rays of the lamp with her nightdress, the woman saw a head entering the dining room window. She hurled the lamp and struck the intruder full in the face.

The burglar fell backward with a yell. Running to the window, Mrs. Fisher saw that the man's clothes were afire. He ran to a barrel under a pump in the yard and threw water on himself, putting out the flames.

BLIND SANTA STRICKEN.

Peddler Falls to the Street While Bearing Gifts to Children.

Harrison, N. J., Dec. 26.—Boys who had received presents of candy and toys on previous Christmas days from William Delt, a blind peddler, went to his stand at the foot of the stairs of the Lackawanna station here to wish him a merry Christmas. Delt was not there, and when some of the boys went to his house they found that he had suffered a paralytic stroke.

The blind man, who weighed 250 pounds, fell to the street while he was crossing the car tracks in front of his home on Railroad avenue as he started out with the stock of Christmas gifts for the children. He was carried inside by the street car crew, and a physician who was summoned said that there was little chance for his recovery.

POSTMISTRESS CAN'T BE BEAT

Hungriest Democrat Won't Ask Wilson to Name Another.

Linden, N. J., Dec. 26.—Congressman William E. Tuttle, an ardent Democrat, has recommended to President Wilson the appointment of Miss Sadie Wood as postmistress of Linden.

The young woman was appointed to the place by President Taft four years ago, having during the preceding four years served as assistant to Postmaster H. W. Gefner.

She has done so well that not even the hungriest Democrat in Union county thought of asking Congressman Tuttle to recommend any one else.

DENIES HE STOLE A HOUSE.

Paterson Man Charged With Taking Everything but Floor.

Paterson, N. J., Dec. 26. — Charles Schneider of West Paterson was arraigned before Judge Abram Kienert charged with stealing a house. He pleaded not guilty.

The house was owned by John Casale. It was unoccupied and disappeared on Aug. 14. Only the floor was left.

PRESIDENT SOJOURNS AT "WINTER CAPITAL"

Is Cordially Received at Pass Christian, Miss.

Pass Christian, Miss., Dec. 26.—President Wilson's Christmas day was spent here in the restful quiet of a spacious cottage fronting the waters of the gulf of Mexico. The president and his family occupied themselves getting settled in the house which is to be their abode for the next three weeks.

Mayor Saucier welcomed President Wilson to his "winter capital."

"I see you have had a storm here," said the president, looking at the wet ground.

"Yes, that's true," replied the mayor, "but it was merely to get things nicely washed up for your arrival."

The president laughed. He was assured by the mayor that care had been taken to insure for the president complete quiet and isolation during his vacation here. The president expressed his gratitude and introduced Mayor Saucier to the members of his party.

As the president left the special train for the waiting White House automobile shipped here in advance, there was a hearty cheer from a group of villagers who had waited in the chill since dawn to greet the distinguished visitor.

"Merry Christmas, Mr. President!" they shouted, and, doffing his hat, the president smilingly said, "Thank you. I wish you the same."

The day was cold and gray and the damp air penetrating. The party was warmly dressed for the short motor ride, President Wilson wearing a heavy gray sweater. At the Herndon cottage the party was welcomed by Mrs. Herndon and her daughter, Miss Alice Herndon.

BEACHEY'S FIVE LOOP RECORD

Also Outdoes Pegoud by Double Loop in Aeroplane Near Ground.

San Francisco, Dec. 26.—Lincoln Beachey broke a world's record, looping the loop five consecutive times in an aeroplane from a height of 750 feet and landing in a narrow street on the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds.

Beachey turned a double loop at a height of 300 feet, which he says is a record in itself, as Pegoud, the originator of this particular freak of aviation, always has performed from a great height.

SEVEN FIREMEN OVERCOME.

Six Story Building In Lynn, Mass., Destroyed, With $150,000 Loss.

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 26.—A loss of $150,000 was caused by the burning of a six story brick building in Union street owned by the Blake estate. The cause of the fire is not known. Seven firemen were overcome by smoke, but were not seriously injured.

The lower floors were occupied by stores and a restaurant, and the two upper floors were used by a department of A. E. Little & Co., shoe manufacturers.

CLOSE CALL FOR ALUMNI HUSKIES

Plainfield High School Undergraduates Force Heavy Opponents to the Limit.

PLENTY OF SHOOTING

Both Teams Engage in Basket Ringing Sessions and Individuals Pile Up Big Strings of the Two Point Variety—Hetfield Led P. H. S.

A team of Plainfield High School basketball players, with a generous sprinkling of substitutes sprang a big surprise in the Alumni camp yesterday afternoon and made the old grads ring up a half century score in order to come out victorious. The little P. H. S. team forced things against their heavy opponents and succeeded in ringing up a count of 40 against the Alumni team's 51 during the two periods of play.

Both teams had their specialists in the scoring line and these honors were captured by Good, Ricketts and Hetfield, the latter bearing the bulk of the undergraduate team's work throughout the contest. The Alumni appeared a big favorite before the issue was sent under way but the Plainfield High School boys soon got their eyes focused on the iron ring and the game resolved itself into a scoring battle, the old timers always leading the way with the schoolboys tagging close at their heels.

NOVICE HUNTSMAN TAKES PLUNGE INTO BROOK

The weather was no drawback to the Watchung Hunt Club riders, yesterday, but owing to the condition of the country over which the Christmas Day run of the club was laid, the hounds were at the kennels instead of at the Fanwood railroad station, as planned. There were twenty-four riders out for a good day's sport. Even though some of the country traversed was deep in water and heavy in mud it did not seem to discourage the huntsmen. There were but two falls, one of which was in a brook, the victim, a novice being completely submerged, but he pluckily remounted, though he did not finish.

The hounds were cast in on the Donnybrook farm and led the riders to Sampton, where they were checked. Thrown in again on the Valley farm, they set a fast pace toward New Brunswick, a check being made on the Hamilton farm. Here they were again taken up for the final line taking the riders across numerous farms toward Mt. Pleasant, the finish, a distance of eighteen miles.

Those in the field were R. C. Finch, M. F. H., L. B. Smith, H. A. Bourne, Miss Marjorie Dana, S. D. French, H. L. Finch, R. H. Towner, Edward R. Finch, Col. C. E. S. Bellows, Beverley Brown, W. P. Smith, Jr., Mayor Harry Evans, of Westfield, Arthur Fox and Huntsman Harrison.

Queries, Comment and Answers

Sporting Editor:

Query—Please settle this dispute: Hands on a watch are at 10 seconds past 10 minutes to 11 p. m. Asked to give the correct time. A bets that 10 minutes and 10 seconds to eleven p. m. is correct. B bets that 9 minutes and 50 seconds to 11 p. m. is correct. Which is right?—N. C. I.

Answer—The correct time would be ten hours, fifty minutes and ten seconds.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Please let me know if the workingmen's compensation laws would apply in my case. I lost a limb 27 years ago while employed on a railroad in this section. Who would I have to see in regard to the same?—C. L.

Answer—Better see a lawyer.

Sporting Editor:

Query—When and where was George Washington born and where was he buried?—P. L. B.

Answer—Born in Westmoreland county, Virginia, February 2, 1732. He was buried at Mt. Vernon, December 14, 1799.

Sporting Editor:

Query—What is a dry battery composed of?—J. Y. O.

Answer—A dry battery is made of a zinc cell, which acts as one of the poles, and a carbon centerpiece, which forms the opposite pole. The intervening space is filled up with absorbent material, such as mineral wool, and the active material, amonium chloride, is soaked into the absorbent.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Please tell me which has the right of way, a horse and wagon going to a fire or an ambulance?—V. S. T.

Answer—If they are going in opposite directions it is the business of each to "keep to the right," thus avoiding all possibility of a collision. If going in the same direction the ambulance will let the rushing horse pass it. It will not race past it.

"MAC" SAYS

POOR OLD JOE.

Gone are the days when his heart was young and gay,
Gone are the days when it thrilled
his heart to play,
Gone is the joy from the court game
I know,
For he is now condemned to treat—
Poor Old Joe.

Gavett made a wager with his teammates early in the season offering to act as host the first time a rival centre outscored him. It is impossible to convince poor old Joe that Doig really did the trick up brown.

An annual Christmas present. Do you recollect that the Y. M. C. A. lost its first game of the season under practically the same conditions one year ago yesterday?

Victory is sweet—especially when you have a game on your own court to look forward to. Many are of the opinion that Hope Chapel will cinch the championship in the next contest, which will be played in the Chapel.

While 'tis said there is nothing in a name, those Heron boys are certainly a pair of birds. In them Hope Chapel has a duo of winners.

Our assertion that the basket on the western end of the Y. M. C. A. court is a jinx, was proven only too strongly yesterday afternoon. Hope, Plainfield High School, Y. M. C. A. and Alumni all rang up their smallest tally card in that territory. In the first half the Y. M. C. A. team scored but eight points in the "lop-sided" basket and in the second half Hope Chapel did even worse—six points was their total.

News from Amboy—The Dexter football club is disposing of photographs of the State champions for the season of 1913. What's in a picture? The Dexter team is in this one.

New Brunswick basketball writers evidently have a poor idea of the quality of court teams Plainfield sports. Says a Brunswick scribe when commenting on an article in one of the local papers which lauds the work of the Crescent A. C., the team that defeated Hope Chapel last week: "In view of the fact that the Crescents have not won a game in the league, Plainfield must admit Middlesex county has some good teams." Manager Leighs, of Hope Chapel, admits it.

What that light and crippled Plainfield High School team did to the Alumni yesterday afternoon was a shame. A half dozen more field goals and the students would have sent their rivals down to disgrace.

The Y. M. C. A. and Hope Chapel basketball teams have a perfect right to hurl challenges at the Leal quintet but if they are not careful the private school team may accept. Dickerson is seriously thinking of pitting his youngsters against the title winner. Go to it, Dick.

—Some store may be placing on "special sale" just now the article you have not felt like paying "regular" prices for.

CHAPELITES WON DOUBLE PROGRAM

Defeat Y. M. C. A. in Afternoon and Come to the Rescue When Seconds Fail.

ADVANTAGE REVERSED

Second String Players Were Given a Drubbing in First Period and the Regulars Came to the Fore in the Last Half With a Victory.

After winning the first game in the City Championship race in the afternoon on the Y. M. C. A. court, the Hope Chapel five returned to its own court last night and trimmed the First Presbyterian Church team, of Newark, by a count of 27 to 25. Owing to the fatigued condition of the first team after the hard game of the afternoon the second string players were sent in to start the battle and the Newarkers ran away with them in the first half. So wide was the margin that Captain Doig called his first team men into action and an entirely new team took the floor in the final period.

When the first string men took the game in hand the gap was closed up and by some up-hill work the Chapelites managed to nose their opponents out by one point.

The contest was rough and fiercely fought from start to finish and when the first team went into the fray the Newarkers started to rough things up considerably. Doig was the leading scorer for the winners, getting four field goals and duplicating his foul shooting stunt of the afternoon by annexing another nine one point counters.

N. P. H. S. GIRLS' GAME.

Captain Elsie Debele and her quintet of feminine stars representing the Borough High School went to Bernardsville this afternoon via the one-horse stage route, where they are scheduled to lineup against the girls' team representing the High School of that place.

SUMMIT FIVE WILL APPEAR AT Y. M. C. A.

Local Quintet Will Have Its Work Cut Out for it Again Tomorrow Night.

The Summit Chapel Club basketball team, an aggregation that has been unusually successful in its dealings with local teams on former occasions, will appear on the local Y. M. C. A. court tomorrow night in the regular week-end contest with the Plainfield Association quintet. The Summit five was defeated three weeks ago by the strong Scotch Plains Parish House crew and will probably make the Y. M. C. A. five hustle to win.

The local team has been playing inferior basketball during the last couple of games and will try to reverse its form tomorrow night at the expense of Summit.

The teams will lineup as follows:

SUMMIT.	Y. M. C. A.
Reavy, Leslie	McNamee
Forward.
Gilchrist	Moulton
Forward.
Butterworth	Gavett

OAKS ARE TOO SOLID FOR NONPAREIL CLUB

Colored Basketeers Show Much Aggressiveness in Court Fight.

Excellent teamwork went for naught Wednesday night when the Nonpareil Social Club's basketball team lined up against the Oak Juniors in Saengerbund Hall and the Oaks won by a margin of three points, the final score being 17 to 14. Time and again the Nonpareils passed the ball up and down the floor on sharp, quick and accurate exchanges but the weakness in the shooting department was prominent and all of the good teamwork counted for nothing in the scoring line.

The contest was one between evenly matched teams and the issue was close throughout, the Oaks always appearing in the role of pace setters. Although the Nonpareil outfit had little or no practice before the contest all of the participants did remarkable well and with a little polishing up ought to be able to press the Oak quintet even harder.

SPECTACULAR TEAM PLAY WON FIRST GAME FOR HOPE CHAPEL

Playing in Rival's Court in First Game for the City Championship the Churchboys Rushed Association Players Completely Off Their Feet with Better All-around Basketball.

Caging the ball with rare accuracy, passing superbly and putting up a better all around game than their opponents, who had been touted as favorites in the initial game of the three contest series arranged to decide the basketball championship of the city, the Hope Chapel quintet yesterday hung up a 29 to 20 verdict at the expense of their Y. M. C. A. rivals on the latter's home court and thereby annexed the first leg on the title question. The issue was fiercely contested from start to finish, the Hope players setting the pace in the first half and the Association five leading the way in the second frame of the contest, which was witnessed by another record mob of those who follow the court sport.

Getting under full steam at the first crack of the pistol, the Chapelites rang up fourteen points before the home team had caged the ball a single time from the field of play and this big lead did valiant service in the latter part of the fracas when the Y. M. C. A. team took on new life and for a time assumed a dangerous stand against their fast traveling opponents. When the initial period of play ended the Chapelites cherished an advantage of 23 to 8, and although many were of the optimistic frame of mind regarding the Y. M. C. A. aggregation's chances of defeating the Hope five, few ventured a prediction in favor of the home warriors. A team that had come on the floor handicapped by weight and a conceded loser had fought one of the greatest basketball games ever waged between these two bitter rivals and had outgeneraled and outplayed their heavy opponents in every department of the game.

The "hard luck jinx" that hovered about the Y. M. C. A. goal in the first half traveled via the intermission route to the eastern basket in the second half and was right on the job again when the Y. M. C. A. players heaved the leather spheriod toward the ring. Time and again Captain Brynairski and his pair of forwards tossed the ball into the ring cover to have it do the merry-go-around and pop out again. Moulton made the jinx his companion at all times during the game and time and again he sent the ball to the basket only to have it jump out. Brynairski also [illegible] a number of long distance shots which, under ordinary conditions would have went for two point scores, but on this occasion refused to enter the net.

For the winners, the Heron brothers were conspicuous leaders and it was to their goal shooting prowess that the Chapelties came through on top. Both of the lithe little youngsters were credited with many long distance throws and their shooting was little short of phenomenal.

Despite the fact that the championship was at stake, the game was an unusually clean one, neither team being checked for intentional rough play and the work of the officials, Messrs Rimmer and Lidgate, added greatly to the all around success of the initial combat. Many fouls were called on both sides but Hope Chapel through Captain Doig, was able to make the penalty throws count, while the Y. M. C. A. shooters missed many of the free throws.

FITZ IS BURNING UP OUR PAVEMENT

Lanky Bob Preparing for His Return to the Roped Arena on January 9.

Rain or shine, every morning between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock "Ruby Bob" Fitzsimmons steams through the business section of Plainfield on his daily jog in preparation for his heralded return to the roped arena. The big fellow is real serious in his work and the former peer of the two divisions at one and the same time, the middleweights and the heavyweights, will start on his white hope house-cleaning January 9.

"Lanky Robert" will re-enter the squared circle on the afore mentioned date in the Atlantic A. C. His opponent in the first killing has not as yet been selected but the management is responsible for the statement that it will be a worthy "trial horse" that will oppose the veteran in the first battle. The State Boxing Commission, which supervises the fight game in New York, has taken the matter in hand and one of its representatives is expected to appear on the Dunellen farm today or tomorrow to ascertain whether or not the freckled puncher is in condition to bear the physical strain of a ring

Clad in a mountaineer's attire, the brawny specimen of American manhood hits the brick pavement of Front street on a snappy dog trot and with corks between his big mitt holders he calls a halt in holiday window gazing and is the object of the eyes of hundreds of those who happen to be on the avenue at that time.

PARISH HOUSE FIVE BEATEN BY A POINT

North Plainfield Youngsters Rally in Second Half and Defeat Seconds.

In a rattling good game of basketball the Scotch Plains Parish House Seconds were defeated by a five representing the S. B. H. C., of North Plainfield, on the home court Wednesday night by a score of 30 to 29. In the first half the Parish House boys had the better of the argument by one point, but in the second half the visitors started off with a field goal and the two teams shot goal for goal till time was called favoring the visitors.

Conroy was the shining light for the S. B. H. C. with fourteen points to his credit. Fred Saunders upheld the Parish House colors with the same number.

SOMERVILLE FAILED TO APPEAR

Although members of the North Plainfield High School basketball team and a number of rooters went to Saengerbund Hall, Wednesday afternoon, to witness the first of the contests to be played for the Somerset county title with Somerville, they were doomed to disappointment for the Somervillians failed to put in an appearance. A rumor is current today that the Somerville team has broken up and this is assigned as their reason for not showing up, although the manager of the rival team failed to notify Manager VanMater, of North Plainfield.

BOUND BROOK VS. N. P. H. S.

Bound Brook High School will appear on the Saengerbund Hall court tomorrow afternoon in a game with the N. P. H. S. boys' quintet. As Somerville High has practically withdrawn from the tri-cornered battle for the High School basketball championship of Somerset county, the fight appears to be one between North Plainfield and Bound Brook, and things will probably fly tomorrow afternoon.

WILL TRY TO EVEN UP.

The Pastime A. C. of the borough will go to Scotch Plains tonight and endeavor to wipe out their previous defeat at the hands of the Scotch Plains Parish House Juniors. The probable lineup of the Canadian team will be: Dawe and Captain LaPorte, forwards; Seidel, center; and Debele and W. Seidel, guards.

ENTERTAIN BARON AND WIFE.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, of Rockview avenue, the borough, gave a dinner party at their home Christmas eve and among the guests were former Mayor and Mrs. Benjamin A. Hegeman, now of New York, and Baron and Mrs. Podmaniczky. Mrs. Podmaniczky was prior to her marriage two years ago Miss Virginia Hegeman. The baron and his wife will soon return to Europe, where they will make their home at Frankfort.

USHERED IN XMAS.

At the midnight hour on Wednesday night Christmas was welcomed by the North Plainfield firemen by the ringing of the fire alarm. The noise was also the signal for the beginning of a social time arranged by the fire laddies to celebrate the holiday. They had many guests and enjoyed a dinner at the close of an entertainment.

FAMILY RE-UNION.

Among the family re-unions yesterday was one at the home of Captain and Mrs. Christian Frederickson, on Leland avenue. Their son, Charles Frederickson and wife, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and Andrew Frederickson and family, of Albany, N. Y., came home for the festivities.

MUNICIPAL ORCHESTRA ELECTS.

The Plainfield Municipal Orchestra has elected these officers for the coming year: President, Herbert Harold; secretary, O. T. King; librarian, C. D. Gooch; assistant librarian, L. T. Matlack.

$100,000 (at Wholesale) of New, Selected Fur Coats and Fur Sets

From Ten of the Foremost Furriers in New York---the Fur Market of America

Offered, Beginning Tomorrow, Saturday, Because of Extraordinary Winter Conditions

"About Now" If Benjamin Franklin

were in his old Printing Office down Market Street, Philadelphia, writing a new page of his Square Almanac (Price 6d) to fit these days, this is what he would be saying;—

DAY AFTER CHRISTMAS—look for Master Common-Sense to come around and set right all the clocks of business, so that all the inhabitants of New York and Philadelphia and Chicago may get to work in harmony again.

There was a Check

A station clock needs to be only a minute wrong to make thousands of people miss their trains, and if the pendulum of the clock of business loses a single beat, it starts a halting and trembling, and worriment from one end of the country to the other.

There was some such little worry started in Manhattan as long ago as Thanksgiving. Some business brains that were usually as regular as Chronometers began to lose minutes. People got to thinking about hard times and so we got to losing time. Men and firms, usually very reliable, began to do unusual things, and a halt, and wait, and worry in business.

Old-time conservative firms stopped buying new stocks and began almost frantically to advertise special sales—firms even that scarcely never used the newspapers to advertise.

Manufacturers saw their winter stocks piling high and joined in the worrying.

And all the time people went on about their "Christmas Merrying" and let business worry itself along.

The Result is that now there is a congestion of merchandise.

Millions of dollars are tied up in winter clothing that people have not found it necessary to buy.

Most manufacturers and a great many stores are heavily overstocked with these winter goods.

The over-stocked manufacturers and wholesalers are bound to lose money, if the owners hold the surplus goods over to the next winter.

Let all get started to work

It is conceded that the Wanamaker stores furnish one of the greatest outlets to keep the stream moving.

It is necessary at this moment that manufacturers and merchants put up their shoulders against the wheel of business and drive without stopping.

Whatever Others Do,

We are not going to be croakers and gloomifiers.

We begin to begin again at once—this day and every day.

Our huge stores are active clearing houses for merchandise that overstocks may not clog the manufacturers' warerooms.

We stand ready, at this particular time, to take over and market without profit, if necessary, all merchandise that is up to our standard.

We will take the overstocks on hand of manufacturers and jobbers, no matter how large, so far as they come up to the Wanamaker standards of quality.

This means a fine opportunity for the people.

Not the least thing it does—it gives the mill people and ourselves employment, when some manufacturers need money.

It means, too, in some instances, that one dollar will buy as much as two did some months ago.

It means that business is to be quickened, and that stagnation of merchandise on makers' or wholesalers' hands will be stopped.

It means, also, if all the merchants, manufacturers and newspapers pull together, that business will quickly go forward prosperously and clear the business skies.

"Ready, aye Ready!"

Dec. 26, 1913.

John Wanamaker

Five thousand new fur coats and sets will be ready tomorrow, Saturday. None has been shown before. None is from our regular stocks.

All have been made this season.

Styles are new. The furs are those now in vogue.

Majority are priced fully half less than usual.

All are less than the maker's wholesale costs only two and three weeks ago.

Most of the 1,800 furriers in New York have big fur stocks—it would hardly be otherwise when we have April weather in December.

But these are selected from the best—we were sorry to refuse to take in other large lots offered, but we cannot offer anything not up to the Wanamaker standard.

We guarantee these furs as we guarantee our regular stock.

Every fur is a selected fur. All moles are in perfect condition, good dye. Natural raccoon are natural—not dyed. Ermine and white fox are perfect in whiteness. All skunks have desirable depth of fur. All muffs and scarfs are correct in shape and mountings.

Every coat is composed of entire skins. None is made of plate skins. The dyes are the best American and foreign. Every coat is 1913 model. The trimming combinations are the season's most desirable.

Flowers In the House.

We cannot all of us afford to have fresh cut flowers in the house every day or so. But we can all of us afford to have some fresh, growing plant in the house and we can all of us well afford to learn to care for cut flowers when we do have them.

To begin with, when you buy cut flowers, buy them of a reputable florist, one who will give you freshly picked flowers. When you get them put them in a vase full of fresh water after you have cut each stem off a quarter of an inch—just enough to reach a fresh part of the stem. Only put a few flowers in each vase—not enough to crowd each other. Change the water each day and clip the stems when ever you change the water. If the room where the flowers are standing is warm at night, remove the flowers to a cooler place. Treated in this way, cut flowers, provided they are fresh when they are bought, ought to keep for five or six days.

Growing Plants.

Growing plants give almost as much satisfaction as cut flowers, and are certainly much less expensive than even a few cut flowers once a week.

Geraniums are the most easily grown of flowers, excepting perhaps, primroses. Both of these plants, if they are given plenty of sunshine, a regular daily drink of water and good soil to begin with, will stand a long winter well. Most flowering plants are so susceptible to the ever-changing temperatures of most of our living rooms that they need the utmost care of they are kept alive.

Ivy and Ferns.

Ivy can be grown in the house by anyone. It does not even need sun. Of course, it needs a certain amount of air, and regular drinks of water. Given these, it thrives.

Ferns, too, can be successfully grown by almost every woman who has a love for growing things. Usually the women who have no luck with flowers and plants are those who do not care enough for them to take trouble with them. Ferns, of course, must be regularly watered and although they should not be put in the sun they should stand where they get plenty of fresh air.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

Ratine is one of the most attractive materials for these plain little frocks that are so much favored just now for general wear. It is warm, clings gracefully to the figure and is decorative enough in itself to require very little trimming.

No. 8023 has a drop-shoulder, a full length sleeve and a six gored skirt. It would be very pleasing made up in a dull blue ratine or serge with collar and cuffs of a softly colored silk ratine or brocade.

There are many ways of adjusting these flat square collars. The following I have found most practical: The collar is usually made double or is lined with a thin silk if the material is too heavy to use double. I make the collar, join the seams (leaving it open at the top), turn and press flat. I then baste the two upper edges together, taking care to see that the under side does not bulge, and run a double line of machine stitching as close to the edge as possible. After this has been done the collar is adjusted to the neck of the waist, and a bias band of the material or silk is joined with the seam, along the upper side. The seam may now be pressed flat and the strip of silk turned in and felled to the inside of the neck. This forms a neat finish, and there is no danger of the pulling and stretching which so often happens.

This dress may be made in size 36 with 4¾ yards of 36 inch material.

There are 8 sizes in the pattern, 34 to 48.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to state right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Bachelor's Button Design for An Individual Breakfast Set.

This individual breakfast set may be made of round-thread linen and embroidered in white or in one or two shades of blue and green.

This conventional bachelors' button design should be developed in heavily padded solid work, and the parellel lines within the circle, in outline or cable-stitch. The edge should be worked in buttonhole-stitch in white. Fast colored mercerized cotton should be used instead of silk, on all washable materials as it launders much better.

Pattern number 14375 contains a centerpiece 22 inches in diameter, one plate doily, 12 inches in diameter, and one bread and butter plate doily, 6 inches in diameter.

If a less elaborate design is desired, the single flowers between each group may be omitted, although the design is very simple as it is.

This pattern will be supplied to readers of the Daily Press for 15 cents.

Some Cookery Suggestions

HOW TO COOK LIVER.

LUNCHEON MENU
Baked Sweet Potatoes.
Liver en Casserole.
Toasted Biscuit.
Canned Fruit.
Tea

Liver makes a savory dish for breakfast or luncheon. Cooked in some ways it may be even served for dinner. As liver is cheap, it is an excellent plan to use it now and then to cut down the butcher's bill.

Liver and Pork.—Take sheep's liver and dredge thin slices of it with flour, pepper and salt and fry in bacon fat. Arrange on a platter on slices of toasted bread.

Liver and Salt Pork.—An economical dish is to dredge liver with flour, pin squares cut from thin slices of salt fat pork over it, put in a pan in a hot oven and cook a nice brown. Place on a heated dish, rub a little flour in the brown glaze in the pan. Then add a little water. Let it boil up, stirring to loosen the glaze and pour over the liver and serve.

A Good Dinner Dish.

Braised Liver.—Take a medium sized liver. Scald and remove as much of the skin as possible. Fasten thin slices of salt pork or bacon over the rounded side, using small wooden skewers to hold them in place. Fry one sliced onion and put it with the liver into a deep granite pan. Cover with boiling water, add one-half teaspoonful of salt, pepper to taste, four whole cloves and a teaspoonful of thyme or marjoram. Place the pan in a moderate oven, cover closely and cook slowly from two to three hours. After the water is reduced one-half baste often, and when the liver is tender remove it and put the liquor on to boil. Skim off the fat, thicken it with flour wet in cold water.

Highly Seasoned.

Larded Liver.—Wash a calf's liver and soak for an hour in cold water. Wipe and make incisions through the liver an inch apart. Into these put strips of fat salt pork long enough to project on both sides. Into the bottom of the cooking vessel put a tablespoonful of minced onion, some chopped parsley, pepper to taste and one-half cupful of strained tomato juice. On this lay the liver, sprinkle with salt and place as much onion on top as there is below. Cover lightly and set on a part of the range where it will not reach the boiling point for an hour. Gradually increase the heat, but never let it be strong. After two hours uncover the pot to see if it is tender. Take out the liver and keep hot while you strain the gravy. Thicken with a tablespoonful of browned flour wet in cold mater. Pour over the liver.

Daddy's Bedtime Story,— The Pig Who Had No Table Manners.

The Pig Would Climb on the Table.

"Oh, daddy, won't you please tell us a story about yourself when you were a little boy?" asked Jack.

"Well, children, I can't tell you much that I did, for when I was a boy I lived on a large plantation and my daddy kept me very, very busy attending to a good many of the animals. I had lots of fun, though, for I remember it with a lot of pleasure. Of course, like all children, I had my pet animals, and, now, which do you suppose were my pets?"

"The white rabbits," chirped up Jack.

"Oh, no," said daddy; "I claimed the pigs! One little pig, though, caused me a great deal of trouble and worry and also gave his fond mother many sleepless nights, for he was a great rover and would sneak out of his sty and roam the woods over and over. He did have fine old times, though, for in the woods he'd meet good natured old Br'er B'ar, who took quite a shine to little Look-a-do, as his mother called him, and gave fine parties for him. Look-a-do would dress in his best clothes and go to Br'er B'ar's parties, where the foxes and mountain goats would also be invited. They would have fine things to eat—all kinds of wild birds, acorn pudding, wonderful peanut bread that old B'ar prided himself upon making, honey and persimmon ale instead of water, for that is a very fine drink, even better than lemonade, I imagine.

"The foxes, as you know, are very careful about their table manners and also extremely proud and were quite disgusted with little Piggy Look-a-do's table manners, for instead of saying 'Thank you' he'd just grunt when anything was passed to him. He swallowed his food without chewing it at all. He would reach across the table, and if he couldn't reach a thing he'd climb on the table, much to the horror of all the other animals. Well, in fact, he behaved so badly that all his other nice mannered playmates simply would not have anything to do with him and just called him 'pig.'

"Even Br'er B'ar couldn't like him because of his bad manners, and finally he just had to go out and root in the ground for something to eat. Of course when he did that he ruined his lovely little clothes, his white shoes and trousers became all muddy, and his little speckled coat got very rusty looking.

"Piggy Look-a-do realized that he was losing his good looks, for his little pink nose looked white and his eyes very dull. He was too proud to return home to his mother, so he wandered through the woods trying to find something to eat. Finally he came to an apple orchard belonging to a mountaineer. This was the end of poor Piggy Look-a-do, for the next day he was killed and came on the table roasted nice and brown, with a big red apple in his mouth, and made a fine feast for the old mountaineer and his family."

ADMIRAL DEWEY 76.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.—Admiral George Dewey, the hero of Manila Bay and the only full admiral in the American navy, today received congratulations from near and far, the occasion being his seventy-sixth birthday aniversary. In accordance with his custom the famous sea-fighter passed the day quietly at his home in this city, where he received a number of intimate friends who called to offer their congratulations in person. Admiral Dewey was born in Montpelier, Vt., December 26, 1837. He ended his last cruise in 1899, when he retired from active duty. Since that time he has held his present position, the highest in the gift of the navy, and has made his headquarters in Washington.

BIG POULTRY SHOW.

New York, Dec. 26.—Education is the keynote of the twenty-fifth annual exhibition of the New York Poultry and Pigeon Association, which was opened in Madison Square Garden today and will be continued through the coming week. While the greater part of the exhibition is devoted as in former years to the display of barn-yard fowl, a large section is given over to a comprehensive exhibit showing every accessory of the poultry industry, from incubators to scientific literature.

—Something unusual for the table is always a welcome treat to the home folks. The ad-reading women does not find the problem hard.

THE CIRCUS IS HERE!

GET YOUR TICKETS

Eight hundred Plainfield girls took advantage of the offer made a few months ago by the Plainfield Daily Press through which they secured the "Mother's darling and Nurse Marie" paper dolls. The Press was complimented on all sides for furnishing that delightful family, and because of the great interest, the publishers have been seeking some other equally attractive cut-out for the young people. We have found it in the most original and attractive article of the kind that has ever been put on the market.

DING-A-LING CIRCUS comes on a big sheet of linen, and contains ALL OF THE WELL KNOWN ANIMALS found in the menagerie of the big circus, ready to cut out and paste so that they will practically be indestructible. Then there is a CIRCUS CAGE, drawn by two horses, TWO CLOWNS, and last but not least, TWO DOLLS, a boy and a girl, which can be cut out, sewed together, and then stuffed, so that they will stand up and view the animals which will make a

PARADE THIRTY FEET LONG

if they are spaced a foot apart. There are admission tickets, a big banner with the name of the circus, and natural history lectures telling all about everyone of the animals in the circus.

HOW TO GET THE CIRCUS

Cut out the admission ticket which will be found in today's Plainfield Daily Press, and bring it with only 48 cents, the actual cost of handling and distribution, to the Daily Press office, and get the two dolls, the parade wagon, all the animals, printed in life-like colors on everlasting cloth, all the admission tickets, lectures, and other things which go to make this the most remarkable offer ever made to the young folks by a Plainfield newspaper.

DR. PURDY IS DEAD; HE HELPED LIBRARY

Benefactor of Local Institutions Passes Away at Ripe Age in New York.

By the death of Dr. Alfred E. M. Purdy, a brother of Mrs. Leonard Waldo, of West Eighth street, this city, which occurred at his home, 449 Park avenue, New York city, on Thursday evening, the Plainfield Public Library has lost its most important benefactor of medical literature. The long and complete sets of the Medical Journals which distinguish this library over any other in the State, were his gifts.

Dr. Purdy was 75 years old and had been ill a little more than a week. He was born in New York, the son of Dr. Alfred S. M. Purdy. He was graduated from Columbia College and the College of Physicians and Surgeons. In 1861 he was appointed an assistant surgeon of the army. He organized and served on the staff at Fort Schuyler during the war. In 1870 he was appointed a surgeon on the Metropolitan police force. He later became chief surgeon and remained in that position until 1880. He was one of the organizers and consulting surgeons of the Methodist Episcopal Hospital in Brooklyn and of the Methodist Home. For many years he edited the Medical Register, now the Medical Directory. He married Miss Annie F. Stout, daughter of the late Andrew V. Stout. She died in 1874.

Dr. Purdy was a member of the Union League Club, the Rumson Country Club, the Academy of Medicine, the Pathological Society, the County and State Medical societies and the Physicians Mutual Aid Society. He served on the house committee of the Union League Club for many years.

BUILDING TRADES ARE BOOMING

Not Only Plainfield Sees Great Activity, But Other Nearby Places as Well.

If the spirit of "Do It For Plainfield" can be found in any other business in excess of that which is shown by the property owners and those in the building trade it has yet to be brought to light. Employment agencies of New York, who make a specialty of sending out pamphlets to all connected with the building trades in this part of the country about construction work, have a man that covers this section of the country. When questioned as to the conditions found here he said that for a town of its size Plainfield has more buildings being erected and repaired than any other town on the eastern coast.

Although this is true about Plainfield, New Brunswick, which is but little larger than Plainfield, is claimed to have two houses in the course of erection to every one that is being built in the "Queen City." Investigation through reliable sources shows that the amount of building done in the last two years around this section of the State not only equals but exceeds the amount done in the five years previous to 1912 and in some places it is claimed that ten years' building work done before 1912 would just about equal that completed and in the course of completion during the past two years.

Fanwood, a little borough that very seldom appears in print, is following in the footsteps of some of its larger neighbors. Here as in almost all the small towns, considerable building is being done. The majority of the houses and other structures which are being or have just been erected, are between the Main Line trolley tracks and the railroad. Although several places have gone up on the southeast side of the railroad track the northwestern section of the town claims the largest share of the improvements.

Considering the scarcity of currency all through the country, the building trade of this State can be held up as an object for the rest of the States to take as an example for "hard time" progress.

The total amount of money involved in the building enterprise of this city, although it will not be as large as last month, will aggregate about $40,000. This is not a small amount by any means for this season of the year. The total for this month's work will be considerably more than the amount estimated as having been done in this city in the same month last year.

On page nine of the Daily Press will be found the building page, now a regular feature of the paper on Saturdays, with descriptions of some of the new properties being developed.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature report from The State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 26 degrees; 11 a. m., 33 degrees; 12:30 p. m., 33 degrees.

ASK FOR PARDON OF LABOR UNIONS

Astor Theatre Building Owners Publically Apologize to Organized Workmen.

MAKE A STATEMENT

Morris Abrams and Harry Dreier Say They Regret Any Misunderstanding and Both Hope That Good Feeling Will Be Restored.

Non-union labor being employed in the construction of the Astor theatre prompted the Trades Council to put that building on the "unfair list" and as a result the lessee from the owners, Morris Abrams and Harry Dreier, met with financial losses when he opened the place as a moving picture showhouse. The owners were not responsible for the situation but they feel that they have been made to suffer and for that reason they request that this public apology be made to Union Labor in their name and at their request, Abrams and Dreier signing the statement:

"Understanding that it has been claimed that we have antagonized union labor in the matter of the building of the Astor theatre and the two stores adjacent thereto, and regretting very much any misunderstanding that may have arisen in the matter, we hereby tender to the Building Trades Council of Plainfield and to the union men of Plainfield our sincere apologies for anything that we may have said or done to which any exception may have been taken, or which any one else may have said in the matter, or which any one may have said we said in the matter, or which may have been published concerning the matter, and we sincerely trust that the Building Trades Council of Plainfield and the union men of Plainfield and every one else will accept this apology which we willingly make."

ENJOYED A DANCE AT THE PARK CLUB

Annual Social Function is Attended by Three Hundred.

The annual Christmas dance at the Park Club, last night, proved to be one of the most enjoyable social functions of the kind held this season. It was attended by about three hundred members and friends of the club, including a number of out of town guests and young people home from college for the holidays. The affair was held under the direction of the entertainment committee, of which Mrs. Wilbur H. Rogers is the chairman.

The clubhouse was elaborately decorated for the occasion with Christmas greens, while the effect about the open fire-place was made pleasing through the use of greens and red poinsetta. The decorations were the work of Henry Johnson, the club steward. The dancing began about 9 o'clock and lasted until 2 o'clock this morning, with an intermission during which refreshments were served.

Those who received the guests were Mrs. Henry A. McGee, Mrs. J. L. Watson, Mrs. Frederick Harrington, Mrs. William Barlow, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Detwiller. The music for the dancing was furnished by Muller and was a feature.

TINY COLORED YOUTH PROMISES TO BE GOOD

Elizabeth, Dec. 27.—Edward Irby, a tiny negro lad who lives in Plainfield, merely smiled yesterday afternoon in the Court of Quarter Sessions, when Prosecutor Alfred A. Stein and stern-faced constables frowned upon him, endeavoring to impress him with a fear of the law. He had been arrested for stealing a considerable amount of merchandise from DeMeza & Blimm's store in Plainfield and he used the money to go to the "movies."

Not until Judge James C. Connolly threatened to send him to the State Home for Boys, however, did he appear to realize his position. Then he became contrite and on his promise that he would not go to the "movies" again except with money furnished him by his mother he was allowed to go. He is a probationer, however, and must report weekly to the probation officer.

MAJ. SHATTUCK DIES IN THE PHILIPPINES

Niece Cables Mrs. Thomas B. Brooks of Fatal Mishap to Her Husband.

Mrs. Thomas B. Brooks, of Rockview avenue, North Plainfield, has received a cablegram from her niece informing her of the death of the latter's husband, Major Amos Blanchard Shattuck, which occurred at Camp Gregg, Philippine Islands, on Monday, December 22. No details were contained in the message, but Mrs. Brooks telegraphed the War Department at Washington, and the reply stated that Major Shattuck was supposedly killed by a fall. Mrs. Brooks is awaiting a letter giving further particulars.

Major and Mrs. Shattuck were married nineteen years ago at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks in the borough. He had been in the regular army several years, having been graduated from West Point in the Class of 1886. He served in Washington, throughout the West, and prior to being sent to the Philippines a year ago was stationed at Governor's Island New York.

Mrs. Shattuck is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Milton Cogswell, who lived here for a number of years. Col. Cogswell's last position in the government was as deputy governor at the Soldiers' Home in Washington. Mrs. Cogswell and Mrs. Brooks were sisters and Mrs. Shattuck was the only daughter. She spent a great deal of her time in Plainfield prior to her marriage and has many friends here.

A. M. O'Keefe, of Detroit, Mich., is spending the holidays with his brother-in-law, Joseph Carty, of West Seventh street.

'GREATEST BOXER' HAS BEEN BARRED

Boxing Commisioners Are a Target for the Big Fellow's Scathing Crossfire.

SAYS HE NEEDS MONEY

"Lanky Bob" Declares That the Guardians of the Pugilistic Sport Are Trying to do Him Out of His Bread and Butter.

Enraged over the action of the New York State Boxing Commission in threatening to bar him from the pugilistic game in that State, Robert Fitzsimmons gave the following statement to a Daily Press reporter this afternoon:

"The action of the boxing commissioners is the greatest outrage ever pulled off in the sporting world. It was all done at the instigation of St. Dennis, the sporting editor of a New York newspaper and is nothing more than an effort to starve me to death. The fighting game is the only resource I have left through which I can earn my bread and butter and the hard work I have done for the past five months will go for naught if this action is sustained at the meeting next Tuesday night.

"America is referred to as God's free country and a body of commissioners get together and endeavor to starve a man to death. In England things are different. If a man remains in the public eye after ten year's work and can still deliver the goods he is not considered a has-been and thrown into the scrap heap. In America I am cast aside and told that I am not wanted any more just because a few commissioners who are afraid someone will come to the fore and lick the white hopes, do not want me.

"I am better today than when I won the championship of the world. I have been studying the fight game and know more than I did at that time. When I was defeated by Jim Jeffries for the heavyweight championship of the world I was doped. I never saw Jeffries after the second round and was not myself for two months afterwards. Those who are now trying to starve me are the ones who pulled off the trick that gave Jeffries the championship.

"I want nothing more to do with America if the action of the Commission is sustained. I was bulldozed into taking out my citizenship papers and if I had known what I was doing I would have still been an Englishman. I have been robbed by managers and fight promoters and today have nothing to rely on.

"The reports circulated in the New York papers this morning to the effect that I am fifty-eight years old and too old to fight is a lie. I will be fifty-two years old June 4 next and I defy any man living to prove this statement false.

"Nine months ago before a fight crowd in New York city I offered to take on the three aspirants to the white hope crown in one night. I mentioned the names of Al Palzer, "Gunboat" Smith and Luther McCarthy at that time and offered to forfeit the entire purse of $5,000 if I failed to defeat all three of these men the same night in 10 rounds. My offer was taken seriously by some and I went into training immediately and since that time have been working morning, afternoon and night to get in trim with the result that I have brought my weight from 214 pounds down to 170 pounds.

"I am still the middleweight champion and the light heavyweight champion of the world and nobody has ever defeated me in these classes. If it had not been for the doping I received in the fight with Jeffries I would still have been the heavyweight champion, despite the fact that I fought my heavyweight matches when only a middleweight. I have not done a stroke of work for two years and am sadly in need of funds for living expenses. If the outrageous scandal being perpetrated by the boxing commissioners is allowed to be carried through my hard work of the last two months will go for naught.

"Why don't these so-called 'experts' come to Plainfield and view me as I really am. I am fifty-two years of age and I feel but thirty years. I am willing to demonstrate my ability to anyone in the world and if those who know think that I am unable to lick a white hope after an exhibition in the ring I will abide by their decision. Give me the best fighter in the ring today and I will lick him or forfeit the purse and everything else.

"I have just about finished my training for the re-entrance into the ring and feel fit to take on the best in the world tonight. Since seeing articles in the Metropolitan papers, I have quit training as public sentiment goes all over th world and it would be useless for me to train. If I wanted to be a crook I would be worth about $5,000,000 now, but I am an honest man."

SOUND INVESTMENT WITH FINE INTEREST

State Trust Company Makes Tempting Offer to Those Who Save and Gain.

The State Trust Company presents three plans for the accumulation and investment of money in its advertisement on the last page of this paper, to which it desires to call the reader's attention. In addition to the four per cent. Systematic Savings Plan and the Special Department Four Per Cent. Compound Interest Plan, this progressive institution has added a plan whereby a rate of interest as high as five per cent. may be obtained for large amounts. The latter plan enables investors to purchase participations of $1,000 or more in mortgages on Plainfield property owned by the company. The company agrees to pay five per cent. interest to the participant, to remit the interest promptly on the due date, attend to the insurance and all other details.

This plan will enable persons having $1,000 or more to invest to purchase participations subject to five per cent. interest as soon as their funds become available, and to relieve themselves of all the customary details usually involved in mortgage investments, such as collection of interest, renewal of insurance, inspection of the property from time to time, etc., and, at the same time receive their interest promptly on the day it becomes due.

This should commend itself to persons who wish a good interest return on an investment that will not fluctuate in value, by a method that will relieve them of all details of management.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE APGAR OCCUPYING DUNELLEN HOME

George I. Apgar, of Dunellen, has had a two and a half story, one-family frame dwelling erected on his property at the corner of Lincoln avenue and Third street, that place. The building has a frontage of 21 feet and a depth of 33 feet and cost about $4,500. A living room, dining room, reception hall, kitchen and large butler's pantry are on the first floor and three bedrooms, a sewing room and a bathroom on the second story. The top floor will be used as a storage attic. Gas piping, electric light wiring and a system of hot water heating has been installed. A large open fire-place has been built in the dining room. The walls of the fire-place are faced on the outside with red pressed brick and are backed with gray fire bricks. The interior decorations of the rooms on the first floor will for the present be white, set off with a detailed trim of chestnut, stained weathered oak, and hardwood floors. The second story rooms are finished off with white walls and ceilings, trimmed with white wood enameled white and regular pine floors. There are three large bay windows in the house, one on the side downstairs and one on both the front and side on the second story.

The exterior of the house is finished with weather boards for the first story and shingles for the second story, gables and roof. The weatherboard section of the house has been painted a French gray and the shingles left natural. A large porch has been built all around the front and side of the building. Over the front door an arch has been erected which runs from over the door to the outside edge of the porch forming part of the roof. This is the only house in Dunellen that has the distinction of having one of these artistic entrances as part of the porch roof.

J. Newton Apgar, a brother of the owner, did the carpenter work on the building; F. H. Gise, the mason work. Frank Broshart, the installing of the heating and plumbing systems as well as doing the gutter and leader work. The painting was done by Fred Kirchner. All the above named contractors are from Dunellen. The Dunellen Lumber and Stone Company supplied all the building materials and McCullough's Mills, of Plainfield, furnished the millwork and inside trimmings.

The house, which was completed about two weeks ago, was occupied Monday by the owner and his bride, who have just returned from their honeymoon trip.

GALBRAITH TO BUILD ANOTHER.

D. J. Galbraith, of Darrow avenue, has had drawings made for a new frame dwelling, which will be erected in the West End section of town. Plans have been given out to local contractors for their estimates for erecting the building.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Plainfield People Fail to Realize the Seriousness of a Bad Back.

The constant aching of a bad back,
The weariness, the tired feeling,
The pains and aches of kidney ills
May result seriously if neglected.
Dangerous urinary troubles often follow.

A Plainfield citizen shows you what to do.

Mrs. Anthony Wahl, R. F. D. No. 1, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I had such distressing pains in my back that I could hardly stand and it was out of the question for me to stoop. I was all crippled up and I knew perfectly well that my kidneys were the cause of the trouble. A neighbor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and on her suggestion, I used them. They gave me almost immediate relief and three boxes changed me from a chronic sufferer to a healthy woman. I still take Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally, when a cold settles on my kidneys and they act as a preventive of any serious trouble. You may publish this account of my experience for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.—Adv.

RURAL CARRIERS QUITS HIS JOB SO SUDDENLY

I. Leslie Tingley, of Randolph road, who for several years has been the letter-carrier on R. F. D. No. 2, which covers the southeastern part of the city toward South Plainfield, has resigned his position and left the city. The route is now being taken care of by a substitute, Raymond Payne, who will continue to do the work until a regular appointment is made following a Civil Service examination on January 24.

Mr. Tingley gave no reasons or explanations when he handed his resignation to Postmaster Bird, and as he had decided to quit, there was nothing to do but accept the resignation. Mr. Tingley's plans for the future are not known, only that he has left Plainfield.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1913.

On Saturdays the editorial columns of the Daily Press are conducted by citizens who are free to express their own views. The contributing editor for today is Samuel Burnett Howe, head of the Department of History, Plainfield High School.

OUR NEW HIGH SCHOOL A CIVIC CENTRE FOR SOCIAL ACTIVITIES.

With the completion and use of the enlarged high school building a certainty in a few months, Plainfield may feel justly proud of herself, as taking a prominent position in the forefront of American cities that are fully alive to the important social evolution of the present time. Public education, which always was dear to the spirit of American institutions for many years, labored under the handicap of being associated in the minds of the majority with public charity. Thanks to the indefatigable efforts of public spirited citizens of this state, among whom Dr. Stillman of this city, was a leader, New Jersey pointed the way toward a realization of the educational ideal of public schooling for "all the children of all the people," an ideal which the school authorities in Plainfield have constantly in mind. Nothwithstanding the inertia of a certain kind of public sentiment, which would be content to allow others to lead, because of a reluctance to shoulder the cost which leadership always entails—a reluctance not so much attributable to any real parsimonious spirit or to any opposition to sane progress, as to a misunderstanding in regard to the province of public school work—our Board of Education has been resolute in realizing that nothing is too good for the young people of this city, which present day educational methods and ideals commend. It is for this reason that the Plainfield schools have time after time carried off the highest awards for excellence of work at great national expositions. It is for this reason that Plainfield High School is today recognized by schoolmen everywhere as one of the most progressive, best equipped, and most successful secondary schools in the east.

Today there is a widespread questioning of public school education. Not so much in regard to public school education as a sound and necessary factor for civic betterment, but rather concerning the nature and scope of education as it is now administered. Especially do we hear this question raised throughout the land in regard to high school or secondary education. Formerly a high school was regarded as a stepping stone to college. Only recently the state commissioner of education was compelled to arbitrate a case in this state in which a local Board of Education was made the defendant in an action because it did not include a certain subject in the high school curriculum, which was required for entrance to the classical course of some college. It goes without saying that he upheld the Board of Education. The Plainfield course of study is based on the needs of the majority of the students of the schools, because of a realization that the public schools train for life in 80 per cent. of cases, and for college in less than 20 per cent. of cases.

Another phase of current criticism of educational policies is a very practical one. Considering the investment from a business point of view, should not the school plant be in operation for more than a few hours of academic work daily? Our Board has recognized the justness of this contention by providing in the addition to the High School for a public hall for the use of the citizens of Plainfield. This hall will be adequately equipped for all dramatic and social activities that commend themselves to the community. The value of the drama as an educational factor is widely recognized. Formerly, dramatic work had to be conducted under adverse conditions of poor stage accommodations in small halls, or in the Plainfield theatre, which is so demanded by professionals that rehearsals by amateurs worked a positive loss to its owners. In the future, the High School auditoruim will provide a well equipped and attractive center for such social activities. It will also prove an invaluable meeting place for all sorts of gatherings ,for concerts, lectures and public conferences.

With the physical side of education, the Board is cordially in harmony. The new gymnasium will provide the best apparatus for developing a sound body, without which a sound mind speedily degenerates. Local athletes can hold their contests therein, and gain that vigor of body which is so to be desired in this strenuous age. The swimming pool will bring to the community the realization of a widespread want. If Plainfield were situated on the banks of a river, instead of on the odoriferous Green Brook, such a want would not be felt. But with geographical conditions as they are, there is a strong need of an accessible body of water in which the very necessary accomplishment of swimming may be gained. The inclusion of a swimming pool in the development of the high school building will provide our city with the means of giving this invaluable training. The policy of the school authorities is to afford this training to the whole community, and for this reason, if for no other, the swimming pool will amply reward the outlay.

With such splendid plans for the betterment of the city, Plainfield can look forward with eager anticipation to the completion of the structure on Ninth Street and Arlington Avenue, and feel justly proud of the Plainfield Public School system, and of the men who are directing its destiny.

THE DAY AFTER XMAS.

The following poem is contributed by a prominent Plainfield woman.

'Twas the day after Christmas when all through the house
None felt like stirring save only the mouse,
The stockings were empty and laid by the beds
For the legs that fill them were minus their heads.

Dear old Santa has gone to heaven knows where,
His full duty done, we all do declare,
Let us all take a rest and then a fresh brace,
And smile at each other right full in the face.

And wish for the New Year which now has a clean slate,
That all things will straighten and come out first rate,
For myself I give thanks and hope to live better
Than I have in the past, having less cares to fetter.

Happy New Year for all and may "Nineteen Fourteen"
Be the brightest and best we ever have seen.

CIVIL SERVICE ACT AMENDMENT ADVISED

Trenton, Dec. 27.—The situation in Union county last fall, where the failure of the Board of Freeholders, through lack of a quorum, to provide for the submission of the Civil Service Act to the people, is made the ground of a special recommendation to the Governor and Legislature in the sixth annual report of the New Jersey Civil Service Commission which was filed with the Governor today. The recommendation is that that portion of the Civil Service Act relating to the adoption of the statute by a municipality be amended so as to make it mandatory upon the municipal clerk, after the presentation of the properly signed petition for a referendum on the question, to make the necessary advertisement in the newspapers; and for the county clerk to properly print the referendum upon the official ballot.

"Under the law as it now stands," comments the Commission, "in the event of the failure of the local governing board to pass the necessary resolution preliminary to the public advertisement, so that the advertisement can be made once a week for four weeks prior to election, the subject cannot be voted upon.

"An instance in point occurred prior to the last general election in Union county. Although the county clerk several times gave notice of a meeting at which the petition for the referendum was to be presented a quorum of the Board failed to attend any of the meetings thus called making it impossible to make advertisement and to secure a vote on the subject in Union county at the general election, and rendering nugatory the wishes of the citizens of that county, who had joined according to law in petitioning that the law might be submitted for referendum."

CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL AT MONROE AVE. CHURCH

Dickens' "Christmas Carol," as recited by Austin E. Armstrong, of Rockaway was one of the features at the Christmas entertainment last night at the Monroe Avenue church Sunday-school, held in the parlors of that edifice. The pastor, Rev. Frederick J. Hubach, was in charge of the program.

Recitations, vocal selections and musical numbers by instrumentalists were rendered by many talented members of the school, and the traditional Christmas tree, laden with appropriate trimmings, was the object of attention from the children. "Santa Claus," impersonated by Elston Davis, furnished considerable amusement for the guests. Phonograph selections were played.

The event ended with the distribution of presents to the members of the school and boxes of candy to all who attended.

MANY OUTFITTED BY THE "COUNTRY STORE"

One Lucky Youngster Received Two Suits of Clothes in One Night.

"Country Store" night drew two more capacity houses in Proctor's theatre last night, ten suits of men's clothes and the same number of women's shirtwaists being given away on this occasion. The usual amount of merriment was supplied by those who appeared before the footlights in the role of receivers and numerous little side incidents were turned into laugh-provokers by the management last night. One man who was lucky enough to win a shirtwaist, found difficulty in unbuttoning it from the model and during the time he was laboring with the first button the lights were turned off and the clock tolled the hour of midnight. It was fully ten minutes before he succeeded in unfastening the binders that held the waist together.

John Cartwright had the good fortune of winning a suit of clothes at each performance and played the part of a good samaritan by giving the first suit to a poor youngster he met on Front street after going from the playhouse.

CONTINUING MONDAY—

$100,000 of New Selected Fur Coats and Fur Sets for Women

Offered Because of the Extraordinary Weather Conditions

A good fur coat made out of Russian pony skins at $18.75. That is inexpensive enough for a knockabout morning coat; it is sufficiently good to wear almost any time.

A good nearseal coat is $40—earlier in the season it would have been $80.

A real Hudson seal coat is $75—the earlier season price was $150.

Coney muffs start as low as $2.50, and scarfs for $2.25.

For the matter of fact, even good black fox can be had at $7.50 for a muff!

Every FUR in this Entire Collection has been Picked Out Individually

The furs are here because they are good—not because they are cheap.

That they are cheap is an inducement for any woman to secure them. Being good, the furs will give double the satisfaction the prices warrant.

Some Fur facts which the Furriers Themselves Told the Wanamaker Advertising Writers in their own Workshops

"We start at the very beginning. We buy the raw skins and have them treated and dyed. In this way there is no possibility of getting anything which is not genuine.

"We could save thirty-five to fifty cents on the price of a single skin, but we don't. We believe in getting the best skins to work with.

"We could save three to five cents on the curing of a single skin, but we can get more out of the fur if it comes back soft and flexible, than if it is finished cheaply and is all dried out.

"We pay the highest price for workmanship—it pays in satisfaction.

"Do we use plate skins? No. Cheap furriers use them as though they were fur by the yard. They have no strength nor durability. We stay all our coats with a thin lining on which the fur is sewn so that it will stand the strain of energetic motion and the warmth of the person wearing it.

"We shape our furs into the lines of the coat. It takes a whole day to cut one fur coat. It takes two, three, four days or longer to finish it.

"No matter where the skins are bought one necessarily gets some not so good as others. Sample garments are made of the best skins. Orders must be filled up to the samples. We push aside all the inferior skins until the season is ended and then we sell them as refuse.

"We do not make furs at a price—we make them well.

"Where Can I Get Some Reasonably-Priced Furs?"

asked a salesman of one of the wholesale furriers from whom we secured many of the most beautifully made fur coats we have had this season. "Wait until after Christmas and go to Wanamaker's" he was told. "You can get something of ours there at less than we can sell it to you."

And that is true of every fur in the collection. Nearly all are actually priced less than they would be if they were chosen direct from the maker.

FAMILY REUNION.

Among the pleasant Christmas Day affairs was the reunion held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Millard on East Second street, where a fine turkey dinner was enjoyed, and gifts were exchanged. The dinner was prepared by Mr. Millard's father, William A. Millard, of Westervelt avenue, and everything was "done to a turn." After the feast of good things gifts were exchanged. Mr. Millard, senior, made lots of fun by getting "down on all fours" and riding some of the guests about piggy-back fashion.

Joseph Carty and Edson Woodhull attended a reception and dance last night at the Pouch Gallery, Brooklyn, given by Dr. and Mrs. Cox, for their daughter, Miss Marion Cox.

HOW THEY OBSERVED FEAST OF CHRISTMAS

Reformed Church Sunday School Exercises Last Night Were Elaborate.

Before an audience filling the lecture room of the edifice to its capacity, members of the Sunday school of the Trinity Reformed church provided a Christmas entertainment last night, the feature of which was the rendition of a cantata entitled, "Santa Claus and Uncle Sam." Those who took part wore costumes representing the various nationalities and the scenery pictured the home of "Santa," in far away Greenland, where the legends tell us, that imaginary person lived.

The solo numbers were sung by Charles W. Harvey, as Uncle Sam; Alfred Willett, as Santa Claus; Miss Jennie Sears, as Mrs. Santa, and Carmen Trembath, as Little Nicholas. Miss Adele Freeman, representing the Afro-American race; William O'Lear, as an Oriental, and Willard McAfee, representing China, also rendered solo numbers.

The other characters in the cast were taken by Misses Dorothy Martin, Louise Seader, Nellie McAfee and Marguerite Barkalew, Miss Ella Miller, Miss Maud McAfee, Miss Helen Woodruff, Miss Adele Freeman, Miss Madeline Blair, LeRoy Voorhees, Lawrence French, Oscar Dilts, Charles Todd, Mr. O'Lear, Arthur C. Backer, Henry Kriney, Willard McAfee, Marjorie VanEmburgh, Helen Dunn, Gertrude Ritenhouse, Dorothy Ross, Bobby Blair, Charles Clark and Arthur Giles, Misses Louise Anson, Glenna Higgins, Hazel Dunn, Gladys DeNise, Miss Dorothy Kenyon, Edith Coriell, Marjorie Butz, Violet Neighbour, Edmund Young, Herbert Young Harold Trembath, Edgar Seader, Francis Anson, Harold Kriney, Emerson Stryker and Earl Wyman, Miss Margaret McIntye, Misses Nellie McAfee, Louise Seader, Marguerite Barkalew, Dorothy Martin, Ella Van Arsdale, Hazel Putnam, Madeline Leighton, Florence Debele, Marion Wooley, Ethel Wendel, Ethel Hillpot, Hazel Todd, Alfred DeNise, Mr. Kenyon and Chauncey F. Colthar.

A quartet composed of Miss Etta Raybert, Miss Ella Miller, Edmund Young and Fred Cutter also rendered several selections.

Considerable credit for the success of the entertainment is due to Miss Etta Raybert, who as chairman of the arrangement committee, assumed the responsibility of drilling the cast and selecting the various characters. She was assisted by the Misses Viola Hoerster, Lucy Coriell and Helen Smith, and William R. Kriney and Charles M. Dolliver.

FRESH WATER NOTES

One sprinter the P. S. A. L. boasts who has the earmarks of a title holder—Hal Vollmer, of Stuyvesant. In the meet with Erasmus he reeled off a century in 59 1-5 seconds, smashing to splinters the league standard and beating by 2-5 seconds the time made on the same day by Nerich, the metropolitan holder.

C. M. Daniels gave an exhibition fifty-yard swim at the opening meet at the New York A. C. on December 6, and he showed some of that remarkable speed that made him the best all around swimmer that ever toed the mark.

The 880 yard swimming record of 11 minutes and 29 1-5 seconds, created on December 4 in Chicago by Perry McGillivray, was such a remarkable feat as to cause the performance of Harry Hebner at the same carnival to be completely overlooked. Nevertheless by comparison, Hebner's time was even better than his team mate's. Allowing for conditions, McGillivray's mark is more than forty seconds slower than Kiernan's half-mile world's standard.

News of an interesting swimming romance comes from the Pacific coast in the announcement of the engagement of Earnest Smith, of the University of California, to Miss Marguerite Brack, of San Francisco. Smith is the best swimming sprinter on the coast, and Miss Brack is the 440-yard lady champion.

Max Mott, the fifteen-year-old prodigy of the Illinois A. C., has entered Oak Park High School in Chicago, and celebrated his scholastic debut by taking the two principal events at the opening meet of the season—the free style and back stroke 100-yard races.

Plans are on foot for one of the most interesting water carnivals ever held in New York, a dual clash between the very best swimmers obtainable in the metropolitan and middle Atlantic districts of the A. A. U. The idea was evolved at the New York A. C. and promises to come to fruition, as our neighbors have expressed heartily in favor of it.

FREEHOLDERS CAUCUS.

John N. Cady, of Summit, director; Benjamin King, of Clark township, auditor, and Augustus W. Schwartz, of Elizabeth, county sealer of weights and measures, were all endorsed for re-appointment at a caucus of the Union County Board of Freeholders held in the court house, Elizabeth, yesterday. There will be another caucus on Wednesday, December 31.

Edward A. Carty, of Orchard place, has returned home for the holidays after spending 10 months in the northwestern part of the country, on a business trip.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 45.

ADVERTISING is a salesman that is always at work, but never wearies a customer; that call on the same man until he is convinced, but never annoys him with its insistence; that wastes no time, wastes no words, and that can always gain an audience and a hearing. Alone among salesmen, advertising has free access to the libraries of the great; it marches unchecked past the secretary of the big merchant and enters without hindrance the store of the retailer. When it cannot tell its story to a man in his office, it can always gain his attention in his home. The door of the housewife is never slammed in its face. No country is so remote, no village is so dead, that it does not go there for orders and get them—Saturday Evening Post.

Tell me, suppose you want a job, or want to sell your house, or want to rent an apartment, or want domestic help, or want—anything—can you think of a quicker, less expensive, more direct way of getting that want before the people than through a little Want Ad?

Classified advertising is always at work. It does not weary a customer, because that customer turns to it of his own free will. It does not annoy him with his insistence; rather, it pleases him with its concise information. It wastes no words. It gets its message across, and instantly. It has access to the hearts of the people because it reflects the needs of the people.

Want Ad. advertising in the columns of this newspaper gains attention in offices, in homes, in city, in country—wherever people have that which they do not want and want that which they do not have. No door is ever slammed in its face.

And say—isn't that a pretty good way to get YOUR want over the line?

Your Sewing Machine.

Do you take good care of your sewing machine? If you don't, you have no idea what a delightful help a sewing machine can be. For the same machine, under good care and indifferent care, is two different machines. Under indifferent care, it goes along at an irregular pace, making long stitches when you desire short stitches, snapping the thread off short in the middle of a seam, or looping it unaccountably now and again. And the sewing machine that is not cared for probably wears out much more quickly than the one that receive regular, systematic care.

To begin with, keep your sewing machine as free from dust as possible. Cover it carefully whenever it is not in use. Dust it thoroughly every time you take the cover off.

Oil it regularly. Every time you use it oil it with a few drops of machine oil. Run a piece of waste cotton through the machine two or three times after oiling it, to remove the superfluous oil.

Once or twice a month oil the machine with kerosene oil. This cuts everything that may have clogged the machinery. Work the machine rapidly over a useless piece of cloth for a minute after using the kerosene as it runs down the needle and might otherwise spot your sewing.

Often when a machine does not sew readily in the winter, when there seems to be some difficulty in making the needle and wheels work properly, it is because the machine is too cold. This sounds absurd, but anyone who has used a typewriter will tell you the same thing.

There is such a thing as finding a typewriter or sewing machine somewhat numbed by the cold, so to speak. Presumably the cold makes the oil around the workings of the machine thicker than usual. The heat makes it thinner and it begins to run about and the machine begins to go more easily. So, if on some cold day you find that your machine is running with difficulty, move it into the sunshine or close to a radiator for a few minutes.

Some Cookery Suggestions

CHRISTMAS CAKES.

THE housewife can do more in the way of decoration with the cake than with anything else that is served for the Christmas dinner. She should therefore try to give it some Christmas touches. If she can do no more the cake may be iced and trimmed with holly. Sprigs of holly may be dipped in icing and then placed on the cake.

Citron Christmas Cake.—Take a pound each of sifted flour and of white sugar, half a pound of butter, whites of six eggs, two pounds each of chopped citron and blanched almonds, a large cocoanut grated, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Mix and pour in a very large mold. Bake slowly for two hours. When cooked ornament with icing and fancy bonbons.

Handsome Cakes.

Fancy Christmas Cakes.—Take half pound butter beaten to a cream, add half pound sugar and cream again, then five eggs, beaten until thick. Add half teaspoonful pulverized cloves, a teaspoonful each of ginger and cinnamon, juice and grated rind of two sour oranges, then three-fourths pound flour, two teaspoonfuls baking powder. Dust with flour one pound of dried peaches and pitted prunes, cut fine and add to the batter. Pour into a greased and paper lined tin and bake for three hours in moderate oven.

Icing.—Cook a cupful of sugar and one-fourth cupful of water until it spins a thread when poured from the spoon. Pour this hot liquid slowly on to the stiffly beaten white of an egg, beat until cold and like fluff. Add a teaspoonful lemon juice and a teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Spread over the cake. While wet decorate with wishbones, holly leaves cut from dark green citron and tiny scarlet candies.

Mistletoe Cake.—For the layers take three ounces each of butter and sugar, three eggs, one-half pound of flour, a teaspoonful of baking powder and a wineglassful of orange flower water. Separate the eggs and beat the whites to a stiff froth, the yolks to a cream. Beat the sugar and butter together, add the yolks of the eggs, the flour sifted with the baking powder, the orange flower water and lastly the whites of the eggs. Bake in three layers. For the filling whip one-half pint of cream until stiff, sweeten slightly and divide in two portions. Color one with spinach green and add grated cocoanut to the other. Spread the green cream over the first layer of the cake, cover with the second, spread with the white cream and place the third layer on top. Ice thickly with plain boiled icing and decorate while fresh with bits of candied citron cut to represent mistletoe leaves, using silver comfits for the berries.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Beautiful Little Dawn Fairies.

The Fairy Queen Protects Them.

"I WONDER if you know, children, that there are certain lovely little fairies living around us all the time who call themselves the dawn fairies."

"No," said Evelyn; "I have never heard of them. Do tell us about them and why they call themselves by such a funny name."

"Well," continued daddy, "it does seem a funny name when you first hear it, but when I tell you why you will understand.

"You see, the chief object of a fairy is never to be seen by a human being. These fairies are around us all the time, but we do not know it, as we cannot see them. The only time they play without any worries or fears is in the early morning before day breaks, and so they call themselves the dawn fairies. Their dresses are made of dull gray, which looks like the early morning, and then it is that they frisk about and have the most wonderful time. As soon as the sun rises their dresses change color and are very dazzling—just like the sun, which, you know, is so bright that you cannot possibly look at it. You see, when the sun rises and the day begins all the human beings commence to get up and go about, and as the fairies do not wish to be seen the queen of the fairies has given them all these very, very bright frocks so none of us can see them.

"I know a way of seeing the dawn fairies," suggested Jack.

"Oh, what?" asked Evelyn excitedly.

"Why, just get up early, you silly thing," said Jack, "and watch them playing in their own dawn dresses before they put on the very, very bright dresses the fairy queen has given them."

"Jack," began daddy, "your idea has already been thought of by the fairy queen, for should any little boy or girl get up before daybreak in order to see the dawn fairies the fairy queen, who is always watching over them, waves her magic wand and the fairies are instantly turned into mist.

"Once a little boy like you, Jack, had heard of the dawn fairies and was so eager to see them that he got up long before daybreak—in fact, before the fairies themselves were up, for they sleep when it is really dark. This little boy hid in the trunk of a tree. After what seemed a long time to him the lovely gray dawn fairies came out from their sleeping places, and he heard them laugh their low, bell-like laughs. Suddenly one of them realized that some one was around and caught sight of the little boy. 'Oh, dear,' shrieked the fairy; 'there's a huge person near us!' at which all the fairies scattered.

"So from that day the fairy queen has been careful that no one else should see the dawn fairies."

ANTI-SUFFRAGE

Conducted by Plainfield Branch New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE IN IDAHO.

When we, who are opposed to Woman Suffrage, use the argument that needed reforms are obtained quite as often in the States where only men vote as in those where women have the ballot we are generally met by the counter statement that needed legislation could be obtained more quickly and with less work when women could enforce their demands by the vote. As a rule this has not been a demonstrable proposition in the non-suffrage States. When a sensible and practicable measure has been asked for by women it has generally been promptly granted, witness the Equal Guardianship law in New York, which was passed in the Legislature without a negative vote.

The fallacy of this argument on the part of the Suffragists was forcibly impressed on my mind at a meeting to which I was invited a few days ago by one of the leading Suffragists of Boise. The presidents of two Women's Clubs presided, and in the course of the evening one of them stated the reason for calling the meeting. The subject of discussion was the Civil Service, and it was treated in various aspects by several prominent men, but I found the president's explanation much the most interesting feature of the evening. It seems that the women of the State (that the women who take an active interest in civic affairs) felt that certain offices which are at present at the disposal of State officials, should be put on the Civil Service list, although they realized that this was more a precautionary than a reform measure. "What they wanted," the president said, "was such a Civil Service bill as was already possessed by New York, Massachusetts and other of the more progressive Eastern States." I am quoting her words, but I do not remember quite all the States she named. I think California was one.

She went on to say that realizing the need of such a law, the women had presented such a bill to the Legislature six years ago, but that it had been rejected by two successive Legislatures, and they were now beginning to educate the men on the subject. The point is that they have —in spite of their votes—to fall back on the real source of power, public opinion.

And as a comment on this let me repeat what a voting woman, and a very prominent one, said lately: "If twelve women with no political affiliations, advocating a good measure, could go to the Legislature, it would be passed, but if twelve Republican or twelve Democratic women presented the same measure there would be opposition on political grounds," which is just what we Anti-Suffragists have always contended.

The proprietor of the leading paper here said to me, "It's rather a joke here, that in Idaho, if the women advocate a measure, it's apt to be defeated," and although this was said partly in fun, there seems, from all I hear, an element of truth in it.

The recent assault of Congress by the W. C. T. U. shows one of the dangers of Woman Suffrage. Women, bent on reform, seem to lose their sense of proportion and even, sometimes, of propriety, as the scenes in the House, when Representative Hobson spoke in favor of the Prohibition bill, show. Here, in Idaho, a vast number of "freak" bills are constantly introduced by women, but are generally "turned down" by the men. This very Civil Service bill which they are now advocating is not, as the lady whom I have already quoted said, a present need, and it would entail great expense on a community that has other much more important (at present) questions to meet, questions on which the development of the State depends. Idaho is a new and comparatively sparsely settled State. She is spending large sums of money on education. The superintendent of schools here is an expert whose advice is sought by cities far larger and better known than Boise. He has even been asked to investigate conditions in one of our New Jersey towns and his report was accepted and acted on by the Board of Education.

Talking with a prominent citizen here the other day, he told me that one effect of Woman Suffrage in politics had been to introduce an element of scandal and what he called "filth" into campaign work. And he explained that women workers were employed at five dollars a day to make a house to house visitation telling scandalous stories about candidates—stories which if told by a man would have resulted either in personal conflict or a suit for libel, but coming from women could not be so easily combated.

We must allow, then, that the woman's vote has not had a deteriorating effect on man's chivalry, but what about the "purifying influence" on politics? I am promised a copy of some articles, written by prominent Suffragist women, scoring the Legislature for their insulting (!) treatment of women's demands. And this, in spite of the fact that these women were voters.

ELIZABETH B. SYKES.

An American Beauty Rose Design for a Centrepiece.

This American beauty rose design s 22 inches in diameter and should be stamped on heavy round thread linen and developed in white mercerized cotton. Colored embroidery is seldom used now for centerpieces of this type, but, if preferred, it may be carried out in the natural colorings for a between-meals-mat.

The flowers may be worked in Kensington-stitch, padding the turned-over portions of the petals so that they will be quite high. Care must be taken, in embroidering these, to have the stitches placed so that, if the turned-over parts were flattened out, the threads would point down and into the base of the petal. The leaves may be done in Kensington or long-and-short stitch and the scalloped edge should be well padded and worked in buttonhole stitch in white.

These rose sprays are also appropriate for use on runners, pillow-covers and bags.

Pattern number 14459 will be supplied to readers for 15 cents.

THE CIRCUS IS HERE!

Eight hundred Plainfield girls took advantage of the offer made a few months ago by the Plainfield Daily Press through which they secured the "Mother's darling and Nurse Marie" paper dolls. The Press was complimented on all sides for furnishing that delightful family, and because of the great interest, the publishers have been seeking some other equally attractive cut-out for the young people. We have found it in the most original and attractive article of the kind that has ever been put on the market.

DING-A-LING CIRCUS comes on a big sheet of linen, and contains ALL OF THE WELL KNOWN ANIMALS found in the menagerie of the big circus, ready to cut out and paste so that they will practically be indestructible. Then there is a CIRCUS CAGE, drawn by two horses, TWO CLOWNS, and last but not least, TWO DOLLS, a boy and a girl, which can be cut out, sewed together, and then stuffed, so that they will stand up and view the animals which will make a

if they are spaced a foot apart. There are admission tickets, a big banner with the name of the circus, and natural history lectures telling all about everyone of the animals in the circus.

HOW TO GET THE CIRCUS

Cut out the admission ticket which will be found in today's Plainfield Daily Press, and bring it with only 48 cents, the actual cost of handling and distribution, to the Daily Press office, and get the two dolls, the parade wagon, all the animals, printed in life-like colors on everlasting cloth, all the admission tickets, lectures, and other things which go to make this the most remarkable offer ever made to the young folks by a Plainfield newspaper.

SENSATIONAL FINISH IN RUBBER CONTEST

No End of High Tallies When Newark Just Shades Elizabeth Elks.

ELKS' LEAGUE RECORD.

One of the most sensational matches that has been rolled this season in the Elks' League was decided last night when the members of the Newarw bowling team, on their own alleys, got two games out of three from the Elizabeth quintet in a postponed affair. The Newarks have now a lead of exactly two games each way over the Jersey City five.

The most exciting game in last night's series was the last. In this the battle was brought right down to the respective anchors, Henry Clauss for Elizabeth, and Billy Weingarth for Newark. The Elizabeths had a shade, but, as Weingarth made him spare, it was up to Clauss to do likewise and the usually reliable bowler for Elizabeth missed. Newark, with 959, finished five pins to the good.

Newark started off in fine style with a tally of 981, whereas the Elizabeths rolled their lowest total, a score of 890. In the next encounter the visitors came back strong with their best total of the season, a mark of 1010. Newark's 922 was entirely inadequate against this exhibition. Then came the final and deciding game, which was marked by the close finish already described.

Joe Nolte, the Elizabeth veteran, accounted for marks of 223 and 205 last night. Bock, the Elizabeth alley owner, had 210 and 207, and, with a score of 193 in the first game, averaged 203-1. Clauss tallied 214, Keller 209 and Gathman 201.

Getting down to Newark performances attention should be called to Howard Williams' fine work. He rolled 216, 200 and 191 for an average of 202-1. Fred Clark was there for 209 and 202. Hinton tallied 223 and Billy Weingarth 223.

Here are all the scores:

BRUNSWICK SCRIBE THINKS P. H. S. WEAKENED IN END

The football team of the New Brunswick High School, which was defeated by a score of 35 to 7 by the Plainfield High School eleven during the past season, hung up a record of six wins and two losses out of eight games. Included in the victories are decisions over Perth Amboy, Bound Brook, Rutgers Prep, Freehold, Perth Amboy, Flemington and Cranford.

Westfield and Plainfield were the only two teams to defeat the Brunswick team and a scribe of that town says: "Had Plainfield and Westfield been played later in the season they would have had a clean slate."

Queries, Comment and Answers

Sporting Editor:

Query—Will you kindly state how an electric shock can be received from a call bell and batteries?—R. U. M.

Answer—The best thing to do is to try it yourself and see. You will have to have a pretty strong battery in order to feel any shock. Connect one of the negative with one of the positive forces and place your fingers on the remaining negative and positive points and if the current is strong enough you ought to be able to get a shock. If you don't feel it through your fingers place the last two points mentioned against your tongue and you will get a salty taste.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Is there any premium on a nickle dated 1889?—K. W.

Answer—There may be if you keep it until the newness rubs off.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Where do the gate receipts for the Harvard-Yale game go? Do the players get paid? To whom are the players responsible for their conduct while on the field?—H. G. T.

Answer—The gate receipts are divided up between the athletic associations of the two colleges, and are used in defraying the expenses incurred in playing football, such as coaches' salaries, transportation, etc. The surplus is used to meet the expenditures in other lines of sport which do not pay for themselves. The players receive no money compensation out of the gate receipts although some of them receive big fees for writing for newspapers and other sporting chronicles. The captain is supposed to be responsible for the conduct of his men on the field and the players are supposed to obey his demands.

Sporting Editor:

Query—What are the traffic regulations regarding carriages standing on Front street?—K. D. S.

Answer—In the business district of Front street, east and west, the carriages must be drawn up to the curb on the right hand side of the street, that is, the right hand side of the driver. Carriages or wagons must not be left standing in front of a crossing.

Sporting Editor:

Query—Do the Watchung Mountains reach high enough to have any effect on the climatic conditions in Plainfield or North Plainfield?—B. S. A. W.

Answer—The mountains are high enough to cut off the winds coming in that direction and it is often said to be colder in North Plainfield than it is on this side of the brook, especially at the foot of the mountain where the wind currents are checked.

INDIVIDUAL STANDINGS IN THE FOUR Y. M. C. A. JUNIOR LEAGUES

Records compiled by Supervisor Henri Welle, of the Y. M. C. A. boys' department give the first point standing of the individual members of the three junior leagues for the present season in all around competition.

In the Indian League, the Omaha team is leading the way with a grand total of 1,453 points. It is a significant fact that this team has not annexed a single point in basketball but has made all of its tallies in athletics. Jim Brownlee, the little captain, leads the pack in individual scoring with a total of 316. The Sioux team is second in this league the Wawayanda team third and the Iroquois fourth. All of the rival forces are pressing the leader closely and any of the aggregations still has a nexcellent chance of coming out on top.

The Princeton team is leading the college league with 1431 points and the Harvard team is second. Columbia ranks fourth and Yale fifth in the total point standing.

In the Color league, the Orange team is first, the Reds second, the Greens third and the Whites fourth. The summaries to date:

BRUGGY SECOND HIGHEST BASKETBALL GOAL GETTER

Frank Bruggy, who played left field for the Plainfield Baseball Club during the Central New Jersey League championship race with Somerville last year and who formerly caught for Charlie Newhouse's Bound Brook aggregation, is stirring things up in the New York State basketball league during the off season.

Having recovered from a serious injury he sustained while taking part in a court battle in Paterson, Bruggy now has the honor of being the second highest scoring player in the league tourney. He has scored seventy-eight field goals and 173 points in twenty-six games. The leader has eighty field goals to his credit.

GAMES WANTED.

GENERAL SHAKE-UP IN Y. M. C. A. TEAM

Many Shifts Will Be Tried by Captain Bryniarski in Summit Game.

When the Y. M. C. A. basketball team lines up against the Summit Chapel Club aggregation on the Association floor tonight, Captain Albert Brynairski will have two complete teams on the court ready to do battle against the visitors. Numerous shifts and a general shakeup is promised. A trio of forwards will be on hand, a quartet of guards and at least two centres.

Summit is also bringing a big surplus here to play the locals and it seems possible at this time that there will be the largest number of players on the floor at one time than have appeared in the Association for any one game this season. The Y. M. C. A. team has not been working satisfactorily during the last trio of contests and Brynairski is experimenting with new men in an effort to bring about a stronger offensive machine.

"Bill" Taylor, one of the star forwards on the North Plainfield High School team two years ago, will wear a Y. M. C. A. suit tonight and "Bill" Peacock, last year's mainstay in the forward berth for the Y. M. C. A., will return to the fold once more, this time appearing as a guard. Moulton will receive a trial in centre and although he has made no other definite announcements, it is a foregone conclusion that the local leader has some additional surprises up his sleeve to spring at the last moment.

The teams will have the following men on the floor tonight:

Y. M. C. A.	SUMMIT.
Moulton	Reavey
Taylor	Leslie
McNamee	Gilchrist
forwards
Gavett, Moulton	Butterworth centres
Brynairski	Judson

N. P. H. S. Five Went to Bernardsville Under Pretense of Playing.

The North Plainfield High School girls' basketball team, accompanied by about a dozen supporters, started on a trip to Bernardsville at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, to play the girls' team of that place. The party arrived at their destination but the trip resolved itself into a joy ride and no game was played. Because of the damp weather, Manager Lillian Spencer decided to hire an auto truck instead of a stage, thus making the time on the road very short.

The start was made at 1 o'clock from the High School and the big truck bowled along in fine fashion until the long hill just out of Watchung was reached, where the machine died. The driver found water in the carburator and had to return to Plainfield for batteries. After waiting for two hours and a quarter the relief car came to the rescue and the trip was resumed.

When on the outskirts of Millington, the driver in avoiding the large hill, took a new road and became confused. Inquiries were made and while in a lonely wilderness another breakdown occurred. After much trouble the car ran into Bernardsville three hours later the game had been called a forfeit by the home team.

Manager Spencer then got in touch with the home manager by telephone and tried to arrange an evening game but owing to a High School Alumni dance this could not be done. The party stayed long enough to eat supper and then started home. No accidents occurred on the return trip and the run was made in excellent time. Mrs. John Green acted as chaperone. Another game will be arranged in the near future and the Bernardsville girls will also appear in Saengerbund Hall.

NEWS OF INTEREST IN THE PLAINFIELD BUILDING WORLD

George A. Bomann's New House Is Rapidly Nearing Completion

Fine Structure on Evergreen Avenue One of the Largest Residences in the City—Will Soon Be Ready for Occupancy—Novel Roof Effect.

The residence which has just about been completed for George A. Bomann, at 1326 Evergreen avenue, is one of the finest in that section of the city. The estimated cost of the house is $28,000. It is a two and a half Natco hollow tile structure faced with a dark gray stucco. An artistic appearance is given the outside walls by fancy designs of chestnut finished off naturally, inlaid in stucco. The roof, which is of shingles, has been laid to represent a thatched roof such as is used on African straw huts. To give it the natural color of the straw used by the Africans, a stain known as Austrian gray has been used.

At the front entrance, which faces Evergreen avenue, a small arch, with brackets of chestnut, finished natural, protects the entrance doors which lead into a lobby, artistically finished in mission style of natural chestnut. At the rear of the house a large concrete floor, stucco walled veranda has been built. With this porch and a projecting room on the second floor hanging over and acting as a roof for the veranda, an attractive finish is given that side of the house.

In the basement there is a wine closet, boiler room, coal bins, wood store room, cold closet and the laundry. The first floor contains a lobby hall, dining room, reception hall, entrance hall, a lavatory, two cloak rooms, living room, den, sun parlor, butler's pantry with sink, kitchen, refrigerator room and servants' dining room.

Chestnut folding doors at the front open into an entrance hall. This is finished with walls of chestnut in mission style. From here the main or reception hall is entered, where again chestnut predominates in the detailed trim. These decorations are accentuated by the artistic carvings in the moldings. False beams, faced with naturally finished chestnut adds to the appearance of the white ceilings. The reception room on the left is finished with trim of quartered white oak, stained the color of weathered oak. The floors in this room are of white oak parquet and will be lacquered, waxed and highly polished when completed. A large open fireplace faced with gray pressed bricks, and ornamented with a handsomely carved mantle of quartered oak, has been built in the centre of the northeast side of this room. The living room across the hall is also finished in quartered oak. The wainscoating of this room is about three feet high from the floor and is built with inlaid panels of oak, which are finished the color of weathered oak, while the rest of the border is left natural. The walls and ceiling of the living room are of white with false beams faced with oak. The sun parlor on the west has a concrete floor laid and marked off into three foot squares, and the exterior walls, the interior trim of which is white, have been erected of sashes that are set with twelve inch square pieces of glass.

In the dining room a large open fireplace is set in the wall. This is also faced with gray pressed brick and ornamented with a carved mantle of chestnut. The side walls of the compartment have been faced with chestnut finished naturally in the mission style. The ceiling, which is of white, has been set off with large false beams running the entire length of the room and faced with chestnut, finished natural. The den, like the dining room, is finished with mission styled walls of chestnut and white ceiling with false beams. In this room there has also been built a large window seat which affords a clear view of both Hillside and Evergreen avenues. Parquet floors will be laid in all these rooms when completed.

The butler's pantry has been equipped with a plate warmer, two dressers and a sink. The trim of this room is of cypress left natural, with coats of light varnish. Oak flooring has been laid in the pantry and has been left with the natural finish so as to prevent slipping. The kitchen, which is being equipped with a dresser, a stone hearth, a range and a pot closet, and the servants' dining room, are both finished with white walls and ceilings and trim of cypress left natural with several coats of varnish. The floors of these rooms are of hardwood with the natural surface.

There are two stairways leading from the first to the second floors, the main in the front of the house and a rear from the kitchen and servants' quarters. The main stairway is of chestnut finished naturally, with heavy artistically carved posts and hand rail. Below the hand rail the banister is made up of solid chestnut scrolled in attractive designs. Over the landing of the stairs on the second floor and the entrance to the flight leading to the top story a three part handsomely carved chestnut arch has been erected. The posts used to support the arches are also finely carved. The rear stairway is constructed of cypress finished naturally.

On the second floor there are four family bedrooms, a guest room, a balcony, a sewing room, and three private and one general bathroom, two of which are equipped with shower bath attachments, and tiled. All the bedrooms on this floor, as well as the guest and sewing rooms, are finished with walls of white and trimmings of chestnut, stained natural, and parquet floors. The bathrooms are lined with white tile walls, plaster ceilings and white tile floors. White enameled tubs and pedestal lavatories are included in the equipment of these rooms.

There are also two stairways leading from the second to the third floor. The main is of chestnut and the rear is of cypress, both finished naturally. On the top floor there are three servants' rooms, one guest room, a trunk room, a billiard room, a servant's bathroom, and a large cedar closet. All the rooms on this floor with the exception of the billiard and guest rooms are finished with white walls and ceilings and cypress trimmings. Plain hardwood floors have been laid in every room with the exception of the servant's bathroom. The guest room and billiard room are trimmed with chestnut, left natural. White tile floors and plaster walls, marked to represent tile, with white enameled tub and side wall lavatory complete the equipment of the servant's bathroom.

At the southwest end of the house, on the second story lever, an open porch or sleeping porch has been erected. This porch or balcony is covered with a frame work such as is seen in Italian gardens. The flooring of the porch has been covered with canvas and painted a dark gray, the same shade as the color of the stucco walls which rise from the porch floor and form the outside of the second and third story walls.

The building is set on a terrace and commands a good view of the street in front, rear and side of the property. It is expected that the structure will be completed by February 1 and will then be occupied by the owner, who is now touring Europe. The walls of all the rooms on the first floor will, when occupied, be covered with tapestries. Mr. Bomann is a dealer in this line of goods.

Marsh & Gette, of Plainfield and New York drew the plans for both the house and garage; Michael Rimmer did the carpenter work and interior decorating; William H. Pangborn's Sons did the masonry and plastering; Arthur F. Newman installed the plumbing and steam heating system and piped the house for gas, and Allen B. Laing wired the house for electric lights. The painting and finishing of the interior decoration is being done by Charles Conover & Co. The copper leader and gutters on the exterior were placed by A. M. Griffen Hardware Company. The J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Company supplied the mason materials and some of the lumber. McCullough's Mills furnished the millwork and the trimmings used on the interior decorations.

At the rear of the property a garage, which it is estimated will cost about $1,250, is being erected. This is also of hollow tile faced with dark stucco, and has inlaid chestnut trimmings finished naturally. The roof is finished with shingles to represent an African thatched straw roof. The garage is a story and a half structure and contains besides the usual garage rooms and repair shop on the ground floor, a suite of rooms on the second floor for the use of the chauffeur. These rooms will be finished with hardwood floors, white walls and ceilings and detailed trim of chestnut finished naturally.

ARTHUR E. CRONE TO HAVE NEW RESIDENCE

Clifford Manning Building Handsome House on Evergreen Avenue.

Clifford Manning, of North avenue, the real estate and building man, is having a two and a half story frame dwelling erected at 1107 and 1109 Evergreen avenue, for Arthur E. Crone, of Union street. The structure is to have a frontage of 32 feet and a depth of 37 feet. It is estimated that it will cost about $6,500.

On the first floor a dining room, library, reception hall, kitchen and large pantry will be built. Four bedrooms and two bathrooms will be on the second floor while three maids bedrooms will be on the top floor. There will also be two large storage rooms on the top floor. Gas, electric lights and a steam heating system will be installed in the building. The room at the northeast corner of the house on the second floor is so built that by opening the windows it can be converted into an open air sleeping porch. The interior decorations for the present will be white walls and ceilings for the first floor, set off with a detailed trim of chestnut, finished natural, and parquet floors. The second and third story rooms will have white walls and ceilings and will be finished with white wood trimmings enameled white and hardwood floors. The staircase leading from the first to the second story will have white quartered oak treads, which will be lacquered, waxed and polished, and dark oak risers finished natural. Both bathrooms will be equipped with white enameled bath tubs and pedestal basins. The floors in both these rooms will be covered with white tile and the side walls for a height of about five feet will be made to represent tile.

The exterior walls, gables and roof will be faced with shingles which will be painted white. Light green shutters and dark green stained roof will set off the finish of the side walls. A room at the southwest end of the building which is to be used as either a sun parlor or conservatory, will have walls of twelve inch squares of glass.

J. Newton Apgar, of Dunellen, is doing the carpenter work, and F. H. Gise, also of Dunellen, has the masonry contract; Richard Cody, of this city, is installing the plumbing and heating systems as well as the gas piping and gutter and leader work. Charles H. Lane has been awarded the painting contract. The J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Company supplied all the mason and carpenter materials. McCullough's Mills furnished the millwork and interior trimmings. The house will be completed about February 1 and will then be occupied by the owner.

PLAN ANOTHER BUILDING.

Enoch Berry, of Netherwood, president of the Berry Building and Construction Company, who have done extensive building and real estate developing in the Netherwood section, is contemplating the erection of a frame building which will be used as a store on the last of the undeveloped land owned by the company at 1133 East Second street. Within the last two years this company has had about thirty-four houses and buildings erected on the tracts owned and operated by them. The last building now being constructed for Mrs. Mary E. Mallison, will close up the building business for the company until general business conditions improve. When seen, Mr. Berry said that although a number of buildings they have erected were occupied or sold, the company looked forward for dividends from property already developed before further development would be undertaken.

NEW HOME FOR DR. TITSWORTH

Handsome Structure Being Erected at Hillside and Evergreen Avenues.

TO COST ABOUT $17,000

Ground Surrounding Will Be Laid Out in Unique Manner—Large Porches—Six Bedrooms and Four Baths on Second Floor.

A two and a half story frame and stucco dwelling is being erected at the corner of Evergreen and Hillside avenues for Dr. Sydney R. Titsworth. The structure has sixty-one foot frontage and a depth of twenty-six feet, and the estimated cost will be $17,000.

On the first floor will be a parlor, reception room, dining room, consultation room, office, kitchen and pantry. Six bedrooms and four bathrooms will be on the second story while the top floor will be finished with two bedrooms and a bathroom for servants' quarters. The rooms on the first floor with the exception of the office, kitchen and pantry, will be finished with white walls, chestnut detailed trimmings stained a silver gray and white oak floors, which will be finished with lacquer, waxed and will be highly polished. The trim in the office and consultation room will be similar to that of the other rooms with the exception of the flooring. The floors in these rooms will be of Komposite. The kitchen and pantry will be trimmed with chestnut detailed trim left natural, and will also have Komposite floors. The pantry will be equipped with two large dish closets on the side walls, a plate warmer and a butler's lavatory as well as a dresser. The kitchen will have in addition to its range on a stone hearth a dresser, a pot closet and a refrigerating room.

Both the reception and dining rooms will have large open fireplaces faced with red pressed bricks, backed with gray fireproof brick. The red brick of the face will be set off to good advantage with an outline of white mortar.

There will be two stairways leading to the second and third stories. One in the rear, from the kitchen to the servants quarters, which will be winding built of plain North Carolina pine finished naturally. The main stairway will have oak treads, finished natural, white wood risers, enameled white and a banister of cherry, which will be stained mahogany. The balance of the banister will be finished with cherry, enameled white.

The bedrooms on the second floor will all be finished with white walls, and ceilings, white oak, lacquered, waxed and highly polished floors and detail trim of chestnut stained a glossy silver gray. The bathrooms will all be equipped with white tile floors and walls. Three of the four rooms will also be equipped with shower bath attachments. The bath tubs used in all the rooms will be of white enamel and pedestal white enamel basins will be used on the second floor. The servants rooms on the third floor will be finished with white walls and ceilings, oak floors and trimmings of chestnut stained silver gray.

The basement ceiling is nine feet six inches high. The formation of the land that the structure is being erected on is the cause of this extreme height. The front of the building which faces Hillside avenue, is level with the roadbed. On Evergreen avenue at this point there is a steep hill which necessitated digging the front portion of the cellar deeper than usual and building the rear foundation wall considerably higher so as to reach the level of the first floor beams. The basement when completed will contain a boiler room, coal bins, a wood store room, a laundry and drying room. The house will be heated with a hot water heating system. Both gas and electric lighting systems will be installed.

On the first floor at the southwest corner of the house a small conservatory will be erected while on the second floor over the conservatory a glass enclosed sleeping porch is being built. There will be large bay windows on each floor on the northwest end of the dwelling.

Folding doors will lead from the living room to a large porch at the rear of the house. The porch floor, which is to be built of re-inforced concrete, will be supported by six square columns of concrete which will be built to the level of the porch rail. Above the porch there will be a circular roof which will be supported by four twenty-four inch square chestnut columns. The under side of the porch roof will be of North Carolina pine finished natural, while the supporting columns will also be left the natural wood color. The railing around the porch will be about eighteen inches thick and will be faced with stucco.

The main entrance to the building will be from the Hillside avenue side. A flight of four cement steps will lead to the front door which will be about eight feet wide. A small entrance porch will be erected over the steps and will be supported by four large chestnut, mission style, brackets. The outside walls of the building will be faced with a cream-colored porcelain stucco set off with mission trim of chestnut at the ends, top, and bottom of each wall. The window frames will also be of chestnut, mission style. Over the front entrance there will be placed a cement panel which will contain three raised diamond tiles, and two artistic scroll work supports. The lower edge or cornice of the roof will extend over the side walls about four feet and will be faced with North Carolina ceiling material, left natural. The roof will be of a special green tile which is being manufactured purposely for this building. At the two front windows on the northeast side of the house two oak flower boxes have been placed. These boxes will be left their natural color.

At the rear of the house the property will be graded up to within three feet of the porch floor and will be so arranged that in addition to a tennis court, a sunken garden, with a circular walk will be placed in the center of the lot. At the left side of the property a kitchen garden will also be laid out.

To insure the best quality of work, the owner has requested the contractors to close up the building work on January 3 for three months to allow the sheathing and other materials used in the construction a chance to weather. It is expected that the building will be completed about October 1, 1914.

T. J. Freeman was awarded the general contract for the masonry, carpentering and leader and gutter work on the structure. Conniff Brothers did the mason work and Mr. Freeman is doing the carpentering and inside decorating. Winn & Higgins are installing the heating system and gas piping. Runyon & Prudhon are doing the painting and finishing of the interior decorations. The tile roofing is being done by the Michigan firm who are manufacturing the tile and an Englewood contractor will wire the house for electric lights. The contracts for the leader and gutter work, which is to be done in copper and the installing of the heating system have not been awarded up to the present time. Tuttle Brothers, of Westfield, furnished the building materials and millwork and the J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Company supplied the mason material.

When completed the building will be occupied by the owner who will also have his offices there.

NEW STORE AND RESIDENCE FOR MRS. MALLINSON

The Berry Building Construction Company, of this city, is erecting a frame building at 1129 East Second street, with a one-story store at the front and a two and a half story dwelling at the rear. The size of the entire structure will be 24 feet front and 53 feet deep and will cost about $5,500.

A parlor, dining room, reception hall, kitchen and butler's pantry will be on the first floor and four bedrooms and a bathroom will be located on the second story. The top floor will be used as a storage attic. Piping for gas and wiring for electric lights will be installed in the building. Steam heat will be used. The bathroom will be finished in white with white enamel bath tub and side wall, flat back basin.

The interior decorations of the first floor will be white walls and ceilings set off with detailed trims of chestnut finished natural, and hardwood floors. The trim of the second story will be similar to that of the first floor with the exception of North Carolina pine floors instead of hardwood. The interior of the store extension will be finished off with white plaster walls and ceiling and hardwood floors.

When completed the exterior walls for the first story will be faced with weather boards which will be painted white, and the second story and gables will be finished off with shingles which will be stained a creosote green. The roof which is also to be of shingles will be stained green. The side walls of the store will be of weather board painted white.

Conniff Brothers are the masons doing the work; the Berry Building Construction Company, the carpentering, and A. A. Prudhon is the painter and decorator. Van Zandt & Doringer are installing the plumbing and heating systems as well as the gutter and leader work, and Charles Miles is doing the wiring for electric lights. The J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Company furnished all the lumber and mason material; McCullough's Mills supplied the millwork and interior trimmings and A. M. Griffen Hardware Company the hardware.

The building will be completed about February 15 and will be occupied by Mrs. Mary E. Mallison, now of West Fourth street. On February 20, Mrs. Mallison will open the store with a full line of drugs and ice cream and soda.

Three new houses have been completed on Monroe avenue between Seventh and Eighth streets on the tract which was sold last year by H. S. Simons, who threw a large number of valuable lots open to development.

Dr. R. Waldo Emerson, of Park avenue, has had a two and a half story frame dwelling erected on his property at 731 Monroe avenue. The building which has just about been completed, cost about $7,500. A parlor, reception hall, dining room, living room, large butler's pantry and kitchen are on the first floor while four bedrooms and two bathrooms are on the second story and one maid's bedroom and two large storage rooms on the top floor. The interior decorations of the rooms on the first floor are white walls and ceilings and trimmings of white wood enameled white. Parquet floors, which have been lacquered, waxed, and highly polished are on the first floor. The stairway from the first to the second story has a handrail of mahogany with lattice work of white wood enameled white. The treads of the stairs are finished in mahogany with risers of white wood enameled white. The rooms on the second floor are finished with parquet floors, white walls and ceilings, and trimmings of white wood enameled white.

The bathrooms are equipped with white enamel tubs and pedestal basins. The floors are lined with white tile and the plaster walls for a height of five feet from the floor are marked off to represent tile. The stairs leading to the third story are of cypress finished naturally. The maid's room on this floor is trimmed with a detail trim of cypress finished naturally and oak flooring.

The exterior of the house is covered with a facing of shingles and has been stained a tile red. The roof of the building is also of shingles but has been left natural. The red of the exterior of the building is set off with the white trimmings of the window sashes and frames.

J. Nathanson had the general contract and did the carpentering, masonry and painting and interior decorating. Rowley, of New York, did the plumbing, installing the gas piping and hot water heating system. The Plainfield Ice & Supply Company furnished all the building materials and Burdick's Mills the millwork and interior decorations. Geo. E. Watt laid the parquet floorings and Kirch Hardware Company, of Park avenue, supplied the hardware.

The property has been placed on the market for either sale or rent.

Rowley & Barasch, of New York, have had two single family frame dwellings two and a half stories high erected on their property at 729 and 733 Monroe avenue. It is estimated that each house cost about $8,000. A parlor, dining room, living room, reception hall, butler's pantry and kitchen are located on the first floor, while four bedrooms, a bathroom and a large sun parlor are on the second story. The third floor has been finished with two servant's rooms and two storage rooms. Laundries have been installed in the cellars. The houses will be heated with steam and lighted with electric lights and gas. The parlors, dinning rooms and living rooms are finished off with white walls set off with white wood trimmings and parquet flooring. Large open fireplaces which are faced with red pressed brick and backed with gray fireproof brick have been built in the side walls of the living rooms. Antique brass andirons have been placed in front of the fire places. The stairways leading from the first to the second floors have been finished in oak with both risers and treads stained weathered oak. All the rooms on the second floor with the exception of the bathroom, have been finished with white walls and ceilings, and parquet floorings, set off with chestnut trimmings, finished naturally. The bathroom floors are of white tile and the side walls to within about three feet of the ceilings are faced with white tile bricks. White enameled tubs and pedestal lavatories are also included in the equipment of these rooms.

Cypress is the material used in the erection of the stairs leading to the third floors. These stairs have the natural wood finish covered with several coats of transparent varnish. The servant's rooms on these floors have white walls and ceilings, hardwood floors and are trimmed with cypress finished natural.

The exterior of each house is half weatherboard and half shingles, the weatherboard sections being painted white and the shingle facings and roofs being left natural. The white of the side walls is set off by a contrast with dark green shutters.

J. Nathanson was awarded the general contract and had charge of the carpentering, masonry and painting and interior decorating. The Plainfield Ice & Supply Company furnished all the lumber and building materials. Burdick's Mills supplied the millwork and material used in the interior decorations. Rowley, of New York, installed the plumbing, heating and gas piping as well as the tinning and leader and gutter work. George E. Watt laid the parquet floorings; Kirch Hardware Company supplied the hardware and William Ord, of East Seventh street, wired the house for electric lights.

The houses were both completed about two weeks ago and have been placed on the market by their owners for either sale or rent.

$6,600 HOUSE ON WEST EIGHTH STREET COMPLETED

Alfred Johnson, of 1020 West Eighth street, has had a two and a half story, one family frame dwelling erected on his property at 1012 West Eighth street. It is estimated that the structure will cost the owner about $6,600.

The windows in this room are those known as leaded windows, and a dining room, with white walls and ceilings, parquet floors and trimmings of oak. Not only has the Christmas Club been popular but it has become so necessary to the people of this city that The Plainfield Trust Company has decided to continue it for another year. The card system will again be used, each member receiving a card on which all payments will be punched and a duplicate of which will be retained in this office.

IN THE 1914 CLUB THERE WILL BE THREE CLASSES

as follows:

CLASS 5 — Pay 5c the first week, 10c the second, and increase your payment each succeeding week by 5c. The last payment in Class 5 will be $2.50 and the amount of the check will be $63.75, with interest at 2%.

CLASS 5-A — Pay $2.50 the first week, $2.45 the second, and decrease your payment each succeeding week by 5c. The last payment in Class 5-A will be 5c and the amount of the check will be $63.75, with interest at 2%.

CLASS 100 — Pay $1.00 each week and at the close of the Club receive a check for $50.00, with interest at 2%. Class 100 was so popular in 1913 that a special feature will be made of it in the new Club.

A payment due on Monday of a given week may be made any time before the close of business on Saturday of that week, without loss of interest.

CLASSES 2 AND 2-A

have been discontinued for the reason that those who have learned to save in these small amounts are now anxious to progress to the 5c Classes. When once the habit of saving has been acquired, it will be found practically as easy to make the payments called for in Classes 5 and 5-A as those in Classes 2 and 2-A, and at the close of the Club the amount of the check received will be

OVER TWO AND A HALF TIMES LARGER.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

HE MUST FORFEIT $20 FOR EACH DAY

That's the Penalty if High School Addition is Unfinished on February 1.

NEED WORKINGMEN

Contractor Contends He Need Not Pay for Failure to Complete Job in Specified Tome—Work Behind Schedule Time.

Facing the penalty of a forfeiture of $20 a day for the period of time that remains between February 1 and when the completion of the addition to the Plainfield High School, the Paul J. Exner Company, which has the general contract for the work, is scouring the country for workingmen in an effort to finish the job as soon after the agreed time as possible. It is practically certain now that the work will not be finished by February 1 and present conditions indicate that the building will not be ready for use much before the opening of the fall term in September.

The Exner Company has control of all the contracts with the exception of the one for heating and ventilating, which was awarded to George J. Tobin and the latter work cannot be carried to a finish until the general contractors install certain portions for which they are responsible.

It was stated by one of the men having charge of the work that a general dissention has arisen among the various contractors over the tardiness on the part of some of those who are alleged to be holding the others back, because of the uncompleted condition of their portion of the work. Every effort is being made to rush the jobs as much as possible and new men are being added daily to the small army now employed in an effort to make the penalty period as short as can be.

Those concerned in the management of the company in charge of the work claim that the concern cannot be held legally responsible for the $20 a day penalty and it is quite likely that the company will make a contest. The contractor contends that as no provision was made for bonus money in the event of the contract being completed previous to February 1 the conditions favor one party entirely and there are no grounds for compelling the forfeiture.

CAMP FIRE MEETING HELD IN PARISH HOUSE

The first camp fire meeting of the Christian Endeavorers of the Congregational church was held in the new parish house last night and an enjoyable program appropriate to the routine of work carried on by that organization was rendered by the members. A large camp fire was lighted in the centre of the meeting room and the young people gathered in a close circle about the blaze and the older guests formed a larger circle on the outside.

Christmas carols were sung by the group and a number of Christmas stories were told by those present. Mrs. Foster Updike read two selections, "A Christmas Legend" and "When the Chimes Rang."

Following the informal program of speaking and singing, J. M. Whiton gave a lecture on his trip to Bethlehem telling of many interesting experiences he had there.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the talk.

WORSHIPPERS FILL THE FIRST BAPTIST

Superb Musical Program and Inspiring Sermon Features of Xmas Service.

The annual Christmas musical service attracted about twelve hundred people to the First Baptist church, last night. It seemed to be the impression that the fine choir never sang with such sweetness and fervor. Miss Mildred Dilling, harpist, and Miss Florence Wohlfert, violinist, played several selections, and the Christmas oratorio of Saint-Saens was especially fine.

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong's sermonette on the text, "Praise the Lord With the Harp," was especially fitting and was followed by an exquisite solo on that instrument. Dr. Strong emphasized several interesting points in reference to that sweetest and oldest of all musical instruments. "The harp is supremely beautiful in contour as well as in harmony," said the speaker. "It is a thing of beauty and grace simply to look at, and beside which all others are cumbersome or unlovely. It is the instrument of heaven. It is the instrument of womanhood. It not only requires grace in the manipulation of its strings, but it compels it.

"The harp above all other instruments is most adapted to the running of arpeggios. Art, including music, for music is art—ought never to be divorced from religion. It conduces to the highest spirituality. The great All-Father is the Master Musician and Artist, the creator of both, and the one who most delights in it.

"There is that, however, in which He delights far more, and that is a beautiful Christ-controlled human life. Even the most unlovely person can be transformed and made Christlike if the great musician is allowed to play on the life and bring out the beauty that is in it, for no matter what the instrument is, no beauty and harmony comes forth till the fingers of the artist touch the strings and he pours out his soul into it and the music bursts forth in response to his touch. This would the Author of all beauty and music do in every human life."

YOUNGSTERS MADE HAPPY AT XMAS TREE CELEBRATION

The annual gathering of members of the Gesang and Turn Verein and their families in observance of Christmas was held yesterday afternoon in Saengerbund Hall, where Yuletide decorations, including a huge Christmas tree appropriately trimmed, changed that popular amusement hall into an unusually enchanting scene. The occasion each year is arranged principally for the amusement of the children and yesterday was no exception. Presents were given them and entertainment was afforded. The event culminated with the serving of refreshments and the congregational singing of "America."

The singing section connected with the organization was present in full force and rendered a lengthy program of selections. A number of talented children also recited Christmas poems and several other entertained with instrumental numbers. When the gifts were distributed, the guests formed in a long line and led by August Wolfe, chairman of the arrangement committee, marched around the hall and surrounded the Christmas tree. Those who assisted Mr. Wolf in making the affair an enjoyable one were: Fred Koller, Richard Walter, Lawrence Scheelein Mrs. Fred Frick, Mrs. G. O. Keller and Mrs. A. Stenzenberger.

CHRISTMAS OBSERVED BY CONGREGATIONALISTS

A Christmas entertainment for the young folks of the Congregational church and their parents was held in the new Parish house, Saturday night, a program of sleight-of-hand tricks featuring the evening of jollity. Mrs. Charles A. Rice read a Christmas story, following which Santa Claus made his appearance.

Gifts were distributed among the members of the primary department by Santa, who unloaded a pack of good things during his visit to the church. The cradle roll of the parish, which is composed of a number of children too young to realize the true spirit of Christmas, was remembered with speaking animals. As Santa Claus distributed the gifts the parents of the babies accepted them in behalf of the youngsters.

MANY BOYS HEAR NOTED EXPLORER

Companion of D. L. Elmendorf Appears as Speaker Before Juvenile Audience.

DESCRIBED EXPLOITS

F. W. White Lectured Before 300 Boys in the Association Auditorium This Afternoon, Illustrating His Talk.

Telling in a graphic way the customs of the Hopi Indians and the cave dwellers of southern Colorado, F. H. White, companion of Dwight Lathrop Elmendorf, one of America's most famous explorers, interested a group of nearly 300 Plainfield boys in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at a rally meeting arranged by Boys' Secretary C. William Bingeman and held under the auspices of the Association Boys' Department. Mr. White illustrated his lecture with scores of views which he took personally while accompanying the noted explorer and his talk was based on what he actually saw in the remote districts of the continent.

Mr. White lived among the Hopi Indians for a number of years and he displayed many curios he collected while in the territory inhabited by that tribe. He described the industries common among the Redskins and explained their favorite forms of recreation and compared the latter with the amusements even now sought by Americans.

The speaker told of personal visits he had made among the cliff dwellers of Colorado and explained the customs classed as barbarous by the Americans who visit that district. He also showed by illustration the vast progress made by these cliff dwellers in civilization and said although they continue to make their homes in caves the conditions surrounding their lives are vastly different than they were a few years ago. He told of his explorations into heretofore untraversed districts of Colorado and described his impression of the inhabitants and their modes of life.

The talk was given in a way of interest to the particular class of listeners which Mr. White had as an audience and he was loudly applauded by the members of the boys' department and their friends at the conclusion of his lecture.

The Hope Indians furnished the most interesting incidents for the juvenile audience and the habits and customs of the Redskins were shown and described to them in a way that called forth considerable applause from the youngsters.

MONTREAL VISITED BY A CONFLAGRATION

In Half Hour 20 Bldgs. Are Destroyed and Firemen Resort to Dynamite.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Montreal, Canada, Dec. 29.—With practically no water, caused by a break in the main line from Verdum Intake, fire broke out this afternoon at the corner of Hubert and Ontario streets and within half an hour twenty buildings were reduced to ashes.

At 2:10 o'clock four explosions of gasoline occurred and the fire was spreading rapidly. The damage thus far exceeds $250,000.

Montreal, Canada, Dec. 29.—At 2:25 o'clock, Chief Tremblay, of the fire department, started to dynamite buildings in the line of the fire which at that time was not under control.

Unable to do anything with the hose, firemen displayed bravery in rushing into the burning buildings to rescue inmates. A few of the buildings that were quickly destroyed by the flames were those of the Montreal Portrait Co., the Montreal Auto and Garage Co. and the Ontario Shoe Company.

WATCHUNG HUNT CLUB'S HOME ASSURED FOR TIME

The Watchung Hunt Club which now occupies buildings and land near South Plainfield owned by E. L. Voorhees, has a two-year lease on the property, with a privilege of a renewal for three years and has the chance of purchasing the property within their term of the lease for the sum of $14,500.

The lease which the club holds protects its interests and insures a home for several years to come. This is about the only tract of land available within a short distance of Plainfield which is suited to the needs of the club. It is large enough for a small meet such as was held last summer, while the club house is well adapted for the needs of the members.

XMAS SAVINGS FUND HAS STARTED ANEW

Plainfield Trust Co. Provides a Rare Opportunity to Thrifty Ones.

Everyone in Plainfield, citizen, housewife, merchant and tax collector, will be glad to hear that the Christmas Club has come again and was started by The Plainfield Trust Company this morning. Since its first appearance in 1912 such problems as the Christmas gift, the coal supply, taxes, the children's college education, and many other things that make excessive demands on the pocketbook have been solved and people are learning that through the agency of the club things which used to be a burden are now made easy.

The plan is so simple that a child can understand it and can attend to the making of payments for the older ones who may not be at liberty during banking hours to call at the bank in person. The 1914 club is to have three classes, as follows: Class five, in which five cents is paid the first week, 10 cents the second and so on for the fifty weeks that the club is run; Class five-A, in which $2.50 is paid the first week, $2.45 the second, the following payments decreasing at the rate of five cents a week; and Class 100, which calls for even payments of $1.00.

In former years there were two two-cent classes but it was found that as people became used to the idea of saving money, they were anxious to progress to the larger amounts, hence the two cent classes have been abandoned.

So novel is the plan that it appeals to rich and poor alike and The Plainfield Thurst Company predicts that the new club will show even greater results than the one which has just closed.

PREACHED AT HOLY CROSS.

Preaching before a large congregation last night in Holy Cross Episcopal church, Rev. Dr. Herbert Shipman, rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, of New York, gave a general review of the happenings in the Christian world during the year now ending, and made a strong plea to his hearers to make their lives better and more useful in 1914.

POVERTY-STRICKEN FAMILIES ASSISTED

The Appeal for C. O. S. Special Relief Work Brought in $447.

So enthusiastic was the response to the appeal which the Charity Organization made through the columns of the Plainfield Daily Press for four families that the amount which was hoped for, $350, has been exceeded by nearly $100 and it is now planned to meet the needs of an additional family with this sum. This last family consists of only three persons but at present both breadwinners are incapacitated and the third member, a little child, will have to be entirely provided for, temporarily. It would seem that the givers to the Special Christmas Fund could not have had any better case in mind when they answered the appeal for funds.

Altogether seventy-nine people contributed to the total of $447.50. One gave $50, the largest amount subscribed; two gave $30; a class gave $21.90, and one person gave $20. Six gave $10, twenty-five gave $5 (the most popular sum), fifteen gave $2, and sixteen gave $1. No contributions were more welcome than 50 cents each from two givers as were contributions of $5 each from three, while five checks for $15, $13.35, $10.20, $6 and $4 respectively were all gratefully received—79 in all contributed $447.50.

The plan was, if possible, to interest a large number of persons in the needs of four families that were particularly needy. The Christmas season will last many months in these four homes and in the restored home of the fifth family also, thanks to the Special Christmas Fund's seventy-nine givers.

FIVE LOCAL YOUTHS ARE LODGED IN JAIL

Five local youths ranging in ages from 18 to 22 years, went to Dunellen, Saturday night, where they caused a disturbance after "celebrating." As a result this morning they are lodged in the Middlesex county jail in New Brunswick to serve a five days' term imposed upon them by Recorder David Campbell, when they were arraigned in the borough court yesterday morning on charges of disorderly conduct.

They are James Ward, Oliver Peal, John Dea, Fred Davis and Harry Mallison. They broke several windows in the business section of the town and were placed under arrest by Chief Marshal W. J. Davenport and Marshals C. W. Blaine and John Hill, charged with disorderly conduct. The recorder severely reprimanded the prisoners yesterday before sentencing them each to pay $5 fine or spend five days in jail.

NEW YORK LAWYER

Mayor Nominates Democrat to Succeed Democrat—Appointee Son of the Late Rowland Cox and He is Well Known in This City.

Mayor Percy H. Stewart announced today that he had appointed Archibald Cox, of Watchung avenue, a member of the Board of Education to succeed Calvin E. Brodhead, who recently resigned and removed to Scranton, Pa. The selection of Mr. Cox is considered an excellent one and considering that he is an especially busy man, being engaged in the practice of law in New York, it is a source of gratification to the Mayor that he was able to secure Mr. Cox's consent to serve on the Board.

Mr. Cox is the eldest son of Mrs. Rowland Cox of West Seventh street. He was born and has always lived in this city. He was graduated from Harvard in the Class of 1896 and the Harvard Law School three years later. He had just been admitted to the New York Bar when his father died, and he succeeded to the latter's large law practice, meeting with much success.

Mr. Cox, like his father, has always taken an interest in city affairs, although this is the first time he has held public office. His father was a member of the Common Council during the earlier days, representing the Third ward, and he was also a trustee of the Plainfield Public Library and Reading Room and the Hillside Cemetery Association.

NECROLOGICAL ROLL OF WORLD'S GREAT

The "Grim Reaper" Carried Off Many Famous Men During the Present Year.

New York, Dec. 27.—In looking back over the toll of the months which make up the year now nearing its close, it seems as if death had exacted an unusual harvest from the ranks of men who had attained for one reason or another, special prominence in the theatre of the world's activities. Of course, no year passes without leaving an impressive necrological roll, but the one about to take its departure has made some rather startling erasures from the scroll of living fame.

Two rather interesting facts serve to distinguish the death list of 1913 from those of most previous years. The first is that the names of comparatively few women are included, and the second is the almost total absence of deaths by violence. The only person of world-wide prominence who met a violent death during the year was King George of Greece, who was assassinated by a fanatic.

The American world of finance and industry has made distinguished contributions to the mortality record, that of J. Pierpont Morgan naturally attracting the greatest measure of public attention. Other notables in the list were Henry M. Flagler, the Standard Oil magnate and railroad builder; Adolphus Busch, the St. Louis brewer; Edward Morris, one of the heads of the Chicago meat packing industry; James R. Keene, famous as a Wall street speculator; Anthony N. Brady, lighting and traction magnate, and Benjamin Altman and Robert C. Ogden, New York merchants.

In addition to Mr. Morgan and Mr. Flagler, both powerful factors in the railroad world, there passed away during the year a number of prominent railroad executives, active or retired. These included William W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway; Roswell Miller, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; Thomas M. Emerson, president of the Atlantic Coast line; James McCrea, former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad; Horace G. Burt, former president of the Union Pacific, and J. R. Parrott, president of the Florida East Coast Railway.

The army and navy also have sustained serious losses, including Lieut. Col. David Du Bose Gaillard, who directed the Culebra cut engineering work on the Panama Canal, besides several other well known general officers. Eight rear admirals, active or retired, have joined the great majority. Great Britain lost her famous soldier, Field Marshal Viscount Wolsely, and Admiral Sir Archibald L. Douglas, former Lord of the British Admiralty. France lost Gen. Andre, her former war minister.

Royalty made few contributions to the mortality record of the year. With the exception of George I. of Greece no reigning monarch in Europe died during the twelve months. The Dowager Empress of China passed away and Menelik of Abyssinia was again reported dead. The British nobility lost the Duke of Abercorn and the Duke of Sutherland, the latter one of England's greatest land owners.

Death deprived the College of Cardinals of five of its members, among them Cardinal Oreglia, the dean of the Sacred College, and the famous Cardinal Rampolla, the former Papal Secretary of State. The most notable loss in American church circles has been the Rt. Rev. William Croswell Doane, the venerable Episcopal bishop of Albany. Other deaths recorded among American churchmen are those of two Catholic bishops, Hogan, of Kansas City, and Kenny, of St. Augustine.

Some of the deaths of the year were not unexpected. John Fritz, famous for the part he played in the development of the iron and steel industry in the United States, had passed his ninetieth year. So had Alfred Russell Wallace, the famous British scientist. Earl Nelson was in his ninetieth year and Sir Richard Scott, senator and long a prominent figure in Canadian public affairs, was eighty-eight.

From the ranks of politics and diplomacy have been taken many figures of national or international prominence. Here again, however, the foreign mortuary role is far in excess of that of the United States. The great majority of the American statesmen and diplomats who passed away during the year had previously retired from the arena of public affairs. The most notable exceptions were William J. Gaynor, mayor of New York city; Jeff Davis, United States senator from Arkansas; Gen. Joseph F. Johnston, United States senator from Alabama, and Timothy L. Woodruff, former lieutenant governor of New York and later a leader of the Progressive party.

A number of former members of the United States senate passed away, among them John B. Henderson, of Missouri; Frank O. Briggs, of New Jersey; John Martin, of Kansas, and Thomas W. Palmer, of Michigan.

Frank S. Black, ex-governor of New York and at one time an influential figure in Republican politics, was included in the mortality record of former governors. Others were William J. Northen, of Georgia, and Gen. Samuel J. Crawford, who was the Civil War governor of Kansas.

Under the head of diplomats may be placed the name of Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, who was the American minister to Spain at the beginning of the Spanish-American War.

Among the serious losses sustained by other countries were Viscount Hayashi, Japanese statesman and diplomat; Prince Katsura, three times premier of Japan; August Ferdinand Bebel, the German Socialist leader; Emile Ollivier, former premier of France; Edouard Lockroy, French statesman and writer; Sigismundo Moret, former premier of Spain; Rt. Hon. George Wyndham, former Chief Secretary for Ireland; Alfred Lyttleton, former Secretary of State for the Colonies in the British ministry; Baron Fava, former Italian ambassador at Washington; Gen. Nicolas de Pierola, former president of Peru; Tancrede Auguste, president of Hayti; Dr. Manuel E. Arraujo, president of Salvador; Manpel Bonilla, president of Honduras; Dr. Theodor von Holleben, former German ambassador at Washington, and Sir John Gordon Sprigg, four times premier of Cape Colony.

In the ranks of the law, science, education, art, journalism and general affairs the vacancies have been numerous and many of them conspicuous. Henri Rochefort is perhaps the best known representative of journalism, and Alfred Austin and Joaquin Miller of the world of letters. American literature also lost Charles Major, one of the most popular of the modern novelists.

E. M. Holland and Aubrey Boucicault were perhaps the most noted players who passed away during the year. Other losses sustained by the American stage were Della Fox, the light opera comedienne, and George Thatcher, the veteran minstrel.

The educational world is represented in the mortuary list by Dr. Andrew S. Draper, Commissioner of Education for the State of New York and former president of the University of Illinois. The art of painting lost Sir Alfred East, president of the Royal Society of British Artists, and American sculpture Louis Saint-Gaudens and Franklin Simmons. Distinguished represenatives of the legal profession were Lord Gorell, the eminent British jurist, and Henry Billings Brown, former associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Among the scientists may be mentioned Dr. Lewis Swift, noted astronomer, and Prof. John Milne, the English authority on earthquakes, in addition to the famous veteran, Alfred Russell Wallace.

The fields of distinction are multiplying and broadening and Fame fashions her garlands for an ever increasing number. Thus, when the Reaper appears, ths swath must be a constantly widening one.

In a long but unclassified list of the dead of the year may be mentioned the names of the following: Congressman Timothy D. ("Big Tim") Sullivan, a unique figure in the political life of New York city; Charles Tellier, the discoverer of the cold-storage process; Lord Avebury (Sir John Lubbock), who was equally distinguished as a parliamentarian, banker and writer; Carl Hagenbeck, the world's most noted animal collector; James Farley, who achieved wide notoriety as a strike-breaker; Bernard Quaritch, the London dealer in rare books; James Ross, one of the builders of the Canadian Pacific Railway; Lady Dorothy Nevill, noted for her published reminiscences; Gen. J. H. Kidd, Civil War veteran and noted Indian fighter; Rosa Sarto, sister of Pope Pius X.; Thomas A. Sperry, founder of the trading-stamp business; Bradley Martin, a well-known social leader in New York and London; Sir George Orby Wombwell, the last of the officers who took part in the charge of the Light Brigade, and Harriet Tubman Davis, an ex-slave who was known as the conductor of the "underground railroad."

NO SECOND CHANCE BUT 2 SALVATIONS

That's What International Bible Students' Ass'n Lecturer Declares.

"Two Salvations, But No Second Chance," was the subject of a lecture given by P. E. Thomson, of New York city, at the Lyric Theatre, yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association. In the course of his remarks the speaker made it plain that in his opinion none will get a second chance, though everyone will get one full chance for salvation, either in this world or in the world to come.

It was pointed out that many, who think of the divine program as merely an endeavor to rescue mankind from sin and death to righteousness and eternal life in the present time, are much confused, because it must be acknowledged that comparatively little has been done, or is now being done for man's uplift.

The speaker further showed that others believe that God never intended the salvation of the world, but merely the salvation of the church, "elect according to the foreknowledge of God through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth." He said that the Scriptures clearly set forth two salvations, entirely separate and distinct. They are different as respects time, in that the one salvation "began to be spoken by Our Lord" at His first advent, and began to be applicable to the Church at Pentecost and will wholly cease at its second coming in the end of the age. The other salvation neither applied before the Lord's first advent nor during this Gospel Age, but will apply to all mankind, except the church, during the Millennium—the thousand years of the reign of Christ and the Church, especially for the world's blessing and uplift.

These two salvations were shown to be different as to kind, the salvation of the church during the Gospel Age, meaning only a deliverance from sin and death conditions to eternal life. The world's salvation which will follow will not include a change from the earthly to the spirit nature. It will mean a rescue from sin and death to the earthly perfection of the original man, in the image and likeness of his Creator and surrounded by every necessity, blessing and comfort.

In conclusion the speaker urged upon his hearers the necessity of "giving more earnest heed" to the diligent study of God's Word rather than to the creeds originated during the Dark Ages, that thus their faith in God might be increased and their joys made full. The speaker was emphatic in his assertions that none need expect a second chance. A chance of salvation is now being afforded the church, and in the age to come each individual of the world will be given his chance to believe and attain perfect life. This will include all the heathen; not that all will gain eternal life, but that all will be given a chance to hear and accept if they will. Those who disobey the Lord will be destroyed in the Second Death," said Mr. Thomson.

WILSON GIVES PRINCETON ORIGINAL OF INAUGURAL

Princeton, Dec. 29.—President Wilson's personal transscription from his own shorthand notes of his inaugural address, made in the university library at Princeton, has been placed in the library archives along with the original of the inaugural address of President Madison, also a Princeton graduate.

President Wilson went to the library twice to work on his address, and it was set down to shorthand. He then transcribed it himself on his typewriter, but this transcription was not used by the President when he delivered his speech. He read from printed slips.

The original shorthand notes could not be located by the President and he gave the library the next best thing.

The original handwritten copy of the inaugural of President Madison is not in the Princeton libary just at present, but in the Newark Free Public Library as a part of the Princeton University exhibit, which is to be placed on view early next month.

Great White Sale

The January White Sale of 1914 marks another upward step in our store service, which helpful as it may have been in the past, is bettered every way today. Stocks are much larger and the variety much broader than in previous sales. And the greater volume of the constantly increasing business attending these yearly events warrants us in quoting prices nearer to the actual cost. Thus, added zest is given to the Great White Sale this year—a sale whose rare economies are apparent on every hand.

ELIZABETH'S LID ON; SALOONS FORCED OUT

Elizabeth, Dec. 29.—The lid in this city was clamped down tight again yesterday and only those who knew where there was a "speakeasy" and how to get in were able to get a drink, unless they had laid in a Sunday stock on Saturday.

According to the statements of saloonkeepers, since the dry Sunday went into effect it has taken $10 000 out of the city each Sunday the law has been strictly enforced. Already it has resulted in three saloons being forced to close. It is said that more saloons will be forced out of business if the police continue to so strictly enforce the law.

GET A MOVE ON.

Westfield has forged ahead of Plainfield in the percentage of its commuter residents if some figures as to population are to be accepted. This fact is made known by General Passenger Agent William C. Hope, of the Jersey Central, who has compiled some statistics for all towns along the line. The population of this community is estimated at 27,000, and the number of its commuters is placed at 2,145. Westfield's population is put at 8,000 and it has 980 commuters. That means that here there is one commuter to every twelve inhabitants while in Westfield there is one to every eight.

There is a lesson in this which might be of benefit to our Board of Trade and our Chamber of Commerce. It is that it pays to advertise a community and it pays to have a lot of citizens with "push" in them. By aggressive and sane publicity, the Westfield people have built up that place within the last few years to a remarkable degree. Indeed, the growth has been most surprising. The New York newspapers and the "L" trains and subways in the Metropolis were resorted to largely in advertising the advantages of living in Westfield and the result as we have said has been marvellous.

Westfield is rapidly gaining on Plainfield although we all know that this is a more ideal place of abode for the New Yorker. Would it not be well for our civic bodies to get a hustle on and do for Plainfield what public spirited men have done for Westfield?

President Wilson's re-election in 1916 has already been conceded by that stanch Democratic newspaper, the Philadelphia Record, which says, "By the time he completes his second term in 1921 he will be 64 years old." So what's the use of holding a Presidential election.

Dr. Anna Shaw calls on women not to pay their taxes until they are given the ballot. In other words, she advises them not to obey the law. Is this the first step toward militant methods of the pro-suffragists, or does Dr. Shaw simply speak for herself?

Why this recent silence on the part of the Republicans organs? It's been nearly two weeks since they have had rosy stories about disaffection in the Progressive ranks and the eagerness of Bull Moosers to effect a reconciliation with the G. O. P.

Why should not the North Plainfield Council during the coming year revive the plan for the annexation of the borough's territory to Union County? Surely North Plainfield has just cause to secede from Somerset.

Now that the "red ball" is up on Tier's pond parents should warn their children to be careful while skating and particularly against their engaging in foolish daring while enjoying that pastime.

When the Board of Health makes its annual report tomorrow night we presume that it will again urge that some sanitary method for the collection and disposal of garbage be adopted. It has made this recommendation annually for the last twelve years but nothing has been accomplished. Let the new Common Council resolve to get to work on this proposed improvement.

The Japs are making love to the Huerta rump government but they have one more guess coming if they consider they can get a foothold on Mexican territory.

United States Senator James E. Martine has been sighted. He's flashed a "C. D. Q." to the Attorney-General to investigate the Calumet situation.

It is quite probable that some Democrats will make a New Year's resolution not to refuse any political job Wilson or Fielder might throw their way.

MISSING MAN BACK; WAS LONG ABSENT

August Schwartz's Wife Had Given up Hope of Seeing Him Again.

Westfield, Dec. 29.—August Schwartz, aged 52 years, husband of Mrs. Schwartz, matron at the Children's Country Home, in Mountainside, who mysteriously disappeared on the afternoon of October 19, has returned.

Schwartz has come back to town wearing a new suit of clothes and an overcoat of the latest style. When he disappeared he had no overcoat and wore an old suit of clothes. The last seen of Schwartz after he left home in October was at the home of relatives in Plainfield. He spent Sunday afternoon and evening there and was seen to board an Arlington avenue trolley car.

His disappearance was reported to the local police several days later and Mrs. Schwartz informed Chief O'Niel that her husband had considerable money with him and that she believed that he had met with foul play. Mrs. Schwartz finally gave up hope of seeing him again. On one occasion she went to Bound Brook and viewed the body of a man found in a woods in that place.

When asked about the return of her husband, Mrs. Schwartz would not admit or deny that he was back and refused to be interviewed. It is said that Schwartz went to visit friends in Baltimore and that while there he was seriously ill. Others who know him say that Schwartz went to visit his old home in Germany.

Schwartz and wife came here twenty-two years ago, at which time Mrs. Schwartz was made matron of the Children's Country Home. Schwartz was employed to care for the live stock on the place. He drove the big farm wagon which conveyed the little cripples to and from the station and about the country on rides.

YULETIDE OBSERVANCE AT GRACE M. E. CHURCH

A large Christmas tree bearing presents for members of the Sunday-school will be the feature of an entertainment to be held tomorrow night at Grace M. E. church. On Wednesday afternoon a "Christmas party" will be held for the entertainment of the members of the primary department of the Sunday-school. An excellent program will be rendered and refreshments will be served.

At the church services last night the cantata entitled, "The Holy Infant," was rendered, the solo parts being taken by Mrs. E. D. Young, soprano, and Clarence Steiner, basso. A large chorus assisted. Special services were also held when the Sunday-school met at 2:30 o'clock and the pastor, Rev. C. C. Cain, preached a highly interesting sermon in the morning in observance of the birth of hrist.

LARGE REALTY DEAL AT SOUTH PLAINFIELD

An important deal in South Plainfield realty was closed on Saturday by William Hamilton, when he sold the H. W. Winter farm on Maple avenue to Henry Lammers, of New Springville, Staten Island. The Winter farm is one of the best known in the northern end of Middlesex county, consisting of twenty acres of fine truck ground, with a frontage of one thousand feet on each side of Maple avenue, together with a ten-room modern dwelling with all improvements.

The farm also comprises substantial outbuildings. The title is to be passed on February 5. Mr. Lammers plans to work the farm and upon taking possession will expend about $6,000 in improvements. He will also install a complete system of irrigation by means of an overhead cable with water pipes. Mr. Lammers was for twenty years engaged in the trucking business on Staten Island. Mr. Winter, the former owner, has been engaged in the wholesale clothing business and for the past three years had charge of a large clothing house in Canada. He has just taken a position in Cleveland, Ohio.

THOUGHT HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING WAS ON FIRE

An alarm of fire was sent in from the High School on Saturday night and Fire Chief Doane sped in his automobile to the institution, the flames and smoke coming from a portion of the addition being erected on the site making it appear that a good sized fire was in progress.

When the apparatus arrived and investigations had been made it was found that the mason laborers had started a fire on the third floor of the building, which is thoroughly fireproof throughout to keep the recently applied plaster from freezing. Two watchmen were sitting around the blaze. Chief Doane ordered the fire extinguished because of the likelihood of passersby sending in other alarms. Today stoves were installed to take the place of the other fire.

BRITAIN DENIES BREACH WITH UNITED STATES

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

London, Eng., Dec. 28.—The Foreign Office today authorized the Central News to declare emphatically and categorically that there is not the slightest foundation for the statements made in certain newspapers in the United States that an understanding had been reached between Great Britain and Germany to oppose the financial and commercial activities of the United States, particularly in South America. A representative of the Central News called at the office of the Prime Minister and saw M. Bonham Carter, chief private secretary to Mr. Asquith. The secretary said that it was not possible for Mr. Asquith to discuss the matter as it was purely a foreign office affair.

ELDERLY MAN INJURED BY FALL DOWNSTAIRS

William Tallamy, an elderly man residing on Mariner's place, while descending the stairs at the Park avenue entrance of the Vanderbeek building at Park and North avenues, this morning, tripped and fell a distance of about fifteen feet, landing at the bottom on his face. When picked up it was discovered that he had received cuts about the face and that his nose was broken.

The injured man was unconscious when removed to the hospital in the ambulance. Later he regained consciousness. So far as the physicians are able to tell at present the injuries will not prove serious. Mr. Tallamy is well-known in this city, where he has been a contractor for many years.

SAN SEBASTIAN'S LOSS.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

San Sebastian, Spain, Dec. 29.—This city, one of the most picturesque in Spain, was swept by fire today and partly destroyed. Within several hours after the flames broke out more than thirty buildings, including two dozen residences and the Circus theatre, were destroyed and the barracks was threatened. San Bebastian is the seat of the summer home of the royal family.

F. B. THORN'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Francis B. Thorn was held at his late home on East Third street, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Rev. Frederic L. Greene, pastor of Hope chapel, officiated. There were a number of floral tributes. The burial was in North Plainfield cemetery.

ANOTHER BOMB EXPLOSION.

(By Telegraph to the Daily Press.)

New York, Dec. 29.—A bomb was exploded in front of the store of C. Napoli, No. 541 Liberty avenue, East New York, this morning. The windows were blown out and other havoc wrought. The members of the twelve families ran to the street but were soon quietd by the reserves of the Liberty avenue police station.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF BLACKSMITH

Supposition is That Victim Was Killed by Auto—Body Found in Hovel.

Morristown, Dec. 29.—Missing since Christmas the body of J. M. Kraemer, a blacksmith, forty-five years old, was found yesterday in an abandoned hovel at Brookside, near here. Coroner Morris J. Welsh is of the opinion that Kramer was run down by an automobile and carried to where the body was found and left to die.

The man's head is crushed, his skull having evidently been fractured, his neck was broken and his clothing shows that he was struck and dragged by some rapidly moving vehicle.

That robbery could not have been responsible for the man's death is shown by the fact that Kraemer's gold watch and the money he was known to have with him when he disappeared was found intact.

Dr. George Connett, who examined the body, said Kraemer had been dead two days at least. The Morris County authorities are investigating.

SOME BASEBALL LINGO PUZZLING TO THE LAYMAN

Baseball has its own language. Baseball experts the world over have a lingo which often confuses a layman. These denizens of the press box, the boys behind the screen, must needs "mix 'em up" in setting before friend reader all the potent facts of yesterday's contest. They bring into use certain phrases peculiar to the game in describing technically what happened on the greens.

Most of the re-blooded rooters are Jerry to these phrases; others are sadly at sea and seem to think the writers are inflicting upon them a cross between Esperanto or Eskimo, which is not the whole truth by several parasangs. Just by way of setting the real facts before those baseball enthusiasts who find themselves mired while battling with the vernacular a few commonplace terms—that is, commonplace among the players—are herewith appended, with synonyms used by writers who grow weary of using the time-honored straightaway king's English:

Inning—A round, period, session, canto, frame, chapter.

Ball—A pill, globule, horsehide, leather, spheroid, agate.

To Hit the Ball—Swat, clout, crown, slam, wallop, drive, bang, knock, thump, whack, larrup, pole, peel off.

Curve the Ball—Hook, bend, slant, sink, a twister, roundhouse.

Under-Hand Raise—Business of delivering the ball to batter but using a motion while arm is operating at the pitcher's side.

Under-Hand Raise Balls—Another method of delivering the ball, starting the swing of the pitching arm in the vicinity of the knee.

Over-Hand Pitching—The act of starting the delivery from a point above the head.

Spitball—Elmer Stricklett originated this mode of twirling by salivating the ball before pitching. Either side-arm or over-hand method may be used. When pitched properly the ball takes peculiar and baffling jumps approaching the batter.

Knuckler—Some pitchers, notably Eddie Summers, Lew Ritchie and Eddie Cicotte, have achieved fame by pitching this sort of ball. The knuckles of the pitching hand are used in grasping the ball before delivery, and a bewildering curve of the slow, floating type follows.

Hook, or Fade-Away Slide—Base stealers thoroughly schooled in the art of running bases adopt this style. In approaching the base they aspire to steal the runners lead to one side, momentarily disconcerting the player about to stab him with the ball, and in falling thrust one foot in hook manner to one or the other side of the base.

To Win—To cop, frisk, grab, annex, compile, register, nail, bag, land, salt away, put on ice, sting or maul whoever happens to be the opposing party.

To Lose—To tumble, skid, slip, take a walloping, a drubbing, to be manhandled, trimmed, whaled, scuttled, riddled, badly bent, bumped, slaughtered, nosed out, sent to the cleaners, counted out or laid on the cooling board.—

"Pep"—Displaying fighting spirit, zest, determination, renewed life, to keep up an incessant fire of talk while on the field—a player like Buck Weaver has "pep." Listen carefully to the White Sox shortstop when the other fellows are batting against Callahan's pitchers. Then you'll be Jerry or hep to —"Pep."

Pitching Box—Rifle pit, firing line, peak, slab, hill, knoll, knob, turret, rubber or crest.

Home Plate—Marble, dock, counting pan, scoring iron.

Any Base—Sack, corner, hassock, station, precinct, or, in referring to second base, one might say the halfway mark.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 45

ADVERTISING is a salesman that is always at work, but never wearies a customer; that call on the same man until he is convinced, but never annoys him with its insistence; that wastes no time, wastes no words, and that can always gain an audience and a hearing. Alone among salesmen, advertising has free access to the libraries of the great; it marches unchecked past the secretary of the big merchant and enters without hindrance the store of the retailer. When it cannot tell its story to a man in his office, it can always gain his attention in his home. The door of the housewife is never slammed in its face. No country is so remote, no village is so dead, that it does not go there for orders and get them—Saturday Evening Post.

Tell me, suppose you want a job, or want to sell your house, or want to rent an apartment, or want domestic help, or want—anything—can you think of a quicker, less expensive, more direct way of getting that want before the people than through a little Want Ad?

Classified advertising is always at work. It does not weary a customer, because that customer turns to it of his own free will. It does not annoy him with its insistence; rather, it pleases him with its concise information. It wastes no words, it gets its message across, and instantly. It has access to the hearts of the people because it reflects the needs of the people.

Want Ad. advertising in the columns of this newspaper gains attention in offices, in homes, in city, in country—wherever people have that which they do not want and want that which they do not have. No door is ever slammed in its face.

And say—isn't that a pretty good way to get YOUR want over the line?

The Want-Ad Man

Getting Along Without Ice.

Even if the egg bill does go higher in this winter, the ice bill can be reduced almost to nothing—in some cases to nothing at all. For even in the city it is possible to get along without much ice and in the country it is possible to get along without any. And all this without discomfort or a lack of chilled dainties.

Of course, in the city appearances count for a good deal, especially in an apartment. Hence a plain, out-and-out window box in which cold food is stored is undesirable.

In the country a pantry window can be converted into a refrigerator for the cold months. Half open the window and fit in the opening a box. If the box is not broad enough to fill the window, board up the remaining space neatly. Line the box with zinc, if possible, and several layers of paper or a layer of felt between the zinc and the box will further add to the equanimity of the temperature of the box. If possible put a wire rack in the box for a shelf. Otherwise put a board, covered on both sides with zinc, for a shelf. Fit the front of this improvised refrigerator with a drop door, faced on the inside with zinc.

Of course, a much simpler substitute for a refrigerator is simply a wooden box. But the zinc lining makes the box just so much easier to keep clean. If there is no available window, such a box can be kept on a sheltered veranda or porch. In that case it should be fastened securely shut to protect it against the inroads of dogs and cats; and if there is any danger of visits from tramps, a padlock might be used.

In the City.

In the city the window box must be of a different sort. It must be smaller, and painted an inconspicuous color. But a low, flat box, just the size of the sill, painted dark green or brown, is large enough to harbor milk and butter, and other perishable articles of food. This box should be screwed to the window sill, to prevent accidents from slipping.

For Frozen Desserts.

The lack of ice is no reason for a lack of frozen desserts. Delicious ice cream can be frozen in a freezer filled with snow and salt. And mouse can be frozen out of doors in the snow.

To make mouse out of doors, whip some cream, add sugar and any desired fruit or other flavor. Maple syrup is good. Then pack this in a small can—a pound baking powder tin is good. Put the small tin in a big dish filled with snow and rock salt and cover the dish securely. Set it out of doors for three hours, occasionally adding more snow. Or else simply bury the can containing the mouse mixture in a snow bank, in very cold weather, and leave it there for several hours.

Practical Fashion Hints

The Russian blouse is one of the most economical as well as one of the most becoming modes of the season.

If made in a contrasting material it may be worn with almost any skirt. A very pleasing combination is to have the blouse of a plain material and the skirt of plaid or mixed goods.

Velvet and velveteen seem especially suited to these Russian designs, and if a bit of fur or marabout is added the effect is doubly good.

No. 7813 is a design that is appropriate for ladies or misses. It has a set-in sleeve, a low belt, a small square collar and closes diagonally in front. In this blouse the sleeve is set in without gathers. The home dressmaker often finds, after fitting a blouse, that there is a bit of fullness at the top of the sleeve which is difficult to get rid of. A good method in a case of this kind is to gather the sleeve slightly, dampen the gathered portion and with a hot iron press flat. This shrinks the material and may be repeated until all the extra fullness is done away with and the sleeve fits perfectly into the armhole without any fullness.

This design may be made in size 36 with 3 yards of 36 inch material.

The pattern is cut in 6 sizes, 32 to 42.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to state right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Thousand-Flower Design For Embroidering a Centerpiece.

Thousand-flower, the simplest of all embroidery stitches, is very effective, especially when done in heavy silks of many colors.

For the embroidress who is looking for a simple yet attractive design, this one is the very thing. What could be easier to do than the thousand-flower embroidery, which consists o[illegible] r each petal, taken fr[illegible] of the flower to the ed[illegible]

This centerpiece in pattern number 14394, may be made of either white or natural colored linen, developed in the delicate colors of the asters blue, pink, violet, yellow and green, with occasionally a bit of black, or it may be carried out in one or more shades of a single color. The flowers and leaves should be worked in the thousand-flower stitch and the stems in outline. The edge of the centerpiece may be scalloped in white or in the color of the linen.

This design is 22-inches in diameter but if a larger centerpiece is desired, wide Cluny lace may be added to the edge.

These wreaths may be cut apart and used in various ways on table-runners, pillow covers, bureau scarfs and bags.

This pattern will be supplied to readers of the Daily Press for 15 cents.

Some Cookery Suggestions

WINTER BEETS.

SUPPER MENU
Baking Powder Biscuit
Creamed Beets
Fruit Salad
Sponge Cake
Canned Peaches

BEETS are available all winter and are one of the most useful vegetables which the housewife has at her command.

Various ways of serving them are suggested here.

Spiced Beets.—To five pounds of peeled sliced beets take three pounds of sugar, one pint of vinegar, ten cloves, a little stick of cinnamon. Boil the sirup, add beets and boil ten minutes. Put the beets in jars and pour sirup over them and seal until needed.

Beet Pudding.—Boil the beets till they are tender, then cut into dice after peeling them. Allow a pint of milk to a pint of beets, add two or three well beaten eggs, salt and pepper to taste and a light grating of nutmeg. Put all into an earthen baking dish and bake until the custard is set in the middle. Serve hot.

Baked Beets.

Beetroot a la Creme. — After they have been washed the beets should be baked whole, then skinned. Still keeping them whole, let them simmer for awhile in a little butter. When they are ready to serve a white sauce should be poured around them and chopped parsley sprinkled over them. The mild flavor of beets makes a little acidity in the sauce desirable, and a dash of vinegar added at the last improves it.

Piquant of Beets.—Boil the beets until tender, slice and put into a saucepan with some parsley, mixed sweet herbs minced fine, some minced onion, a pinch of flour, salt, pepper and a spoonful or more of vinegar. Boil for about a quarter of an hour and serve.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Toads Trial of Tud Toad.

The Judge Said Tud Was Not Guilty.

"WERE ready for our story, daddy," called Jack and Evelyn.

"Come along, then, and I'll begin at once. The toads are very grave and very sedate, and their lawyers are the finest in the animal world. One day last June a toad named Tud had accidentally stepped on and killed a smaller toad named Jody. It was well known in the toad world that Tud and Jody had been bitter enemies, so it was a question of great doubt among many as to whether it had been an accident or whether Tud had really meant to murder Jody.

"A day was set aside for a trial, and all the toads from far and near planned to be present, for they were much impressed by trials. Toads are, for the most part, so good and well behaved that when anything dreadful happens among them they are very much shocked. Tud Toad came of such fine parents that every one felt very sorry for them and did everything they could to comfort them, telling them that Tud would come out all right and be a finer toad in consequence.

"At last the day set aside for the trial came, and all the toads were there. Near the judge's box sat Tud's mother and daddy. His mother looked very nervous, and every few moments she would bring forth from her pocket a green leaf handkerchief and dry the tears from her great big eyes, and Tud's daddy coughed to keep back the sobs that he felt in his throat. A constant murmur of whispers could be heard from the portion of the courthouse where all the toads sat, for they kept talking among themselves, wondering what the result would be.

"But soon the judge, a fine looking big toad, stepped into his box, with his jury about him, and in front stood the trembling Tud, quaking with fear and looking at the ground, as he was too ashamed to face the crowd.

"The judge began to speak in a clear voice: 'Ladies and gentlemen, my jury will go out of court for fifteen minutes, at the end of which they will tell us the result of the trial.'

"The fifteen minutes seemed hours, but at last the twelve toads of the jury came back and handed to the judge a slip of paper leaf.

"The judge arose again and said, 'It has been decided that Tud is not guilty.' At this Tud burst into sobs and cried, 'It is true; I did not mean to do it!'

"'Now,' said the judge, 'it will be a lesson to you. You can do good to your enemies as well as your friends.'

"This was the end of Tud's trial. He lived to be a fine, highly respected toad, but he could never forget about poor Jody."

ASK FOR CONSTRUCTION OF WILL OF A PRIEST

Application was made before Judge Connolly in the Orphans' Court, Elizabeth, Friday, for a construction on a clause in the will of Father Henry Duckgeisel, who died in Rahway in July, 1912. He was rector of the German Catholic church of that place. Father William H. Miller, of St. Joseph's R. C. church, the borough, is one of the executors with Henry Walgerling, of New York.

In the application it was asked that the deceased executor's share be declared a lapsed legacy. If granted this will nullify the will, as far as that part of the estate is concerned and it will then be distributed among the legal heirs. There was no opposition to the court making such a ruling.

LIVE TIPS ON SPORTING TOPICS

Joe Tinker, former manager of the Cincinnati National League baseball club, and Mordecai Brown, Cincinnati pitcher, signed a three years' contract with the Federal League, Saturday night. Tinker will manage the Chicago Club and Brown will pilot the St. Louis Club. It is said that Tinker will receive $36,000 for three years' work.

Bob Perry, of Illinois, won a 300-mile motorcycle race in Savannah, Ga., Saturday afternoon, averaging fifty-nine miles an hour. His time was 5.22.48.

One of the greatest hockey events of the season will be played this week on the St. Nicholas Rink between teams representing Toronto, Queens and Ottawa Universities for the intercollegiate championship of Canada. Hockey takes the place of football as a sport in Canada and much enthusiasum is always aroused over the annual matches.

Charles E. Brickley, of Harvard, and the 37-yard line, was treated to a sad shock yesterday, when an enterprising sport writer sprang some statistics on the public which showed that Willie Heston, of Michigan University, scored 624 points during his four years of football against Brickley's 251, which for some time past has been popularly conceded as a record. Brickley will have to go some in his last year to set new figures in the scoring line.

Kingsley School, one of Plainfield High School's rivals in baseball, came through the football season with a clean record this year, playing five and winning the same number during the fall months.

ATHLETICS WILL HAVE BANNER YEAR DURING THE TWELVE MONTHS OF 1914

Although the year 1913 has been recognized as a banner one in the world of sport and many records have fallen by the wayside during the twelve months that have just elapsed, experts predict an even brighter future for the major branches of athletics in 1914 and many will be established on a firmer basis in America if present indications may be taken as a criterion. Football, baseball, hockey, tennis, golf, track, boxing and swimming are all flourishing in this country and records have fallen in everyone of these sports during the past year.

The preparations now under way for the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915 will act as an incentive to many athletics to get into training with a view to earning a place on the United States team for that big event. Earnest training will lead to the breaking of more records on field and track and the A. A. U. officials are preparing for one of the busiest seasons ever encountered by that organization.

A short resume of what is expected during 1914 in the major lines of sport is compiled below:

Baseball.

The year will mark the thirty-ninth consecutive year of organized baseball in America. The new year brings a raise of better control and better understanding between the official and the player, and we anticipate close contests but with a continuance of the same healthy spirit of aggressive rivalry and good sportsmanship that has made possible the popularity and present high standard of our national game.

Football.

Football for 1914 promises to be the resultant of the forces of two contending schools, each denoting progress but in a different way. One school will continue the developement of steady, careful, consecutive play, with its basic principal, "Punt in your own territory," and the other school will stand for the taking of big chances, "Throwing the forward pass indiscriminately at all times." A wide open game is predicted and the old office of "Field Judge" will probably be restored.

Tennis.

The final round for the Davis Cup will be played in America this year. No date has yet been set for the final match but it will probably be played two or three weeks before the National Championships. Wonderful strides have been made in the game and the prospects for still greater progress next year are encouraging. One feature in favor of this is the substantial reduction in the price of tennis balls. This will result in more people familiarizing themselves with the game and eliminating a great drawback.

Golf.

Golf activities in 1914 will begin with the annual meeting in New York January 9. A number of changes have been made in the rules, new clubs are constantly being formed and there are more players than ever before.

Track and Field.

The coming year is selected as a banner one for field and track athletes. The Panama-Pacific Exposition will act as an incentive for young athletes to go into training for 1915. New records are looked for in many of the fixed distances and events. Over eighty new marks were established in 1913 and there is no reason to believe that we have as yet reached the best figures that will be established.

Boxing.

The elimination of rowdyism which at one time threatened the extinction of the sport has had the effect of gaining the support of the better element, and with a firm administration in carrying out the law as well as the letter of the law, there is every reason to believe that 1914 will witness an even further increase in the popularity of the sport. Claimants for the different titles are numerous, and it is a difficult matter with any degree of certainty who will be champion one year hence.

Swimming.

Basing a prognostication for the swimming season of 1914 on the events of 1913 one cannot help wondering at the great progress that swimming has made in the United States during the past year despite the lack of proper facilities for popularizing this branch of sport.

"MAC" SAYS

Someone has suggested that we make a New Year's resolution to quit "knocking" in this column. Some few unfortunates cannot distinguish between a knock and a boost.

However, we are all glad that New Year's comes but once a year. If we had to make resolutions every day we would be distributing these instead of "knocks."

The "Herons" had a rest Saturday night. Woodbridge was evidently scared to death and failed to put in an appearance at Hope Chapel.

In glancing over our Christmas list we discover that we have failed to present North Plainfield High School with a basketball drubbing. Will anyone ever come to the front with a victory over those "Canadians"?

Bound Brook was trimmed handily by N. P. H. S. Saturday afternoon and yet the boroughites claim they were "off-color" on that occasion.

"Bill" Taylor is a great addition to the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. outfit. With Moulton as a winning mate Taylor will probably make things hot for rival guards.

Manager Leighs, of Hope Chapel, resting lazily on his laurels, remarks: "I came to the Y. M. C. A. for the first game and now it is up to the Association manager to come to me if he wants another whack at my champions." Christmas is coming "Gawge."

As a matter of fact there was no "coming" to the first game, the two managers bumped into each other on the street, flipped a coin, and Leighs went away the loser.

Haven't heard from that Plainfield High School team lately. Maybe they have all decided to join the Alumni.

"Ruby" Robert Fitzsimmons is hot on the trail of some sporting editors who are trying to cheat him out of his bread and butter. Wonder how some of the scribes would size up with Bob in the roped arena?

RECORD BREAKING SCORE WON GAME

Scotch Plains' Parish House Seconds Wallop the Necco Club of This City.

Playing against the Necco five, of Plainfield, the Scotch Plains Parish House seconds Saturday night ran up the highest score ever made on the Parish House court in a single game by any team, the score being 71 to 8. Earlier in the season the Neccos beat the Parish House seconds, who were playing with a patched lineup, but when they were faced by the regular team on Saturday night they went to pieces.

SIXTEEN PLAYERS IN ONE CONTEST

Plainfield Y. M. C. A. and Summit Teams Use Many Men in Game.

LOCALS WON HANDILY

Influx of New Material In An Effort to Strengthen Queen City Association Five—The Final Score 38 to 23.

Exhibiting an article of basketball directly the reverse of that put up on Christmas Day afternoon, the Y. M. C. A. basketball team took the Summit quintet into camp on the local court Saturday night by a score of 38 to 23, completely outplaying the rival clan in every department of the sport. Eight players were tried out by Captain Brynairski in an effort to patch up the weak spots in the lineup and every man on the floor put up an excellent grade of basketball.

Conspicuous among the men on the team Saturday night was "Bill" Taylor, playing his first game in a Y. M. C. A. uniform. Taylor replaced McNamee in forward berth in the first half and went to right forward in the second half. His all around work and great display of speed featured the contest from start to finish and he was the main cog in everything the locals did. Taylor's passing, shooting and footwork surpassed by far that of any other man on the floor and he added thirteen of the points to the tally card, getting one field in the first half and a quartet in the second besides a trio from the penalty mark. The former North Plainfield High School star, by virtue of the general excellence which shrouded his debut, has earned for himself a permanent place in the Association team's fold and his presence will add greatly to the playing strength of the combination. Moulton also did some good work in the scoring line getting a quartet of field goals, three in the first and one in the second half.

For the visitors, Judson and Gilchrist did the best all around work. The score at the end of the first half was 15 to 3 and when the second period started it found a new man in every position on the Y. M. C. A. team, shifts and substitutions being made following the opening period.

TWO ELKS' LEAGUE TEAMS FORCE NINETEEN TO CHANGE POSITIONS

Notwithstanding the fact that but one series of games was rolled in the Elks' League race during the past week no less than nineteen changes in positions were occasioned and the two contending teams—Newark and Elizabeth—both had their individual marks affected by the series rolled. Newark's mark soared from 907.19 to 912.10 and Elizabeth's went from 896.10 to 902.14.

Captain Frank Blatz was the only Plainfielder who suffered a change in position during the last seven days and while laying idle the local leader dropped from fifteenth to nineteenth place on the ladder of sixty-eight rungs. Captain Clauss, of Elizabeth, went from sixth to fourth place by virtue of some good pinning Friday night, and his rise occasioned the drop of Starr, from fourth to fifth, and of Greenwald from fifth to sixth place. Erler, of Newark, pinned poorly Friday night and lost a lap sending Coyne, of New Brunswick, up a rung at the same time.

Bock, of Elizabeth, had a good night on the Newark alleys and climbed to eleventh from fourteenth place; Williams, of Newark, pinned his way into twelfth place from nineteenth; Weingarth rose four places from seventeenth; Gathman cut down four rungs, and Wright, of Jersey City, was unceremoniously pushed from eleventh to fifteenth place by the fast traveling Williams. Weingarth and Gathman, Engleking also suffered as the result of the good marks set up by this trio of conspirators.

Nolte, of Elizabeth, got acquainted with the Newark alleys Friday night and climbed from twenty-third to seventeenth position. Steinbruck went from thirteenth to eighteenth; Earle tobaggoned from sixteenth to twentieth place; Hinton rose from twenty-fourth to twenty-first; Wasserman dropped two knots; Burton did likewise and Miller rose a pair o notches.

The team standing and the individual standing in the Elks League is now as follows.

FRESH WATER NOTES

Swimmers are getting to be habitual rovers these days and this speaks of the rapid development witnessed in water sports of late, as well as of the keen interest taken by the public in this branch of athletics. This year teams in every section of the country are seeking and obtaining meets outside of their own district, and already interclub, intercity and interstate carnivals have been arranged by the dozen. Nor is the wanderlust confined to the prosperous athletic clubs. Most of the eastern colleges are booked for spring tours which will take in every swimming centre between Boston and St. Louis, and at least two western colleges are negotiating for visits to the Atlantic coast cities. One cannot but regret that public pools available for these important clashes are as rare as white crows. In the days when the sportman's shows gave big carnivals it was nothing to gather crowds of eight and ten thousand people. These meets were abandoned, in fact, because the exhibitors complained that no one would look at their wares while the games were on. At present there are ten people following aquatics to every one there was then, and affairs where accommodation could be had would pack the house. Standing room is at a premium when the Yale water men hold home events and New Haven is anything but a swimming centre.

The opening meet of the metropolitan swimming season held at the New York A. C. brought disappointments as well as surprises. The men counted upon to make startling times did not live up to expectations, but some unheralded stars broke upon the horizon. Nerich, Wheatley O'Sullivan, Reilly, Culman and other fast sprinters failed to equal their best marks instead of showing improvements; but there was compensation.

BOUND BROOK EASY

Visitors in Saengerbund Hall Court Saturday Afternoon Exhibit Inferior Basketball and N. P. H. S Toys With Opponents.

By defeating the Bound Brook High School basketball team Saturday afternoon in Saengerbund Hall, the North Plainfield High School varsity team closed the 1913 half of the present basketball season unbeaten and with a string of eleven victories. The score last Saturday was 46 to 16.

The contest was slow and uninteresting throughout and became even farcical at times. Van Mater led the boroughites in points, making sixteen, with Love second with twelve. Heagney made ten of his teams sixteen. This victory may later prove valuable to North Plainfield if the county championship can be claimed.

GRUELLING PRACTISE MENU FOR N. P. H. S. BASKETEERS

The North Plainfield High School basketball team will lay off all this week, Manager VanMater having secured no mid-week game. The next game will be on Saturday, when the team from Townsend Harris Hall School, of New York city, will invade Saengerbund Hall. The boroughites will hold practice every day this week except Thursday.

The two extra first team jerseys which were to be won by the substitutes have been given to Addison Newkirk and Warren Townley. Both of these subs have played in four or five games so far this season. Practice will be held at 2:30 every day this week with the exception of New Year's Day.

PRACTISE SHOOT FOR CO. K MEN WHO ENTER BIG MATCH

Some fine scores were made at the last practice shoot held Saturday afternoon at the Maple avenue range by Company K. This practice was conducted for some of the men who will shoot in the Kmosko match to be held for the benefit of the privates of Co. K. No non-commissioned officer will be allowed to shoot for the prize which will be awarded by Corporal August Kmosko.

Each man in the company will have an equal chance at the prize, as the men who excell in rifle practice will be handicapped by some of the poorer shots.

First Lieut. A. R. Phillips, chairman of the rifle practice committee, assisted by the other commissioned officers and Q. M. Sergt. Thompson, will conduct the shooting match which will commence at 9 o'clock Thursday, New Year's Day, morning.

PRESENT REPORTS TO CITY FATHERS

Heads of Municipal Departments Give Review of the Year's Work.

TELL WHAT'S NEEDED

City Judge and Police Chief Make Brief Statements—Fire Chief's Recommendations—Street Department's Report.

Following are features of the annual reports presented by municipal department heads at the final meeting of the Common Council of 1913 last night:

Sewer Department.

Reviewing in detail the work performed in the city sewer department, the committee tells of the progress made in extending the sewers throughout the city. The report contains the following of interest:

"The total length of sanitay sewers, including sewers constructed by property owners but cared for by the city, is 57.65 miles; number of connections made in 1913, 191; total number of connections to the gravity sewers, 3,837; connections to sewers draining to Randolph road pumping station, including Laramie road station, 258; connections to sewers draining to Monroe avenue pumping station, 701; connections to sewers draining to Huntington avenue pumping station, 61; total number of connections, 4,171.

"The new sewers included in the contracts of November 15, 1912, with Mobus Brothers and of June 18, 1913, with Michele Garafano, have been completed. The latter contract comprised the construction of sewers in Woodland avenue from Randolph road to Chetwynd avenue, Chetwynd avenue from Hillside avenue to Woodland avenue, Hillside avenue from Randolph road to Chetwynd avenue, Watson avenue, Leland avenue from East Front street to Green brook, East Front street from Emerson avenue to Raymond avenue, Prospect avenue from a point 953 feet etst of Hillside avenue to Woodland avenue.

The contract of Charles A. Peterson, dated November 4, 1913, is referred to under 'Disposal Works.'

"Twelve sewers were cleaned this year, the trouble being generally due to roots, frequently running from the house connections into the sewers. In the ordinance regulating the use of sewers and the making of house connections therewith, referred to Council of 1914, it is provided that all connections shall be of cast iron.

"The contractors for the machinery at the Monroe avenue and the Huntington avenue stations finally installed one five-horsepower motor at each station, leaving a ten-horsepower machine at each for reserve. At these stations the operation of the ejectors is now timed by connections with the air compressor shafts, and the exhaust air is returned to the compressors. With this method of operation, the plant pumps 3,500 gallons of sewage per kilowatt hour a height of 21 feet (from bottom of ejectors). The force main is eight inches in diameter and 1,900 feet long, having two right angle bends. The Randolph road plant is less efficient, and changes are now being considered for increasing its efficiency and its capacity. The sum of $767.67 carried ove from this year's appropriation may be used for the improvement of this station.

"The following extracts are from the annual report of John R. Downes, manager and chemist at the disposal works:

"The work of cleaning the material in the primary beds, which was begun by contractor Peterson in November, 1912, was completed on July 18, 1913, when the last bed was returned to service.

"During the interim not much could be expected of the plant, the reduced capacity due to the clogging of the beds being further reduced by the withdrawal from service of 25 per cent of the area at a time for cleaning. After the cleaning, the last beds reached their best efficiency about October first.

"The septic effluent is now delivered upon beds of ¾ inch clinker one foot deep and ten feet wide, extending along two sides of the beds opposite the gate house. No weeds or scum appear on the remaining part of the beds.

"The fine clinkers are removed and clean clinkers replaced as soon as the surface becomes clogged and no odor and no unsightliness occur at the primary beds under these conditions. This method of operation should extend the period between cleanings of the primary beds about 50 per cent in addition to improving the appearance of the beds and diminishing the odors.

"Green brook has been inspected regularly and no odors or sludge deposits have been found below the plant. Tri-weekly samples for putrescibility have been taken below

KING'S DAUGHTERS NET $150 AT DANCE

The "In His Name Circle" Holds Successful Event at Park Club.

The dance given at the Park Club, last night, under the auspices of the In His Name Circle of The King's Daughters, was a great success, the affair being attended by more than two hundred people. The circle will realize about $150 to be used in meeting its pledge to the City Union of The King's Daughters and doing other work.

The clubhouse was attractively decorated with greens and red poinsetta, appropriate to the Yuletide season. The music for dancing was furnished by VanEps Brothers and every number was a popular one. During an intermission refreshments were served.

The patronesses of the affair, mothers of the members of the circle, who acted as a receiving committee were Mrs. William F. Arnold, Mrs. LeRoy Gates, Mrs. Alfred T. Slauson, Mrs. Thomas H. Sullivan, Mrs. J. C. Ogden, Mrs. Horace G. Phillips, Mrs. Frank A. Weeks, Mrs. H. B. Coombe, Mrs. A. J. Watson and Mrs. E. L. Finch.

SANTA CLAUS VISITS WEST END TONIGHT

Elaborate Entertainment Planned to Be Held at Washington School.

Santa Claus will visit the West End tonight, stopping at the Washington School to entertain a large number of children and grownups. While this is something new for that part of the city, the plan has received the hearty support of citizens generally. Elaborate arrangements have been made for the reception to old Santa.

A wireless message states that Santa has a brand new repertoire of funny stories to amuse the children, and he will remain to see that they receive their little remembrance of the evening. He will be assisted by Mrs. P. B. Cregar, Mrs. W. J. Boyd, Mrs. Joseph Edgar, Mrs. Edward W. Davis, Mrs. Thomas F. Hylan, Mrs. Charles O. Pearson, Mrs. John J. Carroll, Mrs. E. B. Davis, Mrs. Thomas C. Vail and Mrs. J. Stephen Higham.

The Plainfield High School Orchestra will furnish music for the occasion. George L. Babcock will furnish and operate a moving picture machine. Harry S. Sanderson, of Proctor & Sanderson, will supply the films, which have been passed upon, and The Plainfield Daily Press will furnish the necessary booth for the machine as required as a fire preventive.

It is through the efforts of the following committee that this reception of Santa Claus is made possible for the children: Barton K. Davis, chairman; assisted by William J. Boyd, Dr. P. B. Cregar and Councilman-elect Thomas F. Hylan.

MISS VIOLA APGAR WILL BECOME MRS. C. L. APGAR

When Miss Viola Della Apgar, daughter of Mrs. Minnie S. Apgar of Dunellen, marries the man of her choice on Wednesday her last name will remain unchanged. Although no other marriage has made Miss Apgar and Corwin Lynn Apgar, son of Melancthan Apgar, of Dunellen avenue, relatives, it is an unusual coincident that her fiance has the same name as her own.

The couple will be wedded tomorrow and will depart immediately on a honeymoon that will last until February 1. They will then make their home at Washington and North avenues, Dunellen. It has been rumored several months ago that the couple were married and several friends even greeted them on the street with showers of rice. But until tomorrow Miss Apgar will still be "Miss Apgar." After that day she will be "Mrs. Apgar."

HURT BY A FALL.

George Totten, of the borough, who climbed aboard a wagon belonging to the Plainfield Ice & Supply Co., while the vehicle was standing in East Second street this morning, is in Muhlenberg Hospital suffering with injuries about the body sustained when he fell from the seat to the ground. Totten fell asleep and rolled off his "perch" to the road.

TO SAVE SISTER MAKES SACRIFICE

Moses Barrella Submits to Skin-grafting for Mamie Barrella's Sake.

A VICTIM OF BURNS

Over One Hundred Pieces of Skin Removed From Brother's Body and as a Result the Girl May Be Restored to Health.

A somewhat remarkable case of self-sacrifice and devotion in an effort to save a human life was shown yesterday, when Moses Barrella, aged about fifteen years, of 216 Spooner avenue, willingly gave about one hundred small pieces of skin for grafting as a last hope of saving the life of his sister, Mamie Barrella, aged eight years. Dr. P. B. Cregar, of Grant avenue, performed the operation, and the condition of the girl today is such as to indicate her recovery.

It was about a month ago that Mamie Barrella was terribly burned about her legs and hips. She was sent to the cellar of her home for something and it being dark she struck a match. In doing so her dress caught fire and before the blaze could be extinguished, the child's legs and body were burned.

Since then the girl has been hovering between life and death, until the physician decided that skin grafting left the only hope. The brother gladly offered to furnish the skin and yesterday about one hundred little pieces were taken from his arms and legs. He never flinched once and he does not appear to be any the worse for the operation.

The grafting appears to have been a success so far as the physician is able to determine at present and it is believed that the child will recover.

MRS. RALPH TOLLES FELL UNCONSCIOUS

Wife of Former Councilmanic Head Suddenly Taken Ill in Connecticut.

Mrs. Tolles, wife of the former president of the Common Council, Ralph I. Tolles, of Westervelt avenue, who has been spending the holidays with her daughter, Mrs. Franklin G. Chapin, at Greenwich, Conn., was taken ill yesterday afternoon, and fell unconscious on the street in that place. She was removed to the Greenwich Hospital in an unconscious condition and physicians at once endeavored to learn the exact character of her illness.

A telephone message from Greenwich to Plainfield this morning, gave the report that Mrs. Tolles was slightly improved and that her illness is not as serious as at first believed.

Mr. and Mrs. Tolles left Plainfield the day before Christmas to visit relatives at Woodmont, Conn., and on Saturday they went to Greenwich, where Mrs. Tolles has been staying with her daughter. Mr. Tolles returned home Sunday night, but upon learning of his wife's illness, left last night for Greenwich. All of the members of the family are now at that place.

Peterson, of this city. He gave many valuable suggestions to the citizen-soldiers and outlined the work expected of them should war ever be declared.

COUNCIL OF 1913 IN FINAL SESSION

City Fathers Finish Year's Business, Routine Matters Being Disposed of.

REPORTS PRESENTED

Settlement Made With Angerbauer Estate—P. S. C. Informs City It Is Installing the New Lights—Cose Quits Fire Department.

The presentation of the annual reports, together with finishing up the little business remaining, were features of the last meeting of the Common Council for 1913, last night. All of the members were present except Patrick J. Reville, Fred Endress and W. W. Wilson, three of the seven who retire this year. The business of the evening did not require much time and it was disposed of quickly.

A copy of the report of the Universal Audit Company, which has been auditing the city's accounts, was presented and referred to the incoming Council. The resignation of Councilman-elect John H. Cose as a member of the fire department was received and accepted.

Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed presented a communication from Abe J. David, of Elizabeth counsel for Mrs. Joseph Angerbauer, whose late husband was employed in the street department, regarding the city's offer of settlement, and it was reported that the case had been settled and the communication was filed.

L. D. H. Gilmour, of the Public Service Corporation, in a letter informed the Council that the company is proceeding to install the new street lighting system. This was filed.

Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported the granting of eighteen permits for the past month and a total of 269 for the year, the total valuation of the property involved being $911,750.

The annual reports of Fire Chief T. O. Doane, Dr. N. W. Currie, city physician; Police Chief Patrick S. Kiely, William F. Arnold, city treasurer; City Judge William G. DeMeza, the committees on streets and sewers were received and filed, with the exception of the city treasurer's report and that was ordered printed, as usual, and 200 copies were ordered printed in pamphlet form.

Councilman C. C. Randolph offered a resolution, which was adopted, appropriating $5 from the general fund to cover the expenses of stenographic work and typewriting in the police department ordered by the Police Board. Councilman Leighton Calkins reported back the presentment of the grand jury of Union county regarding a more strict enforcement of excise

CONTRACT FOR BLDG. BONNIE BURN WING

Newark Concern's Bid of $8,906 for Construction Work Accepted.

Bids were received by the Union County Board of Freeholders, yesterday, for the proposed plans for an extension or new wing to the administration building at Bonnie Burn Sanitorium, and George J. Tobin, of this city, received the contract for heating the same, his bid of $875 being the lowest. His only competitor, Storms Company, of Newark, bid $986.

The M. Burns Building Company, of Newark, received the contract for the construction work, the bid being $8,906. The other two bids were as follows: Lincoln Steel Fleming Company, $10,333; P. B. Polhemus, $9,400.

Eight bids were received for building chicken runs, ranging from $3,589 to $3,340, and the freeholders decided to reject all bids, they being too high. They will revise the plans providing for cheaper construction, about $1,500.

After the above meeting there was a conference of the joint committees, representing the sub-committee of the Board of Freeholders and subcommittee of the Board of Governors of Bonnie Burn Sanitorium, to consider some details. Dr. Norton L. Wilson, of Elizabeth, and Freeholder J. Hervey Doane are the heads of these sub-committees.

The freeholders will hold their last meeting of the year tomorrow and on Thursday at noon the new board will meet to organize.

—Every woman in Plainfield and locality will be privileged to join the New Club that will be organized here next week. See that your application goes in early—Adv. ***

DELIGHTFUL DANCE FOR MISS DRAYTON

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry Depew Entertain at Hartridge Auditorium.

One of the delightful social functions of the holiday season was the dance given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry Depew, of Hillside avenue, at the Hartridge Auditorium, for Mrs. Depew's daughter, Miss Katharine Drayton, who is one of the season's fair debutantes. The auditorium was elaborately decorated for the affair, red and green, Christmas colors, predominating throughout.

Miss Drayton was assisted in receiving by her eldest sister, Mrs. Clifford M. Baker, and Miss Catherine Ginna. Her mother, Mrs. Depew, was also in the receiving party.

The entire evening was devoted to dancing, music for which was furnished by VanEps' Brothers. The numbers were of the popular sort and the musicians were generous with encores. There were about 350 guests present, including a number from out of town.

PLANS TO EXTEND SOMERVILLE'S LIMITS

Somerset County Seat Council Also Considers Purchasing Bldg. for Public Use.

Somerville, Dec. 30.—Plans to extend the limits of the borough were considered at the final meeting of the Borough Council last night, when the committee appointed at the last meeting reported suggesting the following changes:

"That the borough line on the south be continued in an easterly direction to the westerly line of the road leading northerly to Chimney Rock, and thence northerly along the westerly line of said road to the five forks and southerly line of Union avenue; thence westerly along the southerly line of Union avenue to the present boundary line of Bridgewater township near Gaston avenue, and continuing along the present line to Bridge street; thence northerly along Bridge street to the south side of Lenox avenue, and thence westerly to the bridge on Mountain avenue; thence continuing along the present borough lines as at present. The proposed extension would include all the property of the borough known as the "lottery field."

There was considerable opposition by residents on the north side of Union avenue, which accounts for the reason of excluding that section within the proposed new lines.

The committee appointed some time ago to take up the borough finances for the purpose of adopting a better financial syseem, made a lengthy report, which was read by Councilman Snyder, chairman of the committee. The report recommended that the borough purchase the property of John J. Kline, north of the engine house, for $5,000 and erect a combination fire house, where the whole department could be housed, with meeting quarters for the Borough Council, and social rooms for the firemen on the second floor. The estimated cost was placed at $18,000. It was believed that this would save the borough several thousand dollars a year.

It was voted that the finance committee pay off $22,000 in certificates of indebtedness as fast as the funds come to hand. Bills amounting to $4,000 were ordered paid. The new Council will meet Thursday noon to organize.

LOSE BANK CREDIT

Proprietors Give up all They Have and Then Are Refused Loans Though All Know the Concern Could Redeem Their Pledges.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

New York, Dec. 30.—William A. Marble and John A. Shepard were appointed receivers in the Federal Court in this city for the Fourteenth Street Store and Simpson & Crawford Company, on the application of the Siegal stores. Henry Melville was appointed receiver for the banking firm of Henry Siegal & Company, the members of which are Henry Siegel and Frank E. Vogel. William R. Rose, of Rose & Paskus, attorneys for the company, said that the failure was caused by the curtailment of bank credit due to the stringency of the money market. Rose & Paskus, counsel for the Simpson & Crawford Company and the Fourteenth Street Store, issued the following statement:

"The appointment of the receivers was consented to only after every effort had been made to continue the business. The concern had been accustomed to a large line of banking credit which has been very much curtailed during the last year. The individuals, Messrs. Siegel and Vogel, have contributed their entire personal fortune as well as all of their energies toward saving the situation and will continue to devote their energies in connection with the creditors toward a speedy reorganization and resumption of the business of the several concerns. The Siegel-Cooper Company, of Chicago, is not in any wise invoived in the receivership. Its business is very profitable and has been for a number of years. The conduct of the business of that company, an Illinois corporation, will not be affected by these proceedings. The Fourteenth Street Store did not receive bank deposits. There were received by a firm consisting of Henry Siegel and Frank E. Vogel, under the firm name of Henry Siegel Company, bankers. The individual members of the firm hold $3,500,000 of the par value of the common stock of the Siegel Stores Corporation."

John Claflin, head of the United Dry Goods Company, when asked to express an opinion on the general dry goods situation, said:

"The dry gods situation is safer and sounder than it ever has been. The trouble with the Siegel concerns was lack of capital."

John A. Garver, counsel for the Siegel Stores Corporation, in a statement said in part that the receivers have been authorized by the court to continue the business with the exception of the banking business carried on by the firm of Henry Siegel Company. A separate receiver has been appointed for that firm and will proceed to liquidate the assets of the firm with the view of paying off the depositors as soon as possible.

Boston, Dec. 30.—In the Siegel failures the total liability involved is said to be from four to six millions. Of this amount between $1,000,000 and $1,200,000 is said to represent the liability of the Boston firm.

The presentation of two lambs incited the most applause from the two audiences and as the winner carried his trophy from the stage as it wriggled and squirmed he was given a big reception by the spectators.

BELLEVILLE MAN GIVEN A SUSPENDED SENTENCE

While removing a moving picture machine from the new Astor theatre in West Second street this morning, Charles B. Wilson, 40 years old, of Belleville avenue, Newark, was arrested on the complaint of Jacob Abrams, representing Abrams and Dreier, the owners of the structure, who charged him with disorderly conduct in breaking open a door of the house. When arraigned before City Judge DeMebza he was given a suspended sentence.

It seems that by an arrangement between former Judge William Newcorn, counsel for Abrams and Dreier, Wilson was to take one of the moving picture machines from the building. While attempting to enter the building, he was confronted by Morris Abrams, who demanded that he show credentials. Wilson, according to the police, refused to do so. After Mr. Abrams locked the door leading to the auditorium, Wilson forced his way inside by removing the screws holding the door bolts. Jacob Abrams then ordered Patrolman Birmingham to place him under arrest.

WIDOWS WANT PENSIONS.

Plainfield, N. J., December 30, 1913.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.

We had rather expected the appointment of J. Herbert Case to the Board of Education and to be frank we had wish for it inasmuch as his ripe experience, his standing in the community, his position as a large taxpayer and his admitted ability to discharge the responsible duties would have made him an ideal man for the place. Loyal to his party, however, Mayor Stewart has seen fit to name a Democrat to succeed a Democrat. And while we do not believe that partisanship should play any part in educational matters, this paper takes pleasure in endorsing the appointment of Archibald Cox. The appointee is a New York lawyer whose interests are here as were those of his distinguished father. By education, by ability and by force of character, he is fully qualified for the place.

If you want to begin the new year right sit down and write a letter to the retiring members of the Common Council thanking them for the good services they have rendered your city. These men have given their services constantly for two years or more absolutely without any compensation and the least you can do is to express your appreciation.

Teaching sex-hygiene in the public schools is a "horrible mistake." That's what Governor Dunne, of Illinois, told the Teachers' Association of that State yesterday. He said he spoke as a husband and father. Well, if husband and father and wife and mother did their duty there would be no need for such necessary instruction.

All heads of departments by custim made their annual reports reviewing the year's work and achievements, but unfortunately for him that custom does not include the mayor giving an account of his Stewartship. This pun was contributed by the West End Avenue sage.

Speaker Clark says he lectures solely for the money there is in it and he poisons the needle for W. J. B. by adding that he does not try to make ends meet while Congress is in session.

Isn't about time that we heard again from Edward Caspar Stokes on how the young men, noticeably Franklin Murphy, David Baird and John Kean are going to rejuvenate the Republican party?

More than one "hoodoo" will attend the reception to be given by the President at Washington for fellow-Jerseymen on Jan. 13.

Are you reading our special Real Estate Page each Saturday? This feature is part of the policy to "Do It For Plainfield."

We'll start it ourselves and thank the retiring members of the Common Council for their services.

A distinguished and scholarly cleric will be the contributing editor for Saturday's issue.

Something's wrong somewhere: T. R. hasn't been on the first page for nearly a week.

Have you made those New Year resolutions yet?

THE FORUM.

December 29, 1913.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

It seems to me that there should be added to the report of the treasurer of the "Community Christmas" fund an additional statement of appreciation of the way in which the appeal for this fund was met by the men of the two federations and other residents of Plainfield.

The response to the request for help, both in the way of funds and in the use of automobiles, was instantaneous and most gratifying, and was invariably accompanied with a good word for the work.

Incidentally it may be added that the results of the effort were far more than the giving of toys to the children. One of the results was the furnishing to a number of destitute homes of coal and flour, another was the taking to Bonnie Burn of the choir boys of Grace church, who sang most acceptably for the sick people there. A third was the reflex action on the givers themselves—proof of the truth of the statement which accompanied the original appeal for funds, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

It was the pleasure of the writer to visit a number of the homes in the distribution of the gifts, and one of the happy memories of this Christmas time, which the two small boys who went with the writer will also cherish, is the delight of the children at this remembrance of them and the thought of the many homes which were brightened by the action of those who helped to make the Community Christmas a success.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL T. CARTER, JR.

THEY SAID GOOD-BYE TO DEPARTING ONES

"Humorist" F. E. Mygatt Enlivens Last Meeting of the Council of 1913.

The meeting of the Common Council last night, being the last one of the 1913 body for this year, it afforded an opportunity for an exchange of some pleasantry among the retiring and hold-over members. After disposing of the business, President Clay said that he would allow Mr. Mygatt fifteen minutes for his valedictory address, to which Councilman A. D. Edgar, good-naturedly, objected.

While efforts were being made to persuade Mr. Mygatt to say something, he was continually moving an adjournment, which his fellow-members ignored. When his motion was finally voted upon it was lost, Mr. Mygatt being alone in the support of it.

Councilman Leighton Calkins then succeeded in securing the adoption of his motion to the effect that the thanks of the "members who remain in harness" be given to the retiring members.

Mr. Mygatt, who was referred to by Mr. Gloak, as "the joker of the Council," said that the latter by his vote had shown that he wanted to make an address, and he requested President Clay to give him the fifteen minutes which he so kindly had allowed the Third ward member.

Mr. Gloak, not being "stumped" by Mr. Mygatt's "jolly" accepted the opportunity, and said that during the fourteen years he had served the city as Councilman he had always tried his best, that he had tried to make the city better than he had found it. He recalled the days when a man went about the city lighting street lamps, while today it costs the city $20,000 for lighting. He took occasion to thank all of the heads of the various departments, City Clerk James T. MacMurray, George B. Wean, city typist, and others for their many courtesies. He believed that the city had made substantial progress during his term of office.

Councilman C. C. Randolph, another retiring member, who was called upon, said that the word progress seemed to be the keynote. He said that he had found it pleasant to serve the city in the Council for the past ten years, and he thanked all for co-operation in the transaction of the city's business. He hoped that next year's Council would do better work than last year's body.

Mr. Mygatt, who has served the city as Council for six years, then expressed his appreciation to his fellow-members for their courtesies and wished all a Happy New Year. President Clay also extended greetings of the season to all present.

SHOULD THE BOW-WOW HAVE HOT BREAKFAST

Should a sick dog be provided with a hot breakfast? Such was one of the points raised this morning in the City Court, when Edward Vanderhoof, of Leland avenue, was arraigned before Judge DeMeza charged with cruelty to animals preferred against him by Mrs. Stephen H. Van Hoesen, local agent of the S. P. C. A. Martin Stutzman represented the complainant and Robert Newton Crane was counsel for the defendant and the latter produced testimony enough to win the dismissal of the complaint against his client.

Mrs. Van Hoesen, on the stand, stated that in her opinion a hound kept by Vanderhoof was ill-fed and was not given the proper care. One witness told how how his mother cooked corn meal for the dog, and Stutzman asked if the food did not become cold before given the animal. Mr. Crane at this point jumped to his feet, objecting, and said, "Your honor, this is all unnecessary—is there any law that states a dog should be served with a hot breakfast?

AUTO BUS TO BONNIE BURN FOR BENEFIT OF VISITORS

Since the opening of Bonnie Burn Sanitorium back of Scotch Plains the need of some means of transportation between this city and the institution has made itself felt among those who have relatives in the institution and who wish to be with them on the visiting days. In order to supply this want R. W. Campbell, of the Plainfield Transit Co., has compiled a schedule of auto car runs for Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday afternoons, these being the designated visiting days.

The bus will start from Hotel Kensington leaving Plainfield at 2:10 o'clock and returning from the home at 4:15 o'clock. The cars will also connect with the trolley at Park avenue, Scotch Plains and those coming in from other towns will be able to board the bus at that place and complete the trip to the mountains. Heretofore a majority of the visitors have walked the distance over an uphill grade of nearly a mile and the bus will now cary the visitors to the door of the main buildings.

An overheated stove in the home of Mrs. Sarah Christian, at 823 Richmond street, set fire to a bed this morning, and a passerby, noticing volumes of smoke issuing from a window in the second story, sent in an alarm from box No. 25. When the firemen arrived the house was filled with smoke and for a time it looked as though the blaze would consume the entire double house, which is of frame construction.

With the aid of chemicals the progress of the fire was soon checked and most of the damage was confined to the second story. The total damage will reach $100, half of which is on the furniture.

PRESENT REPORT TO CITY

Jefferson avenue, the results in all cases being negative.

"The frame of the screen having decayed and the bars become warped, a new, all-iron screen, five by eight feet, has been installed, and is improving conditions in the septic tanks.

"The tanks were cleaned the last of February and first of March, and again during the present month, the need of the second cleaning being indicated by a rise in the quantity of suspended solids in the septic effluent going into the primary beds.

"In the table is included, for the last six months, a new control determination: 'Dissolved oxygen consumed,' the method being indicated on the data sheet."

Street Committee Report.

The report of the street committee after reviewing at considerable length the work of the year, showing where and how the money appropriated to the department has been spent, has the following to say under the heading of recommendations:

"Well built, water-bound macadam roads, coated with asphalt or tar, will probably prove entirely adequate for residence streets with light travel, such as Belvidere avenue, Martine avenue and Elmwood place, this class comprising the greater part of the streets of the city.

"On streets with a somewhat greater amount of travel, such as East and West Seventh streets, a bituminous concrete pavement is recommended. This should be laid, preferably, on a cement concrete base, though many of these pavements are constructed with macadam base.

"For the main streets, a concrete base is a necessity, and the wearing surface may be chosen, according to taste or special requirements, from several successful types. The preference of a majority of the property owners for a certain type should be considered.

"'Dolarway' (a thin bituminous coating on the concrete) is being tried in Westfield, Roselle Park and other places, (on a large scale at Ann Arbor, Mich.) and would probably make a satisfactory pavement for roads such as Watchung avenue south of Fifth street, the coating being renewed as often as necessary.

"'Topeka,' 'Amiesite' and 'Bithulithic,' (bituminous concretes) are in general use and are suitable for quite heavy travel. Several miles of the Riverside Drive in New York city have been recently paved under the 'Topeka' specifications. A large amount of Amiesite is being laid by the Union county freeholders, South avenue, Jefferson avenue and part of Terrill road being examples.

"Only such permanent pavements as brick, wood block or asphalt block should be laid on the business streets adjoining the present brick pavement.

"The improvement to such streets as West Third street, between Liberty street and Plainfield avenue, by the construction of a permanent pavement can hardly be over-stated, the benefit being due, not only to the greatly improved appearance of the street and convenience of travel, but also on account of its being more easily cleaned and kept in a sanitary condition.

"Before any of these pavements are laid, the present curbs should be reset or new ones constructed (in some cases farther from the trees than at present) and all underground structures, present or to be required in the future, should be installed, repaired or enlarged.

"Many storm sewers have been petitioned for, but those in the streets selected for improvement should be constructed first.

"Some of our neighboring municipalities are much in advance of Plainfield in the matter of street improvements, but the property owners in these places have not waited for the streets in front of their property to be improved at the general expense, thus increasing the bonded debt and tax rate, but are paying assessments for a large part of the cost themselves. They have, however, in most cases, ten years in which to pay their assessments. This payment of a large portion of the cost by the property owners is an efficient check on extravagance in expenditures for improvements."

Fire Chief Report.

Fire Chief T. O. Doane, of the fire department, in his annual report reviews the work of the past year, giving interesting statistics. There was a total of 187 alarms, 95 telephone, 80 box and 12 verbal, with insurance and loses as follows: Loss on buildings, $22,377.00; loss on contents, $19,588.34, a total of $41,965.34. Insurance on buildings, $603,675.00; insurance on contents, $512,700.00; total insurance, $1,116,375.00; value of property involved, buildings, $823,850.00; contents, $652,850.00; total, $1,476,700.00. By way of recommendations, Chief Doane has this to say:

"We have made some improvements this year. The purchase last year of a Mack chassis with hose body, and the utilizing of our two 60-gallon chemical tanks, making of this apparatus a combination chemical and hose wagon at a cost of $3,750, has been money well spent and a great saving to the city. We would otherwise have been compelled to replace four horses at a cost of about $1,500. The cost of maintaining these animals would have been about $750, against about $200 to maintain the combination auto apparatus; a saving to the city of over $500 in one year.

"Your honorable body has ordered from the Knott Fire Engine Company a combination pumping engine which will be delivered about the middle of January next. This is a very great and much needed addition to your fire department. I would urgently recommend that another engine of the same capacity be purchased immediately, and that as soon as possible all of the apparatus of the city be motorized.

"We will need at least two new horses next year, and perhaps three, at a cost of about $350 to $400 each. This would seem like money unwisely expended in comparison to fitting out the entire department with motor apparatus. But the latter course, I am convinced, from our own experience, and that of other cities, would be a saving of money in the end, and would give better service especially to the suburbs of our city.

"The cost of another engine and motorizing all other apparatus would be about as follows: One pumping engine, $7,500; tractor for aerial truck, $4,250; motorizing our two combination hose wagons, $8,000; one new combination hose wagon to replace No. 1 hose wagon, $5,000; total, $24,750.

"This arrangement would eliminate ten of our horses which cost about $2,000 a year to maintain. We require at least four more permanent men who should be appointed immediately. No. 1 engine house has undergone some much needed repairing this past year and has been painted throughout. Some necessary alterations have been made at No. 4 engine house. The house has been painted inside and the varnish work touched up.

"The front roofs at headquarters building are about ready to fall to pieces. The first and second floors are in very bad condition. The first floor should be replaced with a cement floor, which is more desirable and would not be as expensive as a wooden floor. The second floor might be covered with linoleum. The outside of the building actually suffers for a coat of paint."

Police Chief.

Police Chief Patrick S. Kiely in his annual report to the Common Council, last night, which contained the usual information about the strength of the department, giving the names of the employes, their salaries, etc., made a few recommendations for the betterment of the work of the department.

Chief Kiely asks for more traffic police in the business section, an automobile patrol wagon, suggests physical exercise for the policemen at least twice a week, regular target practice and the purchase of three motorcycles to regulate the automobile traffic and other offenders of the law.

City Judge's Report.

Cases disposed of, 1,123; fined, 143; committed to county jail, 55; suspended sentences, 706; cases dismissed, 61; not tried, 25; turned over to probation officer, 30; turned over to other departments, 26; cases held for action of grand jury, 36; held under bonds, 41; total, 1,123; amounts of fines collected, $1,478; total amount of disbursements, $580.78; amounts to be turned over to city treasurer, $897.22.

PARK AVE. BAPTISTS CELEBRATED XMAS

Sunday School Pupils Enjoy a Real Good Old-Fashioned Program.

Christmas was observed in the good old-fashioned way by the Park Avenue Baptist Sunday-school last evening, and brought to mind the old-time custom of the week-night Christmas celebration when carols were sung by the school, and the children of the primary department gave recitations and sang Christmas songs, and each scholar received a box of candy.

The audience was the largest one the school had known in years, on a similar occasion. The program was as follows:

Carol, "Night Divine," school; responsive reading, pastor; prayer, Rev. William Pratt; carol, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," school; recitation, "Welcome," Benjamin Hadley, Jr.; carol, "Bethlehem," school; Christmas pontomime, elemantary department; carol, "Ring, Ye Bells," school; recitation, "Parcel Postman," Alba Van Winkle, Milton, Runyon, Harry Gerlash, Leonard Spangenberg, Nelson Van Winkle, John Hunt; song, Junior department; carol, "The Wondrous Gift," school; recitation, "I Am So Glad," Alice Spangenberg; carol, "Silvery Light," school; song, junior department; carol, "Sweet Thy Peace," school; recitation, "The Christmas Captain," Seeley Mosher; carol, "Bells of Rejoicing," school; song, Jean Vail, Helen Parker and chorus; carol, "The Prince of Peace," school; recitation, "The Tree That Was Thrown Away," Sarah Johnson; carol, "The Shepherds With Their Sheep," school; recitation, "Two Neighbors," George Groendyke; carol, "The Herald Song," school.

In the absence of the acting superintendent, Willard M. Maxim, who was detained at home by illness, the Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, presided.

A feature of the evening was the singing of the carols, rendered by the school under the leadership of former City Judge William N. Runyon, who had rehearsed the school for several weeks. This volume of song was accompanied by an orchestra of ten pieces including: Violins, Arthur S. Mosher, leader, Mrs. Charles Hellyer, Miss Norma Bailey and Chauncey Wheeler; flute, Elmer Wheeler; bass, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan; 'cello, Dr. J. F. Berg and Norman Bailey; cornet, Edward Guest; piano, Mrs. John Manley.

The work of the orchestra was especially fine, and the selections which they rendered throughout added very much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

An especially happy feature was the surprise tendered Mrs. Gabriel Reid Maguire, who was presented with a handsome handpainted white and gold ice cream set by her class of women, "The Volunteer Bible Class." Judge William N. Runyon made the presentation speech and Mrs. Maguire responded, expressing her deep appreciation of this further evidence of the affection and loyalty of her class, and her earnest desire to be more to them personally, and to accomplish greater things than ever before for the Master in this class of women. On Christmas day Mrs. Maguire received from her class a beautiful handmade comfortable, so that this second gift from the same source came as a great surprise.

At the conclusion of the program every member of the school was presented with a box of candy, and then followed a social hour during which crullers and coffee were served by the following waiters and waitresses: The Misses Bettie Mills, Martha Casner, Elinore Stutsman, Edna Groff, Anna Clark, Mary Clark, Ruth Maguire, Evelyn Manley and Ora Bush; Walter Weber, Karl Wilson, Fred Mills, Will Doane, Charles Hellyer and George Kling.

The committee of arrangements included: Mrs. W. S. Lowry, Mrs. John Manley, Miss Florence Hawkins, Miss Helen Cuming, Mrs. A. Cuming, Miss Adelia Runyon, and Mrs. Charles Van Winkle, Mr. Harry Runyon, Mrs. William Doan and Joseph M. Hawkins.

Mrs. Archibald Fleming and children are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Robinson, of East Whitehouse.

It is said that there will be a number of changes in business places in the borough the coming year. Rents have also been raised considerably where leases have expired, which probably accounts for removals. Plans have been prepared for a number of new houses in the borough, and it is expected that building operations will be quite lively the coming spring.

The cold snap has brought an unusual number of tramps to this place the past week. After giving them a night's lodging in the county jail they are hustled out in the morning, first being given some thing to eat. During the day the borough marshals keeps the wanderers on the move. Some of the tramps have become quite insistent, and are a great nuisance to residents on the outside of the borough limits.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 45.

ADVERTISING is a salesman that is always at work, but never wearies a customer; that call on the same man until he is convinced, but never annoys him with its insistence; that wastes no time, wastes no words, and that can always gain an audience and a hearing. Alone among salesmen, advertising has free access to the libraries of the great; it marches unchecked past the secretary of the big merchant and enters without hindrance the store of the retailer. When it cannot tell its story to a man in his office, it can always gain his attention in his home. The door of the housewife is never slammed in its face. No country is so remote, no village is so dead, that it does not go there for orders and get them—Saturday Evening Post.

Tell me, suppose you want a job, or want to sell your house, or want to rent an apartment, or want domestic help, or want—anything—can you think of a quicker, less expensive, more direct way of getting that want before the people than through a little Want Ad?

Classified advertising is always at work. It does not weary a customer, because that customer turns to it of his own free will. It does not annoy him with his insistence; rather, it pleases him with its concise information. It wastes no words. It gets its message across, and instantly. It has access to the hearts of the people because it reflects the needs of the people.

Want Ad. advertising in the columns of this newspaper gains attention in offices, in homes, in city, in country—wherever people have that which they do not want and want that which they do not have. No door is ever slammed in its face.

And say—isn't that a pretty good way to get YOUR want over the line?

The Want-Ad Man

Of Interest to Women and the Home

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

FRANCES MARSHALL

Rice Economy.

It is a very good plan to give rice, macaroni and kindred articles, and potatoes as much of a rest in summer as possible. They are foods especially suitable for cold weather—for they are cheap, when fresh fruit and vegetables are expensive, and they are full of heat and energy. Rice, to be sure, has proved itself a suitable food for use in hot climates. Nevertheless, in our markets there are so many suitable summer foods at low cost that rice can be saved for a winter luxury. In winter it might well be served once a day.

To Begin the Day.

To begin the day with, rice makes a good breakfast cereal. It should be carefully cooked, so that each grain is separate, not in a soggy, untasteful mass. It can be boiled in a big kettle full of bubbling water, drained, and then dried for a moment in the edge of an open oven, where it is tossed with a wooden fork. Or it can be cooked with milk in a double boiler.

Plain boiled rice can be eaten with cream or milk and sugar, salt or a little grated nutmeg. Another good way to eat it is to sprinkle it with finely shaved maple sugar and add cream to taste. Put the sugar on first, as the heat of the rice melts it.

As a Vegetable.

Plain boiled rice can be eaten in place of a vegetable. With cheese it makes a dish nourishing enough to take the place of both meat and vegetable. To prepare it wash a cupful of rice and boil it until tender in three cupfuls of water and a spoonful of salt. Butter a baking dish and cover the bottom with the boiled rice. Then add butter and a dash of cayenne and a sprinkling of grated cheese. Then add another layer of rice. Fill the dish in this way, using three layers of cheese and four of rice. Use altogether a quarter of a pound of cheese. Pour a cupful of milk over and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Bake brown.

This is another good way of preparing rice: Fry a chopped onion and add salt, pepper, two cupfuls of canned tomato and a cupful of stock. Simmer for ten minutes and then add two cupfuls of boiled rice. Heat through, and just before serving add a tablespoonful of butter.

For Dessert.

Nothing is better than old-fashioned rice pudding, for which each housewife has her particular recipe. But old-fashioned rice pudding becomes tedious. It can be varied by the addition of eggs, and various sorts of fruit.

Here is a chocolate rice pudding that is delicious: Cook a quarter of a cupful of rice in a pint of milk, seasoned with a third of a teaspoonful of salt, in a double boiler until tender. Add a tablespoonful of butter, a third of a cupful of sugar, a square of chocolate, melted, half a cupful of raisins and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Then fold in the beaten whites of two eggs and half a cupful of whipped cream just after removing from fire. Put in a buttered baking dish, add a meringue made of three egg whites, six tablespoonfuls of sugar and six of cocoa or grated chocolate. Brown and serve cold. This is an expensive pudding unless eggs are plentiful. But if you have water-glass eggs you will find it a treat well worth making.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

Many of the [illegible]es and annoyances of childhood [illegible] one away with by the comfortab[illegible] sible clothing now being designed [illegible] mother is also benefited.

Children obj[illegible] strenuously to anything that ham[illegible] or makes them uncomfortable.

No. 7500 is a [illegible]ys' Russian blouse suit, with knicke[illegible]ckers; a front closing blouse, full [illegible]th sleeves and a removable shield.

It is a design that is suitable for serge or any of the wash materials.

If plain blue serge is used the collar may be ornamented with a bit of colored embroidery, bright red or white. The belt may be a band of the material stitched, or a patent leather belt may be used.

Many mothers advocate using wash materials the year round, as they are more sanitary than materials that cannot be tubbed. Worn with heavy wraps, there is no danger of catching cold, and the little one is always clean and fresh looking.

If a wash material, linen galetea or madras is used with this pattern eyelet embroidery is pretty to use on the collar.

To make this suit in size 4 it requires 2¾ yards of 36 inch material.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes, 2, 4 and 6.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to state correct size, passing the tape around the fullest part of the breast well up under the arms.

Reflections of Eve's Daughter.

It is some compliment to our taste to find that the furs which we have mentally decided upon are the most expensive on the market, but the shock is bad for our nervous system.

Well warned is half armed, they say; but, no matter how dark a picture is drawn of matrimony, the average girl will continue to think wedding gowns and misty veils are quite the sweetest things on earth.

Anyway, it should be a matter of thankfulness that we at least know beforehand what this annual Christmas rush is like.

Repairs Old Flags.

Mrs. Amelia Fowler of Boston, who has made a reputation for taking care of old flags, says that she has never seen one so old that it could not be preserved. Some of those which she has renovated, flags of the civil and preceding wars, seemed to be disintegrated until she got hold of them. One of them is Perry's battleflag, which flew from the masthead at the battle on Lake Erie.

FASHION REVIEW.

If you are including in your wardrobe the one piece dress the separate wrap is a necessity.

The separate skirt contrasting with the jacket is a godsend to the woman who must be economical.

The smart corsage bouquet is now surrounded by a frill of tulle harmonizing with the color of the gown.

White ermine stoles are finished with chenille fringe formed of lengths of chenille cord that is about four inches long.

Braided belts are worn on many of the latest suits, and sometimes the braiding is combined with heavy embroidery.

Some of the new long sleeves have small buckles at the wrist to hold the fullness of the frill snugly in place about the wrist.

A Useful Article Which Can Be Made At Home.

A pin-cushion makes a useful and acceptable article at all times and is very quickly and easily made.

Pattern number 14540, contains transfers for stamping covers for the top and bottom of the pin-cushion, which are 18 inches long and 9½ inches wide. The cushion should be 12½ inches long and 4½ inches wide the stock size that can be bought very reasonably at any art embroidery shop or notion counter. If made at home care must be taken to have it stuffed firmly, so that it will keep its shape.

Simple and attractive, as well as useful, is this dainty gift which can be made at very little expense, as often, pieces of material which one has in the house can be utilized. Lawn, batiste, dimity or handkerchief-linen are all appropriate for making these covers, which should be held together by ribbon, run through the large eyelets.

This simple daisy design may be developed in solid work, eyelets, or the two stitches combined, in white mercerized cotton. A monogram or initials may be added to make a more elaborate design and also to give a touch of individuality.

The initials, illustrated on the pin-cushion, are taken from pattern number 14230, which is a script alphabet made in four sizes: 1 inch, 2 inch, 3 inch and 4 inch. A complete alphabet in any one size is contained in a pattern. These letters may be embroidered in white mercerized cotton in heavily padded solid work or outlined and the spaces filled in with seed-stitch. Both methods are very popular and quite effective.

These patterns will be supplied to readers for 10 cents each.

Some Cookery Suggestions

SAVORY DISHES WITH EGGS.

BREAKFAST MENU.
Orange Juice in Cups.
Cereal.
Dried Beef and Eggs.
Buttered Toast.
Coffee.

MANY nourishing and appetizing foods may be made by combining eggs with other foods. These make useful dishes for breakfast or luncheon when heavy food is not desired.

Served on Toast.

Dried Beef and Eggs.—Take a cupful of chopped beef and to it add a pint of canned drained tomatoes. Place in a frying pan, season with paprika and a little finely minced onion. When smoking hot add six beaten eggs with a tablespoonful of cream, stir until the eggs are cooked and pour over neat strips of toast. Sometimes a little grated cheese is stirred in with the eggs.

Baked Eggs With Shrimps.—Take six eggs and beat them well, melt two ounces of butter in a small enameled saucepan and add the eggs to the butter, together with a tablespoonful of milk and a quarter of a pint of shrimps. Season with pepper and salt to taste. Stir this until it thickens. Then take slices of buttered toast and spread the creamed shrimps over it. Garnish with little heaps of shrimps and sprigs of watercress. Canned shrimps may be used for this dish.

In Individual Cups.

Baked Eggs.—In little baking cups melt a small piece of butter; then break one egg into each cup. Put one tablespoonful of milk or cream on top of each and a little salt and pepper and a small piece of butter. Bake in a hot oven. They should be cooked just before serving.

Scrambled Eggs With Ham.—Take three ounces of butter and melt it in an enameled saucepan over the fire. Break six eggs into the butter, one by one. Then add a teacupful of milk and a dash of salt and pepper. Stir until the eggs begin to set. Then add three ounces of boiled ham which has been first sliced, then cut into small pieces. When well combined turn out on a hot dish. Garnish with sprigs of parsley and serve at once.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Good And the Bad Rooster

The Bad Rooster Got Into a Fight.

JACK and Evelyn's favorite uncle had just arrived from Japan, and they had been begging him to tell them a story.

"But I thought daddy always did that," said uncle.

"Oh, he does usually!" answered Jack, "but we'd like to hear one of yours this evening."

"Well, now," said daddy, "it's come to a pretty pass. Here I've been telling you a story every night for ever and ever so long, and now uncle comes along—almost a stranger—and you desert old daddy and ask for one of uncle's stories."

"Oh, we love your stories, daddy!" said Jack and Evelyn.

"You see," said uncle, "it's the new thing we all like."

Daddy laughed and said, "Well, I'll listen anyway." So uncle began:

"Once upon a time there were two little chickens. One was very good and always did what old Mother Hen told him to, but the other chicken was very bad—would tease his little sisters and fight with his neighbors. His mother warned him, saying, 'Now, if you aren't good some harm will surely come to you.' But the little chicken paid no attention and strutted around, thinking he knew everything there was to know.

"Time went along, and the chickens grew up into roosters. The good chicken turned out to be a very beautiful rooster, with a fine red tuft and perfect feathers. The naughty chicken was not nearly so fine looking, as he had been in so many fights he looked quite scratched and scrawny, and as he had always wandered off and eaten anything he pleased his plumage was not nearly so nice as his brother's.

"One day the bad rooster got in the most awful fight, in which he lost an eye. Oh, how he then yelled for his Mother Hen and his brother, and they bathed his wounds and tried to comfort him.

"After a few weeks the bad rooster had fully recovered, but he now only had one eye, and he missed ever and ever so many worms that his good brother was able to see and pick up, nor could he run very fast, as he was so apt to stumble and fall. But what made him feel most ashamed was that all the little chickens were shown the difference between the rooster who had always done what his mother had told him to and the bad rooster with only one eye who had always been disobedient.

"The bad rooster was a much older and sadder rooster than his brother, who, of course, still looked fine and young. But he became very kind, and all the little chickens would get him to tell them stories. But they could never forget that he had lost one eye in a fight, and a very peaceable and fine set of roosters resulted from the naughty rooster's sad experiences."

NOT ONLY A GOOD "RATTER"---BUT A ALSO A GOOD "CALFER"

IN THE SPORTING SPOTLIGHT

"MAC" SAYS

No, gentle rooter, it does not relieve the chafed feelings of one Hyman Abrams when you inform him that a Burner is one kind of a heater. The little N. P. H. S. guard has quit the team and threatens never to aid Captain Burner in another conspiracy to pull down a victory.

Wonder who the Canadians will unearth to fill the place of the Interscholastic League cup donor? The responsibilities entrusted in the faithful Hyman were too great and he refuses to aid in keeping the cup in the family.

Manager "Duke" VanMater declines to let his North Plainfield High School basketeers play Hope Chapel in the latter's gym. This indicates that "Duke" has a tender spot somewhere down deep in his heart.

It's great to cherish an unblemished record but while there's "Hope" there's a chance of having it smashed to smithereens.

Not that it is any of our business but those Leal School athletes are liable to be pinched for disturbing the dead. Who ever heard of baseball practice at this season of the year?

Coach Wardlaw even has the jump on the Federals when it comes to springing the new stuff. If practice makes perfect the local private schoolboys ought to be world beaters by the time April blows around.

White hopes have so crippled the boxing game in New York State that Bob Fitzsimmons is having the time of his life to get on the sporting map once more. The only way these would-be fighters can get squared with the public is to cripple each other.

A Y. M. C. A. basketball leader bursts into print with a threat to haul down the Hope Chapel colors on the West Fourth street court. Who ever heard of such a thing? Few men there are who dare to even mention such a circumstance.

Woodbridge High School basketball players have announced their intention of going after the State title on the court this season. Do you recollect that this team is composed of practically the same men who got "cold feet" when it came to appearing on the Hope Chapel court Saturday night?

If you were aching for a real fight, and you knew you could whip any man in the house, and everybody was afraid to get into the ring with you—well, that's about how Bob Fitzsimmons feels.

Haven't heard any more about "Doc" Doyle accepting that Holy Cross football management. It's an annual stunt for "Doc" to announce he will quit the gridiron game but he's always on hand in the fall.

If the genial Doyle had any originality in his system he would come out some autumn with the announcement that he has not retired. Likewise, Bill Ruttledge.

Y. M. C. A. practice tonight. It is said that everyone will be on hand for once at a scheduled drill.

Hope Chapel has gained such a reputation on the basketball court during the last two weeks that Manager Leighs has been unable to sign up an opponent for New Year's Day. Two teams have cancelled and "cold feet" seems to be the only excuse in each case.

It must be great for a team to have a reputation like the Chapelites have but it is hard on any manager to have to contend with such conditions.

EZRA WENZ AN ENTRANT IN INTERNATIONAL RACE

The feature event at the Junior Indoor Championships of America at the 13th Regiment Armory next Saturday night (January 3), promises to be the two mile championship run. The several foreigners entered in this race gives it an International flavor —Canada, Finland and Sweden being represented. M. W. Pollick, of London, Ontario, will make his first appearance here and local athletic fans are anxious to see what kind of a showing he will make against John Eke, Williae Kyronen, Ezra Wenz, Dave Noble, O. Gibbons, Willie Lindfore and John Pietila. All these men have good records.

John Eke, it will be remembered, represented Sweden in the cross country race at the Olympic Games last year and finished third to Hannes Kolehmainen, and last summer he won the Junior Metropolitan three-mile championship run: Willie Kyronen came to this country from Finland after the Olympic Games last year and has made rapid strides as a distance runner since that time.

He finished third to Kolehmainen and Harry Smith in the American Ten Mile Championship Run this year; Ezra Wenz is the former Roselle High School champion distancer who represents Colby College; Dave Noble, of the New York A. C. has always finished well up in every mile championship race he has run in, but has decided to try the two mile this time, and from good authority it has been learned that he is running close to championship record time in training; Willie Lindfors and John Pictila are two more Finnish athletes who represent the Kaleva Athletic Club. These boys have been training with Hannes Kolehmainen and they are expected to make trouble for all those seeking titular honors in the two-mile event.

BOXING EXPERTS EXAMINE FITZ AND HAIL HIM AS A "COME-BACK"

Endeavoring to dispell by actual demonstration the averse criticism that has been going the rounds concerning the fitness to return to the roped arena, Bob Fitzsimmons entertained a numbeer of New York fight managers and sporting writers in his local training quarters yesterday afternoon, and during an exhibition that lasted little over an hour, proved conclusively to all present that he is the same old ring general with an added degree of cunning and a better wallop than he had in his prime. Among those who witnessed the workout were Irving Fordon, matchmaker for the Atlantic Garden A. C. where "Fitz" is scheduled to fight his initial "come-back" scrap; Danny Lyons, boxing expert for the New York Globe; Walter St. Dennis, sporting editor of the New York Globe, and John Meek, Fitzsimmon's manager.

Jim Savage, the Orange heavyweight, was expected to be on hand to fight two rounds with the big fellow yesterday afternoon but failed to put in an appearance and after a wait of nearly an hour Bob decided to carry out the exhibition with his husky son, Bob Jr., and it is doubtful if the Orange product could have put up any better article of the ring game than did the youngster. The youthful generation of the Fitzsimmons family slugged like a demon and forced his father to pull into play all of his cunning in an effort to ward off the damaging blows. On one occasion the boy landed a shattering clout on the "old man's" jaw and although it apparently dazed him for a second, Bob Sr. came back in a second and was right after the youngster again. Following the slugging match with his son in which he demonstrated some speedy footwork, hard punching and some real defensive work, the "Ruby ring master" punched the pigskin bag for forty-five minutes without showing the least fatigue.

While being rubbed down by his son, who is serving in the capacity of trainer, Bob talked reminiscently of some of his greatest fights and vowed that he would "show 'em all up" if the commission would grant him the right to appear in the Empire State.

An effort was made by Manager Meek to bring Fred McKay, the Brooklyn heavyweight, to Plainfield yesterday afternoon and despite a tempting offer of $200 for two rounds he failed to show up in the Queen City.

Fitzsimmons is anxious to get a crack at anything the fight world can produce at the present time and is willing to guarantee to dispose of the best in two rounds of fighting.

"Bring Levinsky, the lad who is sweeping the boards in New York city," said Bob, "and I will lay him cold in a couple of rounds. Bring him to Plainfield and invite the members of the Boxing Commission here to see me show him up."

"Fitz," accompanied by his manager, went to New York this afternoon where he will appear before the New York State Boxing Commission and request that body to allow him to appear in the ring in the Metropolis. In the Fitzsimmons party will be Irving Fordon, matchmaker for the Garden A. C., who was here yesterday, and in the event of Bob making a favorable impression when he appears before the Commission, Fordon will immediately sign him to meet some white hope in the Garden the first part of next month. If any doubt exists in the mind of the commissioners regarding his condition, Fitzsimmons declares that he will invite the whole body to come to Plainfield and witness and fight in his training quarters here with any fighter, the opponent to be selected by the Board.

Some of the comments passed out after the exhibition yesterday, were as follows:

Danny Lyons, (boxing expert)—"In my opinion Fitzsimmons is better than he was when he fought Jim Jeffries for the title and I think he will have little trouble in 'coming-back' and winning the heavyweight championship of the world. His work this afternoon was of high order and his son forced him to show just what he could do in the boxing line."

Irving Fordon (match maker)—"Bob Fitzsimmons is the greatest fighter in the world today, barring none, and although I am not ready to announce the name of his first opponent, you can rest assured that it will be the choicest morsel fighting in the ring today. 'Fitz' will have little trouble in regaining the heavyweight laurels."

John Meek (manager)—"'Fitz' will appear before the Board of Commissioners tomorrow (today) afternoon and invite the members to come to Plainfield and see him as he really is. Bob is the greatest of them all and we will soon have him in the ring again."

HYMAN ABRAMS HAS JOINED "FEDERALS"

North Plainfield High School Guard Deserts His Alma Mater.

Following a run-in with Captain Burner, of the North Plainfield High School basketball team, during practice in Saengerbund Hall, yesterday afternoon, Hyman Abrams, star guard on the North Plainfield schoolboy five, is up in arms and announces that he has quit the team for once and all. Abrams resents certain treatment handed him by the borough leader of late and the climax came yesterday when he was ordered off the floor. Abrams left the practice hall declaring that he would never again don a red and black uniform and so announced his intention of becoming a "Federal" last night.

Without Abrams the North Plainfield High School team's strength will be perceptibly diminished as he has been the mainstay at guard during the past season. Abrams is by far the best guard in the school and his all around basketball ability has asserted itself in every game the Canadians have played this season. Besides being an excellent goal preventer he has mastered the dribbing and passing art and can shoot with greater accuracy than the other N. P. H. S. guards.

Who will take the stocky little fellow's place remains a mystery but Newkirk and Townley are making strong bids for the vacancy, although both are weaker than Abrams in all around work. The position left vacant by George Townley last season was one of the hardest ones the North Plainfielders had to fill this season, but Abrams' sudden appearance in the game put an end to all fears concerning the guard berth. By some hard practice he mastered the fine points of the game and at the present time there is not a man on the team who rivals him in all around playing ability.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.—Adv.

RURAL CREDIT SOUGHT.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 30.—The New England members of the American commission on agricultural organization and rural credits that visited Europe last summer, met at the State House here today and began a two days' conference with the object of deciding upon a uniform credit and co-operation policy to extend throughout New England. The Massachusetts legislature which is about to assemble will be asked to act on a bill giving credit to the farmers through the insurance of bonds on a co-operative basis or by some other form that may be considered best. Such a measure, it is believed, will greatly help to encourage agricultural activities on the millions of acres of waste lands in New England.

TO GIVE PARTY FOR BOWERY.

New York, Dec. 30.—Not the least interesting of the varied entertainment with which the metropolis is planning to usher in the New Year tomorrow night will be the party to be given by Frederick Townsend Martin, society leader, author and "uplifter of the poor." Mr. Martin terms the affair a Bowery party and his guests will include several hundred men, women and children gathered up indiscriminately along that famous thoroughfare and in the neighboring streets of the lower East Side. Mr. Martin will have a supper for his guests, following which some famous opera singers and musicians will furnish entertainment for the gathering.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-know authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and no body can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Adv.

NEW YEAR'S DAY EVENTS PLANNED

What Will Be Doing Tomorrow in the City and in the Borough.

COUNCILS TO ORGANIZE

Stores Closed and No Local Newspapers—Mayor Stewart Will Hold Reception—Elks Reception Day—At Amusement Houses.

New Year's Day will be a busy one in this city and vicinity, a number of public events being planned for the holiday, in addition to many private celebrations. The event of perhaps most importance to the city will be the meeting of the 1914 Common Council tomorrow night for organization purposes, at which time new committees for the year will be named, and Mayor Percy H. Similar meetings will be held at the same hour by the Fanwood and Dunellen Councils.

The Park Club has planned for its annual reception in the afternoon which this year will be a "The Dansante," tea being served and dancing enjoyed. A committee of women will serve and receive.

SANTA MAKES VISIT TO THE WEST END

Live Wire Civic Association Provides Merry Xmas for All the Youngsters.

An army of 600 children, a majority of whom were accompanied by their parents, packed the auditorium of the Washington School to its capacity mark last night, the occasion being the annual Christmas entertainment arranged by the West End Civic Association for the juvenile populace of the city.

Previous to the appearing of Santa Claus, who was the chief attraction for the children during the evening, a program of motion pictures provided by public spirited citizens furnished entertainment. Scenes appropriate to the Yuletide season and a number of educational and travel films were thrown on the screen.

Because of the large number of attendants and the many gifts to be distributed, two agents of Santa Claus had to be called into service, Thomas C. Vail and Norman Stringham decorating themselves with white beards and long red cloaks. Gifts of candy and toys were distributed among the children and many bags of good things were unloaded during the latter part of the evening.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for this event included William J. Boyd, Bartin K. Davis, Thomas F. Hylan and Dr. Peter B. Cregar. The patronesses were Mrs. Peter B. Cregar, Mrs. William J. Boyd, Mrs. Joseph Edgar, Jr., Mrs. Edward W. Davis, Mrs. Thomas F. Hylan, Mrs. Charles O. Pearson, Mrs. John J. Carroll, Mrs. E. B. Davis, Mrs. Thomas C. Vail, Mrs. R. A. PRACTICAL JOKER CAUSED AN ALARM

Frank Crouse Grabbed up the "Infernal Machine" and Police Open the Box.

Considerable excitement was caused among the merchants having stores in the old rink building on Watchung avenue and later at police headquarters, when Frank Crouse, of 1418 South avenue, found what he thought to be an infernal machine and rushed with a mysterious looking box to Sergeant Maurice Higgins, to whom he told his fears.

Crouse was passing the old rink building shortly before 9 o'clock when he noticed a black box about eight inches square, near the entrance of the skirt factory. Made of heavy pasteboard, the box was wrapped around many times with pieces of wire. A nail protruded from the top of the package and small brass wheels and pieces of wire here and there, gave it a mysterious appearance.

The first thing Crouse did was to call the attention of several passerbys to the box and soon a small sized crowd had collected. Then he grabbed the thing and ran with it a block away to headquarters. He placed it carefully on the desk before Sergeant Higgins and explained briefly that he thought it was a bomb or infernal machine. Higgins carried the box to the prison court, where the mysterious apparatus was placed in a tub of water. After allowing it to remain in the water about an hour the wires were cut loose and the box was opened. It contained mainly sawdust and pieces of junk.

SERVICES ON ADVENT OF THE NEW YEAR

Hubach, the pastor, will be in charge of the services. Walter M. McGee, superintendent of the Sunday-school, whose father, the late James McGee, made possible the church, will read a historical sketch of the organization. Edward Beekman will give a talk on the present church, while Mr. Hubach will speak on the subject of "Prophecy."

The Monroe Avenue church was set apart as a separate organization on January 1, 1897, at a meeting in Vincent Chapel of the the First M. E. church. Prior to that during the formative period, Rev. William Munson was the acting pastor. When the organization was completed, Rev. William C. O'Donnell, now of this city, became the first regular pastor. He was succeeded by Rev. John MacMurray, Rev. George Mooney, Rev. E. E. Roberson, Rev. C. S. Kimball and the present pastor, Rev. Frederick J. Hubach.

At the time of organization one hundred members were dismissed from the First M. E. church to join that body. The church has continued to grow and prosper and at the present time has a membership of 350. There is a large Sunday-school and all of the departments are well organized under the direction of Mr. Hubach. The church property is a valuable one and it is believed to be only a matter of time when an addition will have to be built to accomodate the increasing congregation.

GLADIATOR FITZ IS COUNTED OUT

New York State Boxing Commission Takes Formal Action After Hearing.

COURT ACTION NEXT

Manager Johnny Meek Threatens to Carry Case to the Civil Courts—Restraining Injunction May Be Taken Out Immediately.

Bob Fitzsimmons, now in his fifty-second year, former heavyweight champion of the world, and considered by many as the greatest fighter of all time, is formally debarred from engaging in any boxing bouts in New York State. This was announced at the regular meeting of the State Athletic Commission, held at the headquarters, No. 41 Park Row, New York, yesterday afternoon.

The action was taken only after a lengthy meeting, in which Fitzsimmons, the managers of the Atlantic Garden Athletic Club, Dr. Rosenthal, physician of the club, and the commissioners talked freely on the advisability of allowing the veteran Cornishman to re-enter the ring.

"The commission maintains that it would be contrary to the best interests of boxing to allow Bob Fitzsimmons to box in this State," said Charles J. Harvey, the secretary, in announcing the verdict. "The decision was unanimous, and reached only after the facts of the case had been gone over in detail. Fitzsimmons is too old a man to box a real battle, and to allow him to enter the ring would be to invite perhaps fatal injury to one of the greatest fighters in the history of boxing. We have advised Fitzsimmons of our decision and also the Atlantic Garden Athletic Club. We shall also inform all clubs under our jurisdiction of our decision."

Johnny Meek, manager of Fitzsimmons, was indignant when he heard the decision last night. He declared that he would put the case in the hands of his attorney at once.

W. A. GAHAGAN WILL UPHELD BY COURT

William A. Coddington Wins Victory for Widow of Well Known Plainfield Man.

Trenton, Dec. 31.—As counsel for the widow and executrix, former Judge William A. Coddington won another victory when the codicil to the will of Wm. A. Gahagan, of Plainfield, was sustained in an opinion filed in the Prerogative Court today by Vice Ordinary Backes. The Gahagan will was made June 17, 1912, and there was no dispute as to its provisions. February 1st last, while critically ill, he executed the codicil and he died February 10. The codicil changed the share of his daughter, Mrs. Melissa Homan from a direct bequest to a bequest in trust, she to receive the income during her life and at her death this share to go to her children.

Mrs. Homan attacked the codicil upon the grounds that her father was not competent to make it and it was not properly executed. The Union county surrogate admitted the codicil to probate and Judge Connolly in the Orphans' Court affirmed this judgment. Then the daughter appealed to the Prerogative Court, where the final decision is against her.

TOOK HER MONEY AND IS ARRESTED

Walter Smalley Held for Grand Jury on Charge Made by Miss Wann.

MADE LOVE TO HER

Married Man Fleeced Innocent Girl of Her Savings—He's Been in Police Court Before—She Gave Up $300.

Having convinced Miss Tessie Wann, a girl not long in this country, that he loved her and wished to make her his wife, Walter Smalley, of Prescott place, a married man with three children, secured about $300 of the girl's savings, according to the police, under the pretense that he was going to "start in business," and when the enterprise flouished the wedding ceremony would take place. But when Smalley grew less attentive and no business was started, Miss Wann became suspicious that she was being swindled of her years' savings, and confided the belief to several friends. They notified Police Chief Kiely, and on Monday, Smalley was taken into custody, charged with obtaining money under false pretences. This morning when arraigned before City Judge DeMeza he was held in $500 to await the action of the grand jury. He was taken to the county jail in Elizabeth.

Smalley, according to the authorities, has a bad record. They say that two years ago he was indicted for bigamy, having married a Westfield girl in Newark while his present spouse lived here in ignorance of it until his arrest. The second marriage was annulled. He has been before City Judge DeMeza twice on non-support charges, according to the records, and the court stated that while he was an employe of a manufacturing concern in South Plainfield, he collected $5 from other laborers under the pretense of buying a Christmas present for the foreman. After securing the money he left the works and never returned.

The prisoner has been paying attention to Miss Wann for nearly five months. She worked for several families as a servant, and saved the greater part of her earnings. When she made Smalley's acquaintance she had several hundred dollars in a bank. When the latter found this out, the police say, he immediately started a "play" for the coin. He made love to her and won her confidence. Finally, the authorities say Smalley broached the subject of a marriage and said that with the aid of $300 he could start in business and soon become rich. The unsuspecting girl volunteered to provide the fund, she says, but when Smalley once became the possessor of her savings, the police say, his attentions gradually ceased.

MO-JO White Chewing Gum

Talk No. 27

WE believe children should be impressed with the difference between dirty brown chewing gum, and chewing gum that is clean and white.

They should be encouraged to chew MO-JOs, for MO-JOs are not only delightful in flavor but pure and harmless.

There is nothing in a MO-JO except clean, pure gum, sweetening and flavor.

A special package of MO-JOs—five little MO-JOs for one cent—has been prepared for the children.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. —Adv.

THE FARMING RECORD.

It will interest all Jersey farmers and for that matter all citizens to know that ten billions dollars worth of products, five billions of cash income—a bumper year in spite of droughts and other setbacks—is the record of 6,000,000 American farms. This most successful year of husbandry in the United States brought forth $6,100,000,000 worth of crops of which $2,896,000,000 were represented by cereals alone, and $3,650,000,000 worth of animals sold and slaughtered and animal products.

Just by way of comparison, let us state that the value of the 1913 crops is twice as great as that of 1899. It is over $1,000,000,000 more than 1909, and substantially greater than 1912.

The smallest average cash income per farm and per capita was obtained in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, where the labor of a relatively large number of adults and children is required to produce the crop.

The largest average cash income per farm per capita is shown in the North Central, West Division, including the States of Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North and South Dakota, Kansas and Nebraska.

WALDO IS RIGHT.

Requested by the incoming Mayor to do so, Police Commissioner Waldo of New York, has made suggestions for the benefit of the new administration and among them is one which should be heeded. It is that the police commissioner should be appointed for a term of years and be removed only on charges proven before a competant judicial body. This business of ousting the head of a police department at will and always dismissing him at the end of a mayoralty term is wrong in principle. There should be no politics in the police department if the best interests of the public are to be served.

That recommendation of Police Chief Kiely that the Common Council provide three motorcycles to be used by policemen in the work of regulating the traffic in the business section of the city is a good one. There is a real need for this as any one at all familiar with the business district is well aware.

Dr. Anna Shaw expressed her opposition to militant methods for gaining equal suffrage by refusing to welcome the Pankhurst woman to these shores but now she urges women not to pay their taxes until they are given the ballot. How consistent.

It would be a genuine climax to his history of the American people should President Wilson at the end of his administration add a chapter on the achievements and advancements during his term of office.

It seems that City Judge DeMeza emulates President Wilson. His annual statement to the Common Council was probably the briefest ever made by a city official. Still, he told the whole story.

Fire Chief Doane, in his annual report, recommended among the fifty-seven variety of needs for the department that 2,000 feet of hose be purchased. This is his annual custom and it is also the annual custom of the Common Council to make him a present of 1,000 feet.

Let it be recorded that E. T. Barrows was the only man to remember the police and fire pension funds when disributing Christmas gifts.

The Plainfield Daily Press wishes you a Happy New Year.

Happy New Year to Mayor Stewart and to Mayor Clark.

And make a resolution to "Do It For Plainfield."

Start to write it 1914.

JERSEYMAN PATENTS NEW RADIUM PROCESS

Atlantic City, Dec. 31—Capitalists here have formed a company to exploit a process in which Robert McKnight, a chemist, asserts he has discovered the secret of extracting radium from pitchblende ore.

McKnight has been conducting his investigations in a small laboratory here for more than a year past, and Monday announced that his process had been fully perfected and protected by patent. The company backing the chemist asserts that it can supply a six-milligram tube of radium equal to the best now available to the medical world in sixty days, and at one-fifth the present market price.

Crescent Avenue Sunday School.

The younger members of the Crescent Avenue church Sunday-school enjoyed a Christmas party in the parlors of the church, yesterday afternaan, the program being furnished by a professional sleight-of-hand artist, from New York. The children brought suitable gifts which will be given to the Children's Home. During the afternoon ice cream and cake was served. W. D. Murray, superintendent of the primary department, was in charge. The Christmas entertainment for the older members of the school will probably be held on Tuesday evening, January 27, when it is proposed to exhibit Amundsen's wonderful pictures of the South Pole.

First Presbyterian.

The annual Christmas entertainment of the First Presbyterian church Sunday-school was held in the chapel last night. The major part of the program was given by the primary department under the capable leadership of Grove P. Hinman. The performance was characterized throughout by such smoothness of execution and absence of confusion as would reflect great credit upon participants of more mature years. Without detracting from the praise due to all, mention should be made of certain numbers which by reason of their picturesqueness and charm found great favor with the audience—these were the doll drill, the Cobbler, a motion song and the wreath drill.

Among the diminutive individual performers, little "Miss" Adele Texier, who sang by special request, a cradle song, and little "Miss" Margaret Keenan, who, costumed in the dress of colonial days, paced a stately minuet with an equally gallant master, Irving Hinman, were great favorites. The program:

Cornet solo, Alfred Korff; song, (a) Way Up North, (b) Holes In Your Stockings, primary department; recitation, The Christ Child, Hilma Fiel; piano solo, Edith Shotwell; doll drill, Hilma Fiel, Eleanor Keenan, Margaret Keenan, Dorothy Rice, Ida Ried, Janet Ried, Mary Van Cleef; recitation, If I Were a Bell, Dorothy Rice; cradle song, Adele Texier; recitation, House Cleaning, Ida Ried; recitation, Among the Animals, William Holmes; minuet, As My Grandma Used To Do, Margaret Keenan and Irving Hinman; motion song, The Cobbler, ten boys; reading, Who's Afraid, Miss Pauline Gates; song, Bookworm and Butterfly, Miss Carey; wreath drill, Florence Bicknell, Viola Bicknell, Hazel Creveling, Charlotte Townley, Jessie Fullerton, Ruth Hammond, Marjorie Searing, Constance Selby, Edith Shotwell, Lida Townley, Eleanor Wood; sleight-of-hand performance, H. W. Rankin.

Monroe Avenue.

"Bethlehem," a sacred cantata, by George F. Root and Frederic E. Weatherly, was given by the Cantata Chorus of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, last night, as the Christmas entertainment. There was a large attendance of members of the church and Sunday-school, and the cantata was given in a finished and pleasing manner. Rev. Frederick J. Hubach, the pastor, was the conductor; Mrs. Frederick J. Hubach, organist; Miss Miriam Hofer, pianist, assisted by Thomas W. Murray, entertainer. The soloists were Mrs. Joseph Gilbert, Miss Esther Hofer, Joseph Gilbert, Alva Dunham, Louis V. Tallamy, Rev. Frederick J. Hubach and John W. Gaub. There was an excellent trio selection by Mrs. James Gilbert, Miss Esther Hofer and Miss May Pound. The cantata was divided into three parts, "Bethlehem," "The Flight Into Egypt" and "The Return." The chorus was comprised of the following:

Sopranos, the Mesdames J. J. Gilbert, E. H. Beekman, S. Beekman, A. D. Drake, J. C. Pierson, H. L. Gardner, F. B. Stodd, S. T. Saums, L. Van Syckle, the Misses Agnes Brown Georgia Beekman, Daisy Brouard, Martha Camp, Gertrude Gray, Bessie Gunzelman, Anna Lee, Clara Lee, Marie LePoidevin, Madeline Pennington, Stella Rink, Hazel Zeek, Louise Praed, Anna Matthews; altos, the Mesdames J. M. Nicholson, A. Hakens, C. Steiner, the Misses Florence Brown, Mabel Lant, May Pound, Julia Post, Mary Matthews, Josephine Romond, Grace Weston, Esther Hofer; tenors, J. W. Gaub, Joseph Gilbert, James Gilbert, Paul Hofer, William LePoidevin, I. E. Houston, Wesley McCormick; bassos, L. V. Tallamy, E. V. Davis, Arthur Hofer, E. H. Beekman, Frank Stodd, Alva Dunham, Edwin Jones.

First M. E.

The Sunday-school of the First M. E. church held its Christmas entertainment, last night, in Vincent chapel, when the Till Rock Band gave a fine entertainment lasting about an hour. Dr. James R. Joy, superintendent of the school, was in charge. After the entertainment there was a general distribution of gifts, especially among the various classes. Isaac W. Kennedy, sexton; Walter Kennedy, assistant secretary of the school, and Miss Gertrude Sharp, pianist in the school, each received a substantial purse. Walter Kennedy, who lost two bicycles during the year, both being stolen, was generously remembered, receiving enough money in gold pieces to secure a new wheel. The presentations were made by Dr. Joy.

In the afternoon the primary, cradle roll and kindergarten departments, of which Mrs. Arthur Crone and Mrs. Maurice E. McGrath are the head, enjoyed their annual party. All of the teachers in these departments assisted. The first part of the afternoon was devoted to playing games, at which time the program given on Sunday was repeated. The children then marched to the large room beneath the church, where they were seated at circular tables in the centre of which was a Christmas tree. Refreshments were served and Walter Kennedy, as Santa Claus, distributed gifts.

Hope Chapel.

The Sunday-school of Hope chapel enjoyed a Christmas entertainment last night of an unusual sort, the feature of which was the rendition of the "Birds' Christmas Carol," by Miss Louise Perpain, of Brooklyn, an impersonator. The event was arranged by Mrs. Charles F. Langdon. In the afternoon a program was rendered under the direction of Mrs. Frank Rimmer and Miss Flora Griffin for members of the primary and kindergarten departments connected with the school. At all affairs appropriate gifts were given to the members and officers.

During the rendition of the "Birds' Christmas Carol," a choir of children sang other Yuletide selections, and Thomas Henry rendered "O Dry Those Tears" and "My Ain Countree." Miss Unice Eckert also received well earned applause after singing the "Holy City." Thomas Jones was the organist.

Shiloh Baptist.

The annual Christmas entertainment of the Shiloh Baptist church was held in the church rooms last night and were attended by a large gathering of persons interested in the work of the institution. Presents were distributed by the pastor, the Rev. E. W. Roberts, among the members of the congregation from a large Christmas tree.

The following program of Christmas carols were sung during the evening: "The New Born King," "Salute the King," "The Christmas Star," "They Woke the Sleeping Echoes," "Hosanna With the Angels Sing," "Brightly the Star," "God's Care," "Hear the Song," "The Morning Stars Sang," and "We'll Bring to the Saviour."

Grace Church.

The Sunday-school of Grace church held its annual Christmas entertainment in the parish house, last night, the affair being arranged by a committee of which Harry L. Finch was chairman. He was assisted by Seymour Perkins, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, the rector, Mrs. J. A. Peterkin and Mrs. J. P. Taylor. The excellent entertainment was provided by Al. Baker, ventriloquist; Miss Edna Kimball, with songs and Christmas stories, and Miss Fanny Heinline, banjoist and mandoline player. They gave an entertainment lasting more than two hours. Afterward all adjourned to the basement, where a Christmas tree was lighted and the children marched around it singing the carol "The Wonderful Tree." Ice cream and cake were served and candy distributed among the children.

Heavenly Rest Church.

The children's Christmas service and entertainment was held at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, last night. The church was filled with children, parents and friends. Christmas carols were sung and the rector, Rev. C. H. Mallery, made a short address on the words, "Glory to God in the Highest and on Earth Peace, Good Will Toward Men," with special reference to children. All then adjourned to the parish house, where the following program was enjoyed: Vocal solo, Cantique deNoel, F. B. Wills; sketch, The Doll's Hospital, Eva Chamberlain, Hazel Scribner, Jessie Stillwell, Grecian Peterson; dialogue, Christmas Joke, Eva Chamberlain and Jessie Stillwell; recitation, Francis Carr; reading, The Fir Tree, Miss Grace Ludgate; pianio solo, Jessie Stillwell; recitation, Caroline Sprigg. John Ludgate, who played Santa Claus, came down the chimney and distributed gifts to the children present. Attendance prizes were awarded to the following for the best attendance during the year: Alice Brentnall, Richard Borden, Grecian Peterson, Clifton Sieglin, Clare Malley, Alice Melestski and Charles Ingraham.

COLLEGIANS WILL PLAY IN Y. M. C. A.

New York University Law School Five Here Tomorrow Night.

Featuring the sporting events for tomorrow in this city will be the basketball game scheduled to take place in the Y. M. C. A. in the evening, when the New York University Law School team and the local Association quintet meet in their second encounter of the season. Those who witnessed the first engagement between the Gotham and Queen City outfits well remember the calibre of the court stuff displayed and the thrills of the battle, one half of which was waged under collegiate rules.

The enactment of collegiate regulations is bound to instill some excitement in any contest and the Metropolis representatives are coming here tomorrow primed to make things hot for the five that defeated them by a margin of one point on Thanksgiving Day afternoon. In the first game the scoring was nip and tuck from whistle to whistle and the spectators were kept constantly on their feet, so intense was the excitement. Included in the lineup on this occasion will be the duo from the champion St. Benedicts, of Newark, Gilhooley and Jacobs, who arrived just in time to take part in the second half of the encounter. Otherwise the team will present the same battle front. Captain Brynairski, of the locals, will have eight men on the floor and it is more than likely that all will get into the fray as the local leader intends to freshen his outfit by the influx of new material when the occasion presents itself.

The linup:

Moulton	forward	Gilhooley
McNamee	forward	Jacobs
Gavett	centre	Lipman
Brynairski	guard	Helfant
Farmer	guard	Soloman
Glover	guard	Sutta

COLLIER WILL USE ABRAMS IN NEXT N. P. H. S. CONTEST

When acquainted with the news of Hyman Abrams' withdrawal from the ranks of the North Plainfield High School basketball team, as told exclusively in this paper yesterday, Coach Paul R. Collier expressed surprise at the ruling of Captain Ashley Burner which eliminated Abrams from next Saturday's game with Townsend Harris High School and stated that Abrams would positively be used in the lineup despite a notice to the contrary given the latter by the captain of the team.

Abrams was suspended from the team for a period of time which would include next Saturday by Captain Burner but Collier has notified Manager Van Mater to have the suspended guard on hand in uniform to play against the New Yorkers Saturday and the petty grievances existing between the team members will probably be patched up prior to that time.

UNION COUNTY MEN BOOMED FOR PLACES

Connolly for U. S. District Court; Collins for Utilities Commission.

Elizabeth, Dec. 31.—For the purpose of furthering the candidacy of Judge James C. Connolly to succeed Circuit Judge Benjamin A. Vail a dinner and conference of Union county Democratic leaders was held in New York recently.

Although none of those at the conference would tell what was done, it was said yesterday that Major-General Dennis F. Collins was boomed for a place on the Public Utility Commission. General Collins was elected a member of the State Democratic Committee at the November election.

Acting Governor Taylor may appoint the Circuit Court judge. Judge Connolly has already been boomed for the United States District Court judgeship to succeed the late Judge Joseph Cross. It is said, however, that his chances of appointment to the State office are brighter. His boom for Circuit Court judge is greatly offset by the sentiment in various sections of the State for the retention of Judge Vail.

Judge Adams, of the Elizabeth District Court, is said to be slated to succeed Judge Connolly should the latter be elevated. This would put Counselor Abe J. David in line for appointment as judge of the District Court.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

After two seasons of veritable triumph, Gus Hill comes back for a third season with his perennial success, "Mutt and Jeff" in an entire new dress. "In Panama" is the title of the story that is to form a background for Bud Fisher's inimitable characters, which easily assume the credit of the greatest and most durable success of the cartoon world. The new production is an innovation of play craftman's work, embodying about all of the real meat of standard amusements. The thrill of the melodrama, the side splitting situations of the farce comedy, the extravagance and tinseled brilliancy of travesty and the harmonious art of musical comedy, not forgetting a scenic production, electrically embellished, including some startling mechanical effects that over-shadow all previous attempts at realism. Contrary to the general idea of producing managers to frame up their offering for the second and third year cheaply, and "clean up," speaking in the parlance of the profession; Mr. Hill has spent more money and greater energy in this season's "Mutt and Jeff" than on either of the previous productions, so great is his faith in the lasting qualities of the cartoon play. In this season's entertainment, there isn't a thing left but "Mutt and Jeff." The story, music, lyrics, scenery and electrical effects are all new. Some startling mechanical transformations are shown with a genuine thrill. Mr. Hill has selected a cast superior in every respect to any he has yet been able to offer. All in all "Mutt and Jeff" will surely live up to the title of the one great big show in the show world and "it will go some." It comes to the Plainfield theatre, tomorrow, matinee and night.

FITZ COUNTED OUT

"This is outrageous," he fumed. "This commission has set itself between Fitzsimmons and a living. Boxing is the only game he knows, and he has a right to enter the ring if he can secure the engagements. There is nothing in the Frawley law which disbars a man from competing providing he is over eighteen years old. I don't intend to let them get away with anything like this. I will put the case in the hands of my lawyer and he will call at their offices tomorrow morning. If necessary we will secure an injunction restraining the State Athletic Commission from interfering with this contest.

"And who are these commissioners who presume to tell Bob Fitzsimmons that he cannot box? I will bet any one of the three commissioners that if they were to put on boxing gloves they would not know what to do or how to do it. I question if they would know the difference between a left hand jab and a right cross counter, yet they presume to tell the greatest, most wonderful fighter in the world that he cannot earn a living in the manner in which he has always done it.

"Fitzsimmons is as good today as he was ten years ago. He has been in constant training for several months, and in all his training bouts has shown great speed, endurance and strength. He can hit as of old, and, all in all, it is ridiculous to prevent him from boxing."

Fitzsimmons was raging when he learned the news. "It is a bally shame," he said. "Here I am in perfect condition, and though I'm a bit above the average age of a boxer, I still feel young and strong. If I can't beat any of the white heavyweights in four rounds I am willing to quit boxing for all time."

Dr. Rosenthal, of the Atlantic Garden Athletic Club, admitted when questioned by the commission that at fifty-two years of age a man was not physically in condition to engage in such strenuous exercise as boxing, and especially against men so many years his junior.

The meeting of the commission was much in the nature of a friendly gathering. Fitzsimmons talked freely of his past battles and referred constantly to how he defeated Jim Corbett, who was recognized as perhaps the cleverest boxer in the world. He also spoke of how he trained Jim Jeffries to whip Corbett, and said that if he was good enough to accomplish that he could hold his own with the present crop of fighters.

Frank O'Neil, chairman of the commission, in the course of conversation said to Fitzsimmons:

"We have the greatest respect for you, Bob, but we question whether you would be able to hold your own with these fellows. Now, what is your opinion of Jim Corbett? Could he box again?"

"No," roared Fitz. "He's through, and been through for some time. He couldn't beat any of the white men today."

"Then," replied O'Neil, "if he is finished, and is several years younger than you are, how could you hope to get on?"

"I'm different," came the answer. "I've always been a home man in every way. I've lived a careful life, and years don't count with me. My age is fifty-one, but Time is a liar. I'm only twenty-five right now, and am willing to meet any man in the world."

In tiking of Jeffries Fitz said:

"Jeffries was drugged at Reno, or he'd have won sure."

Fitz went on to state that several men have been drugged in the ring, but he scouted the idea that Corbett was drugged at Carson City.

WORDS FROM HOME.

Statements That May Be Investigated —Testimony of Plainfield Citizens.

When a Plainfield citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Plainfield resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

Albert Naylor, musician, 256 East Second street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Several years ago I suffered from an ache in the small of my back and sharp pains when stooping or lifting. I took Doan's Kidney Pills, as I was told that they were good for such trouble and by the time I had finished two boxes, I was feeling better in every way. I have often recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to people I have heard complaining of kidney trouble."

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

NOTICE.

Mrs. John Seay wishes to contradict the statement which was put in the Daily Press by her husband on December 24, 1913, that she having left his bed and board that he would not be responsible for any debts contracted by her, as it was he leaving her bed and board. And he has never been responsible for any debts contracted by her, as he never paid his bills he contracted for himself. And at his time of leaving he came home drunk and disorderly and had it not been for her mother and niece he would of choked and killed her, as he treated her very brutally; but for all of that she was heartbroken to see him go until she found out there was another woman between them.

Former Sheriff Selah Schoonmaker, who has been a partner for some years in the Smith-Schoonmaker Company, has retired from the concern and the business will hereafter be conducted under the firm name of Charles J. Smith Company, Incorporated. Mr. Smith, who has been at the head of the business for many years, is president of the new concern, and T. P. Edwards, nephew of Mr. Smith, is the secretary and treasurer. The coal and lumber yards are situated on Warren street, and the concern is considered one of the largest in the county.

Among the changes in business locations the coming spring will be those of William E. Maxwell and T. I. Honeyman & Company. After April 1 the business of Mr. Maxwell will be located in the Thomas building, in the part occupied by the Honeyman concern, while T. I. Honeyman & Company will take the store vacated by Mr. Maxwell. This business change is the more remarkable because both concerns deal in the same line of goods—furniture—and are equally prominent in the business of the town, and principally so, because it was a mutual arrangement entirely.

The following children attended the West High street kindergarten every school day during December: James Carroll, Francis Morgenroth, William R. Sutphen, Jr., Haviland Sutphen, Stewart Kenney, Jr., David C. Jeffcott, William F. Wissell, Robert Bullard, Robert Holmes, Cecil Lindley, Jr., Charles Mitchell, Bernard Rosania, John Van Fleet, Jr., Nicholas Tartaglia, Joseph Bacatus, Thomas Anderson, George Anderson, Frances K. Huff, Theresa Hoch, Louis C. Newman, Virginia Noble, Claire O'Donnell, Elizabeth D. Thompson, Marjorie Drobny, Marian Hockenbury, Edith Johnson, Josephine Levitsky and Sylvia Cohen.

Charles M. Dumas has been confined to his rooms for several days from a severe attack of rheumatism, but is now somewhat improved.

Engineer Herman Hahn is still confined to the house as a result of the severe fall sustained by him some time ago.

Miss Franklina DuMont, of East Orange, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. DuMont.

Raritan

The Misses Helen and Alice Myers, of Newark, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Willard Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wolvin have been entertaining the latter's sister, Miss Annetta Young, of Green Knoll.

The Week of Prayer will be observed by the Methodist and Reformed churches holding union services beginning on Monday night.

PROCTOR'S BILL BILL.

"The house That Jack Built," a clever vaudeville act, tops the bill at Proctor's Theatre this week, being an up-to-date version, but retaining all of the favorite characters which are introduced into a musical comedy. Pierce & Knoll, comedians, introduce much comedy and good songs, their skit, "The Butcher Boy," being bright and witty. Mr. and Mrs. Stillman present a comedy sketch, "When Dunn Was Dun," which has an amusing plot. Louise DeFogi, a clever singing comedienne has some good songs and dances well. Dare-Devil Frank, the roller skate expert, accomplishes many difficult feats, while the pictures are always good.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE WANT AD MAN

Copyright, 1913, The Int. Syndicate, Baltimore.

No. 45.

ADVERTISING is a salesman that is always at work, but never wearies a customer; that call on the same man until he is convinced, but never annoys him with its insistence; that wastes no time, wastes no words, and that can always gain an audience and a hearing. Alone among salesmen, advertising has free access to the libraries of the great; it marches unchecked past the secretary of the big merchant and enters without hindrance the store of the retailer. When it cannot tell its story to a man in his office, it can always gain his attention in his home. The door of the housewife is never slammed in its face. No country is so remote, no village is so dead, that it does not go there for orders and get them—Saturday Evening Post.

Tell me, suppose you want a job, or want to sell your house, or want to rent an apartment, or want domestic help, or want—anything—can you think of a quicker, less expensive, more direct way of getting that want before the people than through a little Want Ad?

Classified advertising is always at work. It does not weary a customer, because that customer turns to it of his own free will. It does not annoy him with his insistence; rather, it pleases him with its concise information. It wastes no words, it gets its message across, and instantly. It has access to the hearts of the people because it reflects the needs of the people.

Want Ad. advertising in the columns of this newspaper gains attention in offices, in homes, in city, in country—wherever people have that which they do not want and want that which they do not have. No door is ever slammed in its face.

And say—isn't that a pretty good way to get YOUR want over the line?

The Want-Ad Man

WATCHUNG COUNCIL DROPPED TWO GAMES

Newark Knight Did Some Flashy Pinning in Series Here Last Night.

Some good pinning was the program for those who went to the Columbus Club on West Front street, last night, when the Newark K. of C. Leaguers took two out of the series of three games bowled with the Plainfielders. In every one of the contests the Newarkers managed to reach 900 and in the first and third encounter plastered up 940 pins.

Plainfield managed to draw a little above he 900 mark in the middle set-to and passed the visitors by eleven pins. The third and rubber match was hotly contested but soon after the opening frames the Newarkers began to assume a lead and at the finish had an advantage of sixty-one pins.

A. Speary was the most consistent performers of the series, getting an even double century in the first and 232 in the third, while he dropped to 159 in the middle attraction. Barkhorn started off with a rush and set up 224 in the first contest but dropped gradually in the second and third.

Good pinning on the part of Shannon and Shannon, and George Taylor was responsible for the Watchung Council's winning verdict in the second game, while the fact that A. Speary, the double century man of the first game, went to pieces in the second, helped the Plainfield cause considerably.

Following the game the bowlers enjoyed a social hour in the Columbus Clubhouse and a committee of members served refreshments.

HAPPY NEW YEAR FOR THE GOLFERS

The officers of the United States Golf Association have been in communication for some time with A. G. Spalding & Bros. regarding the high price of golf balls, and it is announced officially to the president of the United States Golf Association that after January 1, 1914, the price of golf balls manufactured by them now selling at retail for $9 a dozen will be reduced to $7.50 a dozen, and that the red dot and green dot balls will retail at $6 a dozen.

Queries, Comment and Answers

Answer—Your coin will bring $1.15.

Sporting Editor:

Query—How many pounds are there in a long ton of coal?—C. N.

Answer—2,240 pounds constitute a long ton.

Sporting Editor:

Query—What is good time for the 100-yard swim in a closed tank?—B. T. O.

Answer—You ought to be able to do it in 1:05, and if you are fast you ought to be able to turn it around the minute mark.

Sporting Editor:

Query—How can celluloid articles be mended?—J. S.

Answer—Celluloid articles can be mended with a cement made by dissolving bits of celluloid in acetone. It takes only a few minutes to make the cement, which is applied like glue; the broken edges are pasted together and in fifteen minutes the glue is hard.

BASEBALL NOTES

Manager Stallings has 33 men on the Boston Braves' roster, 17 of whom are slab artists.

The Indianapolis club has released Pitcher "Lefty" Harrington to the Binghamton club, of the New York State League.

Billy Clymer's Buffalo team will play a series of games with the Columbus American Association team at Columbus next April.

Wisconsin-Illinois League clubs realized $15,000 from sales of players last season. The W-I circuit sent 17 tossers to higher class leagues.

Five catchers, twelve pitchers, nine infielders and eight outfielders will report to Manager Evers, of the Cubs, at Tampa, Fla., for the spring workout.

The Washington club directors paid a pretty nifty compliment to Walter Johnson when they insured the "king of heavers" for a hundred thousand dollars.

Pitcher Jack Coombs has returned to his home in Kennebunk, Me. He is slowly recovering from his long siege of illness, but it is still considered doubtful if he will be able to report to the Athletics next spring.

The Peoria Three-I club is trying to land Manager Ned Egan, of the Ottumwa team, to pilot the Distillers. Egan has been such a consistent pennant winner that he is known as the Connie Mack of the Central Association.

"Buck" Freeman, famous for his home runs when he played in the big leagues a few years ago, is a stoker in the boiler room of a silk mill in Wilkesbarre. "Buck" has stored away a good-sized fortune, but he still feels that he must stick on the job.

WITH THE BOXERS

Leach Cross is a 10 to 7 favorite over Bud Anderson for the fight at Vernon on New Year's Day.

Charley White's defeat at the hands of Johnny Dundee cost him a match with Champion Willie Ritchie.

A new boxing club is soon to be opened in Windsor, Ont. A number of Detroit sports are interested in the venture.

Al Lippe is on his way to Australia with Jeff Smith, Nat Williams, an English lightweight, and Jules Dubing, a French middleweight.

Maurice Sayers, the Milwaukee lightweight who has been out of the game for some time, believes he is capable of a successful comeback.

If Jack Dillon and Jimmy Clabby clash in Los Angeles in January the bout will be billed as a championship affair for the world's middleweight title.

Jim Driscoll, former English featherweight champion, who declared recently he would re-enter the ring, has changed his mind and will remain in retirement.

Promotor Jim Coffroth has handled considerable money during his thirteen years in the boxing game. Jim's books show he has taken in more than $1,000,0000 at the gate and that about $650,000 of it has been paid out to the fighters.

FIGHTS BILLED NEW YEAR'S.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 31.—The New Year will be ushered in tomorrow with a festival of fisticuffs extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Though no championship bouts are on the calendar there are several contests billed that should afford some good entertainment for the fight fans. In a scheduled 20-round bout at Vernon, Cal., Leach Cross, the New York lightweight, will endeavor to repeat the trick of knocking out Bud Anderson, the Vancouver boy. Another fight that should be worth seeing will be the 10-round go at New Orleans between Johnny Dundee and Freddie Welsh. Jack Dillon will take on Gus Christie for 10 rounds at Indianapolis and Joe Mandot and Earl Fisher are booked to go the same distance at Cincinnati. George Chip, the victor over Frank Klaus, is to meet Tony Caponi for 6 rounds at Pittsburgh. In another 6-round bout at Philadelphia, Jack Britton will have Joe Hirst as an opponent.

The New Brunswicks totaled 1,032 in the second game, beating the former high mark, held by Plainfield, by three pins. The triple victory for the New Brunswicks enabled them to tie the Jersey City team for second place, each team having a record of nineteen victories and eleven defeats, two games each way behind the leading Newarks.

Greenewald was the star performer in New Brunswick's record game last night. He was there for 243. Harkins came through with 222, while the other members of the team were each a little below the double-century mark. The visiting team started with 930 last night, leaving the homesters far behind. Then came New Brunswick's record tally, with Orange again far to the rear. In the third contest there was real competition. Orange put up its best total of the season, a score of 916, but this was insufficient as New Brunswick finished forty-six pins ahead with 962.

Keaster rolled 232 for Orange, Haines was there for 203 and Henderson had 201. Greenewald besides his big mark of 243 had a score of 203 and averaged just one pin shy of the double-century mark. Harkins rolled 222 and 201, averaging 201-1. Coyne tallied 214 and 211, averaging 204-1. McCormick was there for 218.

Here are all the scores:

BLAME JACK JOHNSON FOR THE CIVIL WAR

San Francisco, Dec. 31.—Jack Johnson has been blamed for many things in the country of his birth, but it remained for Bulgaria to hold him responsible for the American Civil War.

Charlie Miller, a heavyweight of Bulgarian birth, was exhibiting to his friends here recently a Bulgarian newspaper containing an advance notice of a circus performance in the Bulgarian capital, at which Johnson was billed to appear.

"Jack Johnson," the newspaper read, "is the man who received $1,000,000 for whipping Jim Jeffries in the prize ring, and was directly responsible for the Civil War in the United States between the blacks and the whites.

"The Terrible Boxer positively will appear in the flesh and the bone."

NINE VICTORIES AND TWO DEFEATS FOR Y. M. C. A. FIVE DURING 1913

A resume of the 1913 Y. M. C. A. basketball season compiled to date shows that the team has won nine out of its eleven starts during the closing months of the year, one game been dropped to the Belleville Y. M. C. A. and another to the Hope Chapel five, the latter being one of the contests for the City Championsh, two more remaining to be contested. Like in previous years, the Association quintet tucked away a long series of scalps before encountering its initial defeat and the aggregation has been putting up winning basketball ever since the opening game with North Plainfield High School which was annexed by a wide margin. The Y. M. C. A. is the only local team to defeat the boroughites who have a string of ten credits hung up without a single defeat. The N. P. H. S. manager counts the tempts offered for penalty tosses, Taylor being the most prominent, his having all been annexed in the same Y. M. C. A. contest as a practice game and as a result the Canadians are able to cherish an unblemished record.

During the initial eleven games Joseph Gavett, the center, has been the highest scoring individual with 137 counters to his credit, sixty-eight field goals and one foul being his contribution to the team's total card of 171. Moulton and Brynairski have also done some good work in the scoring line, Moulton on field goals, and the captain on throws from the foul line. Moulton has rung thirty baskets from the field and nine from the penalty mark while Brynairski has totaled an even thirty via the on-point route. Although Brynairski and Moulton have done most of the foul shooting several other of the members of the team have made good on the few at-game.

Old Kid Gloves.

There is much usefulness in kid gloves that are too old to serve longer in their accepted capacity. They should be treasured by every economical housewife for the following uses:

For beauty gloves. When the hands are chapped and rough from exposure to dampness or cold weather or from unusually rough work, cover them with some soothing lotion at night, slip on a pair of old gloves, and behold a marvel of smooth hands in the morning. Old wash gloves, silk, cotton or chamois, are the best for this purpose, as they can be washed. Cold cream, vaseline or some cream for chapped hands can be used.

For gardening. When spring comes again and you begin your work in the garden, wear gloves to keep your hands clean.

For ironing. Slip on an old, loose, clean glove when you iron. It will do a great deal to keep the heat of the iron from penetrating to the palm of your hand. Of course, a holder must likewise be used. And nothing makes better padding for an iron holder than a square of old kid.

For relining old shoes and slippers. Cut a piece of kid the size and shape of the shoe sole and glue it neatly in place in an old shoe the lining of which has become worn out.

For kneecaps. Make kneecaps of old kid to put on the under side of the child's stocking at the age when the knees seem to receive more wear and tear than any other part of the body. Caps of kid that show are hardly fair to the child, unless they are the neat sort that are bought ready made, for they usually look rather awkward. But caps on the underside of the stocking do much to prolong their usefulness.

For cleaning silver. When you clean silver, wear old gloves. Nothing soils the hands much more quickly than making silver bright. A pair of loose gloves are no detriment to the worker, and they protect the hands completely. Old chamois gloves that have been thoroughly washed can also be used to polish silver with.

To use for coat hangers. Everyone knows that heavy overcoats prove too much for the most carefully made silk hanging strap. The next time such a strap wears in two or comes off, make one in this way: Cut a strip of kid from an old glove, if possible of a color to harmonize with the coat. The strip should be four inches long and an inch wide. Fold it lengthwise over a card and stitch it neatly on the machine or else overhand the edges. Fasten this strap firmly by its two ends on the inside of the coat collar, and you will hav elittle trouble with that particular coat hanger in the future.

Practical Fashion Hints

In this model, No. 8004, we have a perfectly plain house dress which is suitable for a wash material or developed in serge is an excellent frock to wear under heavy coats.

The dress, which closes at the side front, may be made with a high collar, a square or round neck and a full length or three-quarter sleeve. The skirt has seven gores and may have a habit back or an inverted box plait.

If a dark serge is used the trimming bands of a plaid silk would be pretty. While if the dress is made in wash materials another color could be used for them effectively. In adjusting these trimming bands it is a good idea to turn the edges in and press them flat with a hot iron before basting them to the dress. In this way you will be sure that they are even.

To copy this dress in size 36, 4⅞ yards of 36 inch material is needed.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes, 34 to 46.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to give correct size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

THE trouble with many housewives who complain of the high cost of living is that they do not know how to make the most of the inexpensive parts of beef.

The shin is one of the cheapest cuts, yet it is seldom used except for soup. The bone running from the round to the shin contains fine nourishing marrow. The middle cut of the shin is excellent for stewing or braising. Always use the marrow in cooking the meat.

A very nutritious stew may be made by taking two or three pounds from the middle cut of the shin and serving it with dumplings.

Braised Meat.

Beef and Rice.—Take a couple of pounds of shinbone, two tablespoonfuls cut onion, one tablespoonful salt, one-eighth teaspoonful white pepper, one tablespoonful each of flour, salt and caramel. Wash, cut the meat into pieces, put in pan to sear with a little of the marrow. When seared on all sides put into bean pot with the bone, onion, two cupfuls boiling water, salt, pepper and caramel. Put in oven and cook for three or four hours. Add the flour, which has been mixed with a little cold water for thickening. Serve with a border of boiled rice. If more water is needed with the meat use the rice stock. Garnish with sprigs of parsley.

A Dainty Entree.

Beef Croquettes.—Take two pounds shinbone, one and one-half cupfuls sauce, two teaspoonfuls Worcestershire sauce, one-half teaspoonful each of grated nutmeg and salt, one-eighth teaspoonful paprika, one tablespoonful each of grated onion and chopped parsley, one egg and breadcrumbs. Boil the beef in a quart of water. When tender put through meat chopper, add the Worcestershire sauce, parsley, nutmeg, salt, paprika and a sauce which has been made as follows:

Take the raw marrow, render and to these drippings add two tablespoonfuls flour, mix until smooth; add one cupful cold milk, slowly stirring until creamy; add to the meat and mix well together.

Spread on platter until cold and firm. Dust the hands with flour, take up a spoonful at a time, shape into cones or oblongs, dust with flour. Beat the egg with one tablespoonful cold milk until well mixed, place croquettes on spoon and with another spoon pour the egg over them. Remove and roll in breadcrumbs; fry in deep, hot drippings; serve with tomato sauce or green peas.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Foolish Quarrel of the Winter Trees.

The Snow Covered the Beech.

WHEN one goes to bed early on a windy night it is sometimes hard to go to sleep.

Jack and Evelyn found it so one night, and daddy said he would tell them a little story about the wind and the trees.

"The old north wind is something of a joker," daddy said. "If the trees paid no attention to him it would be much better for them. But in the winter they have nothing to do but to stand around and try to keep warm, and, like most idle creatures, they are apt to get into mischief.

"When lively Mr. Boreas, as the north wind is called, comes blustering around with this tale and that they listen to him and believe him instead of paying no attention to his mischievous stories.

"In summer, when the trees have work to do and are busy growing, they stand together, laughing and talking.

"In the fall, when they lose their lovely leaves and stand out bare and thin, their tempers seem to change.

"But to get back to our story, one day Mr. Boreas came rushing through the woods. He stopped a minute beside the big beech tree to playfully twist some of its crooked branches.

"'Mighty cold weather this,' Mr. Boreas said. 'But it will be worse than this after awhile.'

"'Hurrah,' cried the cedar trees, who had heard Mr. Boreas; 'we are going to have cold weather.' They liked the snow and the cold.

"'Oh, keep quiet!' snapped the beech tree. 'You don't know what you are talking about. It won't be cold for a long time.'

"'It will, though,' the cedar trees answered, and the oak, too, nodded its head. The oak was the oldest and wisest tree in the woods.

"'I don't believe a word of it,' the beech tree replied. Then there was a murmuring from all the trees in the woods, for the oak was their king, and whoever was rude to the king was punished.

"So the murmuring grew until the people who lived on the edge of the wood said, 'Just hear the wind in the trees!'

"The north wind had come rushing back again, and he helped the other trees to punish the beech tree. With their long arms the trees beat and hammered at the beech tree until great branches were broken off it.

"And then the wind brought in the snow, and it drifted on the beech tree, covering its branches with heavy ice until at last it tottered under the load and fell to the ground.

"And because it had always been a fretful, complaining creature it was not [illegible] in the forest."

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

BALLOTS HELP WORKERS.

The Executive Secretary of the New York Consumers' League replies in the Elizabeth (N. J.) Journal of November 17 to a letter from a Miss Simpson who had claimed that the ballot would be of no benefit to working women. She points out that the Legislatures in a majority of the suffrage States have shown more desire to protect women from overwork than the Legislatures in all but about one-sixth of the non-suffrage States, and that the protective legislation was secured more easily. She continues:

"Miss Simpson cites Massachusetts, the oldest industrial State in the Union, as a non-suffrage State where admirable laws exist for the protection of women. The 54-hour-a-week law for women in Massachusetts is the culmination of forty years of effort 'without the vote.' Utah, with the vote, in 1911 passed a nine-hour law for women after less than two years of effort by its advocates. Anyone who followed the history of the 54-hour law in Massachusetts will recall that the Governor signed it with hesitation, and only upon a promise that no further reduction of hours for women would be sought for some time. On the same day he signed a bill limiting to 48 hours a week the time that men should be employed on public works. He expressed no hesitation about that. Do grown-up men employed at public work need more protection than women working in factories and cotton mills? What was the reason for the difference? There is only one answer: women cannot vote.

"Furthermore, the suffragists are not content with getting laws on the statute books, they wish a voice in the manner of their enforcement. In many States child labor and compulsory education are protective only in name. Women, who are best fitted by nature and training to guard the welfare of children, are prevented from electing the officers who shall enforce these laws.

"Miss Simpson passes over rather slightly the opinions of Jane Addams and Florence Kelley as to the value of the vote. These prominent social workers are not alone in this opinion. Miss Lathrop, chief of the National Children's Bureau; Mrs. Raymond Robins, president of the National Women's Trade Union League; Miss Josephine Goldmark, author of 'Fatigue and Efficiency'; Mrs. Alexander and Miss Bradford, of New Jersey, and many others who speak with authority on subjects connected with women's work are earnest believers in woman suffrage as the surest and quickest method of bringing about such reforms as are needed for the protection of working women. After all, isn't the opinion of such women, who have been wrestling for years with social problems and have had wide experience with Legislatures, of more value than the opinion of the opposition, who, with but few exceptions, have had no experience in social or allied work?"

A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

This year the friends of equal rights for women have even more reason than usual to celebrate a Merry Christmas. Illinois and Alaska are big gifts to find in anybody's Christmas stocking. In addition, we have to rejoice over the twelve State Legislatures that have this year given majority votes of both Houses in favor of submitting the question to the voters; a steady and rapid advance in public sentiment, both here and abroad; an unprecedented amount of money pledged for suffrage work at the National Convention; and a personal though unofficial recommendation by President Wilson that a special committee on woman suffrage be created in the U. S. House of Representatives.

We kept a Merry Christmas for many years when the only things to be merry over were the consciousness of a good cause and the faith that in the end right would win. Now we no longer have to "walk by faith"; we can walk by sight as well. Six States and a territory have been added to the suffrage map in four years; and victory is visibly nearing, all along the line. A. S. B.

SUFFRAGE AND THE BALANCE OF POWER.

The woman suffragists, now in session in Washington, accupy a position of undeniable strategic strength in the national campaign for country-wide enfranchisement. Possessing the right to vote at all elections in nine of the States, the women come close to holding the balance of power. One of the speakers at last night's meeting, a man of wide experience in political matters, declared that as a result of their solidarity of sentiment and organization the woman voters of this country have it in their power to determine the next presidential election.—Washington Star.

ROAD COMMISSIONER TO DISCUSS BOULEVARD

Asbury Park, Dec. 31.—State Road Commissioner Stevens will meet with the Ocean Boulevard Commission at Trenton on Thursday, January 8, for the purpose of considering the proposed boulevard loop around the foot of Deal Lake, this city.

Former Mayor T. Frank Appleby, of Asbury Park, president of the Ocean Boulevard Commission, which was created by Governor John Franklin Fort, has been in touch with this improvement for three years, but has been unable to secure any appropriation from the State. Jefferson Seligman, the New York banker, has offered to personally contribute $500 toward the expense of this improvement. Asbury Park, Monmouth county and Ocean township have also made small appropriations. The completion of the work, however, depends upon the decision of Colonel Stevens.

A MONSTER WIRELESS TOWER IS COMPLETED

New Brunswick, Dec. 31.—Foreman Holland and five New Brunswickwick employees of the big Marconi wireless station just outside this city will eat their New Year's dinner on the top of the first of the thirteen 400 foot towers to be finished.

The tower was completed last week. It was built from a movable platform, which encircles the towering masts. Ten men will dine on this platform and the top of the tower will serve as their table.

An Attractive Design for a Sideboard-cover.

Grape designs are always effective for embroidering dining-room linens in white or in colors.

Pattern number 14457 is a very attractive grape design for a sideboard-cover, eighteen by forty-two inches. The leaves may be developed in outline and seed-stitch, long and short or Kensington-stitch, the grapes should be embroidered in heavily padded solid work and the stems and tendrils in outline or stem stitch. The scallops should be well padded to give a firm edge and keep the cloth in shape, then worked in firm buttonhole stitch.

The padding of the grapes should be very cosely and firmly done, with the stitches built higher in the centre than at the edges, so as to give a rounded effect. This work should be carried out in white mercerized cotton.

Two of these designs, used together, would make a lovely luncheon cloth, thirty-six inches square, if a couple of the intervening scallops in the length, are omitted.

Grape doilies, number 14659, which are thirteen and one-half by fifteen, or number 14485, which are ten and one-half inches in diameter, may be used with this design to form a luncheon set.

The sprays may be cut apart and rearranged for use on table-runners or pillow-covers of crafts canvas monk's cloth, denim or heavy linen. Filo silk in two shades of green, two shades of purple and one of brown should then be used.

The shading of petals should be done with two strands of two shades. To work to the next, use one strand of the original shade and two of the lighter or darker.

This pattern will be supplied to readers for 15 cents.

THE CROCHETED HUG-ME-TIGHT OF TO-DAY

"WHAT kind of a sweater arrangement can I get to wear under this coat?" was the query of a customer in the knitted wear department of a New York shop when the first snap of cold weather reached the metropolis this winter. The question aroused the interest of a listener who discovered a most interesting stock of this kind of utilities.

Loosely knitted jackets of fine yarn that add no appreciable bulk are general favorites for affording warmth out-of-doors. They come with or without sleeves. A new style shows a two-inch closely knitted border of contrasted color, which is pretty to look at, but still more practical, as it keeps the hug-me-tight of to-day in shape. Above is pictured a new style of this winter accessory, made of soft fleecy wool with ornamental frogs and buttons that make it attractive for indoor wear. It is a design quickly done by hand. Both knitted and crocheted jackets are popular this season.

Of course there are many fads and extravagancies in this little belonging of the fashionable wardrobe, as in everything else of the up-to-date woman. One of the former is the use of narrow fur edging on collar and cuffs of long sweaters.

Silk sweaters may be regarded as one of the extravagancies, but they are very beautiful and warm without being bulky. Whether worn for sporting purposes or for extra warmth under automobile coats, for which use many styles are made up, they follow the lines of other sporting jackets, reaching below the hips, loose at the waist and usually having pockets. Scarf sashes to match accompany one style, which is knitted of changeable silk in two tones. The colors are the modish tans, russet browns, purples, deep blues, grays, greens and yellow with green. For dainty wear, pink, blue, rose and white yarns and silks are fashionable, while for very practical use for men and women, black and white mixtures, all gray and gray with white are taking well.

SEEN IN THE SHOPS

PANIER shape morocco bags with a watch in the strap handle are a novelty among the many new styles of handbags.

Outdoor sleeping garments of children come in woolens with angora finish. They have feet, mittens and a hood. The colors are tan and gray.

Plaited frills for the neck come in 2½ inch widths with a heading of fur at $1.50 per yard. Skunk and imitation ermine is used. Moleine, sheared white coney and sealine are three imitation furs used for bandings and separate collar and cuff sets.

PLAID gowns have taken a strong hold upon the fashionable world this winter as the result of the novel ways the French couturiers have devised of combining the latest loom products of many colors. The idea of modeling smart day frocks on simple straight lines lends itself especially well to fabrics which are attractive in themselves. In other words, untrimmed dresses are having special prominence for certain occasions and depending for style upon their simplicity and the modish accessories of the hour. Morning dresses have new prominence this season. In a way, they take the place of the erstwhile tailored suit of mannish cut when worn with the separate coats that also are emphasized more than for many winters.

French women, by intent or because the leading modistes have so decreed are wearing clothing of the very feminine types that until recently were thought of as belonging to bygone fashions. To-day one must have frills innumerable, the daintiest undersleeves, jumpes, vests and ruffings which the market affords. And these, by the way, are more plentiful and irresistible than ever. If you are so fortunate as to possess heirlooms of hand embroidered muslins and laces, so much the better when it comes to setting off the plain frocks which are leading at the moment.

Plaid Cotton Fabrics Anticipated For Spring.

Everybody is wearing plaids or making an effort to get at least one plaid costume, and, judging from the fashion straws wafted this far in advance of next spring's styles, plaids will be favored then in wash materials.

Three models of the latest Paris ordering are shown on this page, two of which feature plaid materials. No. 8051 is a wool ratine in a Scotch tartan of rich, dark colors. It has a wintry look and gives a chic air to the youthful wearer, who posed with her hands in her pockets, as a fad directs that the revived pockets shall be used. Hunter's green broadcloth forms a straight girdle and sash, a turn-over collar with a new outline and the pocket facings. The skirt is cut in three pieces and has slight fullness gathered into the belt at the middle back. A strap of the plaid material laps across the lower part of the skirt below the knee and is fastened with a button.

You will notice that large buttons appear as the trimming. They are of red and green composition, like celluloid, and are a kind of button which lends an unmistakable up-to-date appearance to daytime dresses and suits. Bone buttons serve a similar purpose on the best French models. Pattern No. 8051 is a very simple one for the home seamstress to use in reproducing the plaid gown. Corduroy or velveteen would be equally suitable for a dressier gown, while serge may be chosen for the extremely practical everyday one.

Plaid in combination dresses is another feature of the mid-winter models. One of many new ways of using it appears in the model pictured on the left. This morning dress is made of "pepper-and-salt" wool eponge, which is sufficiently warm for very cold weather, but light in weight and graceful in its hanging. The plaid low cut vest, sections on revers and sleeve bands are of black and white plaid silk cut on the bias. A tuck is effective for the bottom trimming of the skirt. The chemisette is one of the dainty accessories referred to earlier in this article. Pattern No. 8058 suggests a way of remodelling a gown as well as for making a new one.

Two tone velvets and velours are among the most beautiful materials this season for dressy out-door costumes. The costume on the right, No. 7979, is developed in navy blue and tan ribbed velour, with trimming of broadcloth to match. Here is a splendid example of the low style of drapery, alike on both sides of the front, where it meets a front panel. The banding or cloth extends to the foot on the right side and forms a sash knotted far down in the middle back. The sleeve of the peasant bodice is full and falls longer underneath than on top of the arm. Undersleeves and a guimpe of batiste are worn with the dress. Each of the three patterns illustrated on this page may be bought for 15 cents.

Decorated Handbags of Silk and Leather

THERE are about as many varieties of fashionable bags nowadays as of a familiar brand of pickles. No matter how many one may have, another will find its own use and favor. The envelope shape, as illustrated, is a popular style this season, both in leather and in silk, moire, velvet or linen. One can make a most elaborate and beautiful bag using the design of pattern No. 14448 for embroidery or stenciling. Suede leather will "take" thinned oil colors that are especially effective in wood browns and dull green. Using velvet, the stenciled decoration would be handsome outlined with dull gold or silver threads; while soft embroidery is another idea for the useful linen bag. The bag must have a lining, and be stiffened with thin cardboard or canvas.

The flower design shown is 9¼ by 3 inches; with a flap 5¼ by 3. In the same set is a cherry blossom spray 7¼ by 4½ inches; and a peacock design to cover a space 7½ by 3 inches. The pattern is 10 cents.

14448 Design For Stenciling or Embroidery.

FROM the abundance of thin and gauze-like lingerie and knitted undergarments offered for winter wear, the saying of somebody's grandmother that "pride keeps folks warm nowadays" expresses the opinions of many others, save those who claim to know the delights of the latest way of dressing. Protection from cold is had with warm coats and furs, rather than from heavy and warm underclothing.

Fashion's decree from the slender figure has brought about many new styles of undergarments which take the place of lingerie to a great extent. Knitted silk undershirts, bloomers and combination garments are a generally approved class of underwear. The silk varieties, woven like a glove, are the favorites, even though they are expensive in the best qualities. Bloomers take the place of muslin drawers to a great degree for street and for evening wear. They are made with an elastic in the belt and in the legs at the knee, where there is a little fullness.

A fair grade combination garment in silk may be bought for $3, which is about the price of separate bloomers. Pink underwear has been a fad for some little time, but it is taken in preference to white because the latter in silk is likely to turn yellow when laundered.

Christmas Gifts For Fifty Cents.

TRIMMINGS in Futurist colorings and touches of hand embroidery worked in the queer color combinations of the new art idea are the smartest decorations of gowns and blouses just now.

One who would like to make an inexpensive Christmas gift, out of the ordinary, can embroider a yard or two of silk or velvet ribbon that would when finished represent several dollars. Two admirable designs for this purpose are shown; and may be made up inside of fifty cents including 10 cents, which is the price of either pattern. No. 14641 is a border 2½ inches wide, and 3 yards long in the pattern for stamping. It has been worked on old blue ribbon with orange, blue of a lighter shade, purple and green. No. 14644 is two inches wide. On black velvet ribbon worked with blue, rose, copper and green it will make a very smart band for a black velvet hat. As a decorative neck trimming it could be finished with a silk tassel on either end.

Practical Household Hints

IF there is no more convenient place for hanging kitchen towels near the range or stove, this kind of a towel rack will prove practical. Have a metal band or stout wire with loops four or five inches apart, bound around the water boiler, and through each loop slip the wood rod from a cheap towel rack, having a ball on the end to keep it in place when the rod stands at right angles to the boiler. Smaller rods can be soldered to the band to make a neater finish, at a little extra expense.

Cook's Memory Scales.

Experienced cooks have memorized the following weights of foods which may be measured without using scales:

Two level teacupfuls of granulated sugar weigh one pound;

Two teacupfuls of soft butter, one pound;

Butter, the size of an egg, one ounce;

One pint of liquid, one pound;

One pint of brown sugar, thirteen ounces;

Ten eggs, one pound;

One pint of chopped beef, one pound.

To Bleach Handkerchiefs.

If napkins or handkerchiefs cannot be bleached on the grass, they may be whitened by soaking, after they are thoroughly washed, in a quart of water, to which two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar has been dissolved.

Peroxide of hydrogen diluted in water will remove discolorations in white linen or cotton goods.

DELICIOUS entrées may be made from left over quantities of cooked fish. One of these is fish in ramekins. Make a sauce of one cupful of milk with a tablespoonful of flour and two tablespoonfuls of butter. Add a tablespoonful of finely chopped onions. Mix with the sauce a cupful of flaked cooked fish, and put into individual ramekins or a baking dish. Cover with fine breadcrumbs and a little grated cheese, adding a few lumps of butter. Bake in the oven and serve hot.

Chicken Patties.

Patty cases may be bought in city bakeries, and will save time and trouble in preparing this dish. For their filling cut up cold chicken into cubes, with sliced canned mushrooms and a teaspoonful of chopped onions. Make a white sauce, and add the mixture of chicken and mushrooms, with seasoning of salt, cayenne pepper and a few grains of mace. Serve in heated patty cases.

Sour Cream Cookies.

To one cupful of sour cream add one cupful of granulated sugar, one beaten egg, two and one-half cupfuls of flour, and one level teaspoonful each of soda and salt, sifted in the flour. Flavor with vanilla. Drop the dough on well buttered pans, press down, sprinkle with sugar, and put half a pecan or walnut meat on each before putting into the oven.
